HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, March 29th, 1915.

The House met at 8 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Most Merciful God, we thank Thee that Thou hast called us through men to be representatives, representing a lofty and noble and redeemed manhood. We thank Thee that Thou hast called us to be true men; true to our convictions and true to the obligations binding us to man and to Thee. We thank Thee that Thou hast called us to be builders; to be builders of the home. Home is the basis of the social organization; it is the basis of all government. The home as man has said as he wrote, "Home, Sweet, Sweet Home." It is the dearest spot on earth from which we are separated tonight, and we pray Thee, O God, that Thou wouldst overshadow all of our homes with Thy Almighty Wing, and may we so live that our children will rise up and "call us blessed." We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, March 25th, 1915.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, March 25th, 1915, when, on motion of Mr. Stern the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from the office of the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Office Attorney General, Harrisburg, March 29, 1915.

To the Members of the Legislature,

Gentlemen:—I beg to call your attention to the reason for the introduction of the two bills—one entitled "An Act regulating the legal business of the State Government and the employment of Attorneys therefor, and defining the duties of the various Departments, Bureaus, Boards and Commissions, in relation thereto" and the other entitled "An Act reorganizing the Attorney General's Department; designating the officers and employes thereof, and fixing their salaries."

The legal business of the Commonwealth should be under the control of one responsible head, manifestly the Attorney General. This would insure a more efficient and satisfactory disposition of such business.

Under the system now in operation it has happened that extremely important cases, involving large amounts, as well as the Constitutionality of Acts of Assembly affecting the safety and welfare of the people, have not only passed through the Courts of Pennsylvania, but have been actually fixed for hearing in the United States Supreme Court before the Attorney General's Department was advised of their existence. Other cases have gone through the Courts of Pennsylvania, involving the administration of the departmental laws of the Commonwealth, without knowledge of the Attorney General. These cases were conducted by private counsel in the employ of other Departments, and of which notice was not given to the Attorney General.

Further illustrations could be given to demonstrate that the control of the State litigation should be in the hands of the State's legal officer.

The system proposed by these Acts, aside from promoting efficiency, will make an actual saving. During the last two years the various departments, other than the Attorney General's, expended $91,655.35 for legal services. During the same time there was appropriated to the Attorney General's Department $72,500.00 and $15,000.00 for outside Attorneys, making a total of $179,155.35 for legal services for two years, or $89,577.68 per year. The bill proposed provides for annual salaries in the Attorney General's Department of $63,100.00, being a saving, if considered from that standpoint alone, of $26,477.68.

To state it in another way, the appropriation for the salaries of the present force and for outside counsel fees amounts to $51,250.00. The bill now introduced provides for salaries amounting to $63,100.00, an increase of only $11,850.00. With this increase it is the intention to take care of the legal business of the State, including the collection of money due the State for the maintenance of insane.

As a matter of precaution there is a provision in the bill for the employment of additional assistance, if such should be required in the experimental stage brought about by this reorganization.

The present salaries in the Attorney General's Department are inadequate and out of all proportion to the service required.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS SHUNK BROWN,
Attorney General.

RESOLUTIONS.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 543 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. POWELL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to..

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1915.

Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 543, File Folio 3197, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled 'An Act to provide for the appointment of deputy prothonotaries in counties of this Commonwealth having a population of more than two hundred and fifty thousand and less than a million, and defining their qualification, powers and salary,'" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

RESOLUTION GRANTING USE OF THE HALL OF THE HOUSE TO THE COMMITTEE ON RAILROADS.

Mr. H. I. WILSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Resolved, That the use of the hall of the House be given to the Committee on Railroads for the purpose of holding a public hearing on the "Full Crew" repeal bill on tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE INVESTIGATION OF THE ALLEGED VIOLATION OF THE ELECTION LAWS BY THE LIQUOR INTERESTS.

Mr. GLENN offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over for printing:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, It has been alleged in the public press and in public discussion that large sums of money were illegally collected and expended by the liquor interests in the political campaign and election in Pennsylvania in 1914, and

Whereas, By reason of this alleged huge and illegal expenditure the combined liquor interests now openly declare that they control a sufficient number of votes of representatives of the people to defeat any legislation imperilling the interests of the liquor dealers, and

Whereas, It is common knowledge that the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of Pennsylvania, through its responsible officers, conduct a widespread and costly publicity campaign to accomplish this purpose, and

Whereas, Governor Brumbaugh in a statement published in the press of March 10th, is quoted as having said: "That after diligent search he had failed to find in any election expense account filed at Harrisburg any mention of money contributed for election purposes by a representative of the liquor interests, nor any accounting of any money spent by any individual or organization representing liquor interests, and

Whereas, Under the Corrupt Practices Act now in force any organization that collects or disburses money for any political purpose must file a full and complete accounting thereof, and

Whereas, The open and flagrant violation of the election laws by liquor interests, if permitted to pass without challenge, creates a vicious precedent and imperils the people's control of their own government, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a joint committee, consisting of three members of the Senate, one of whom shall be of the minority party, and four members of the House, one of whom shall be of the minority party, be appointed by the respective presiding officers of each House, to make a full investigation of all the circumstances and transactions connected with the alleged violation of the election laws of this Commonwealth by the liquor interests, including all moneys expended and the manner of expending said moneys, and such other matters pertaining to the alleged violation of the election laws as may to said joint committee seem pertinent. The said joint committee is hereby directed to organize forthwith after the approval of this resolution by the Governor, to hold public hearings as often as may be necessary, to summon witnesses, and for the purpose of this inquiry to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books, bills, cheques, cheque books, papers, minutes, records and contracts, and such other written and documentary evidence as may be pertinent to the inquiry and the said joint committee shall have the largest and most complete powers which the Attorney-General can confer for the accomplishment of these purposes. And the said joint committee shall have the assistance in conducting such investigation of auditors, accountants and counsel learned in the law, who shall be appointed by the Governor, and the said joint committee shall have authority to employ stenographers, clerks and messengers necessary for the proper prosecution of this investigation. The sergeant-at-arms of the Senate is hereby directed to attend said joint committee and serve all subpoenas issued by it, and generally enforce all the orders which said joint committee is hereby authorized to make,

and to incur all the necessary expenses to discharge these duties, and that the said joint commtitee shall make reports to the two Houses of the General Assembly at the present session, and the members of the General Assembly do hereby pledge themselves to make the necessary appropriations to defray the expenses of such joint committee, and this investigation.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct the title was read as follows:

House Bill No. 48.

An Act enabling townships of the first class to provide regulate and protect a system of water supply and to contract with certain adjoining municipalities for such water and granting and regulating the right of eminent domain and the right to occupy highways

Whereupon,

The Speaker in the presence of the House signed the same.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented the following communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, viz:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 40.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 25, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 40 entitled "An Act designating the Mountain Laurel (Kalmia latifolia) as the flower emblem or State Flower of this Commonwealth."

This bill proposes to establish the Mountain Laurel (Kalmia latifolia) as the state flower. No flower should be made the official emblem of the Commonwealth unless such flower is clearly desired by many of our citizens and is supported by a wealth of sentiment. The essence of the action is sentiment. There is no deep or abiding sentiment for this flower. While the flower is beautiful it is not interrelated in any important way with the life or history of the Commonwealth.

Scientific authority supported by personal observation pronounces the leaves of this plant poisonous.

Moreover, it is scarcely worthy this great Commonwealth to select as a state flower one already chosen as a state flower of a sister State. Kalmia latifolia has been the state flower of Connecticut for eight years.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to take issue with His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth. I will say at the outset of my remarks, however, that I am going to ask the members of this House to sustain the Governor in his veto, but I wish to have my day in court. I wish to give you a little of the history of this bill. Last Monday morning, in going through about fifteen hundred letters bearing on the Full Crew Repealer, I came across a communication from the Governor, requesting me into his presence. I forwith hied myself there and was administered a dose of nitrade oxide gas, which is commonly known as "laughing gas." I was closeted with the Governor for fifteen minutes. He said he would like to know my reasons for introducing this bill. I gave him a number of reasons for the introduction of this bill and why this flower was selected. First, I told him that the bill was handed to me by others and was favored by a number of my Republican constituents in Northampton County, and I am a Democrat. I told him that I hesitated about taking any special interest in this bill at first and then I decided to do so and I convinced myself that there was a demand for the mountain laurel as the State Flower of Pennsylvania. And I furthermore told him that it was not my desire in the introduction of this bill to introduce any usless legislation, as we already had enough usless legislation on our Statute Books. I told him that two years ago a bill was introduced naming some other flower the State Flower, which was treated as a joke and finally reached the Governor. That bill recommended the daisy as the State Flower. Governor Tener promptly vetoed the bill because he said sentiment had not been crystallized in favor of the daisy as the State flower. A further reason why I introduced this Bill favoring the mountain laurel as a State Flower was because there was public sentiment in favor of it as a State Flower. Among these were a number of prominent men in my county and others outside among people throughout the State. Senators Penrose and Oliver and Ex-Governor Pennypacker desired the mountain laurel as a State Flower and expressed an interest in it. I told him that it was by almost a unanimous vote by the members of this House that the bill passed and it also passed the Senate with only eight votes against it. I also said that I didn't think the reasons which he gave for his veto are reasons worthy of a schoolmaster—when he said "This bill proposes to establish the mountain laurel as the State Flower. No flower should be made the official emblem of the Commonwealth unless such flower is clearly desired by many of our citizens and is supported by a wealth of sentiment." From what I have said, I think there is sentiment, however, back of it. He proceeds with "the essence of the action is sentiment. There is no deep or abiding sentiment for this flower. While the flower is beautiful it is not inter-related in any important way with the life or history of the Commonwealth. Scientific authority supported by personal observation pronounces the leaves of this plant poisonous." I did not know that the State of Connecticut had anything that is poisonous except the New Haven Railroad. Lloyd Mifflin, the poet of the Susquenanna, about five weeks ago, wrote a little sonnet which appeared on the editorial page of the Public Ledger of Philadelphia. I wish to read that poem. I think it is of sufficient merit to be published in the legislative journal. The title of the poem is:

The Mountain Laurel as the State Flower for Pennsylvania.

(Kalmia latifolia)

A SONNET BY LLOYD MIFFLIN.

Search all the gardens,—every reedy fen,
Upland, and meadow where wild nature teems,
The tangled thicket where the torrent gleams,
In thunderous foam adown the forest glen,
And thou shalt find no flowering denizen
Equal our Kalmia, robed in rosiest white,
Whose beauty is a pang of pure delight,
Touching, through loveliness, the heart of men.

Unfading Laurel! symbol of our hopes,
Immortal Dryad of the greenwood gloom,
Long mayst thou haunt these Appalachian slopes
And be our sovereign State's resplendent Flower,—
Beauteous as Morning in thy roseate bloom,
Strong as our mountains in enduring power!

Columbia, Pennsylvania.

Well, gentlemen of the House, I had my little romance punctured. Last Wednesday night, I attended a moving picture theatre here in Harrisburg. I saw a film entitled "Tillie's Punctured Romance." I sincerely hope that the Governor of this Commonwealth will not have his romance punctured in the remaining days of the sessions of this House and I will ask the members of this House to sustain the Governor in his veto of the mountain laurel, as the State Flower.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 213.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 26, 1915.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:— I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 213 entitled "An Act validating certain ordinances of cities and boroughs and the contracts or payments made in pursuance thereof."

This bill contemplates the validating of certain ordinances and contracts that were not heretofore recorded in the manner required by law. In other words it proposes by legislative enactment to correct the mistakes of omission by certain officials. It seems to me that the proper recourse in all such cases lies with the city and borough authorities employing such officials. The courts are the capable instruments of correcting rather than the General Assembly

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I notice on today's calendar, page one, House Bill No. 1016, File Folio 3699, tnat my name appears as sponsor of this bill. I wish to have that corrected, as the bill was presented by Mr. Neville.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that this is an error of the printer. The name of the sponsor of the bill is Mr. Neville of Montgomery.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 731, File Folio 3193, entitled:

An Act providing for the appropriation of certain moneys to the organizations constituting and having in charge the distribution of various police pension funds throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and defining the duties of certain officers in relation thereto was defeated on Wednesday March 24th be reconsidered.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this motion is made for the purpose of having the bill amended to overcome the objections that were made by me in the consideration of it on Wednesday last.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 731, File Folio 3193 be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 802, entitled,

An Act regulating the compensation commission and brokerage of persons securing or placing loans for buildings and loan associations providing for the recovery of excessive compensation commission or brokerage and providing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. TWIBILL. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 802, File Folio 3353, be recommitted to the Committee on Banks.
Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1016, as follows:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware county and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" approved May first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act entitled "An Act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware county and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" approved May first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person to shoot trap or snare or poison any foxes within the limits of Delaware county" is amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person to shoot or trap or snare or poison any foxes within the limits of Delaware Chester or Montgomery counties

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Neville.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NEVILLE. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill whether or not he has complied with the provisions of the Constitution and presented to this House the proof of publication which is required in the case of special legislation.

Mr. NEVILLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I will say that I did not, because I did not know about it until after the bill had been introduced.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker as this is plainly special legislation applying only to two counties of the Commonwealth and it being impossible that it, under any circumstance, can apply to the entire Commonwealth I desire to rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the bill is unconstitutional. It offends Article Three, section eight, of the Constitution which provides that "No local or special bill shall be passed unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or the thing to be affected may be situated, which notice shall be at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the Generaly Assembly of such bill and in the manner to be provided by law; the evidence of such notice having been published shall be exhibited to the General Assembly before such act shall be passed." Therefore Mr. Speaker as it is impossible to correct this defect at this time I make the point or order that the bill is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask the Clerks if they have any proof of publication. The Chair being informed by the Clerks that they have none, and this bill not having been advertised, the point of order is well taken and the bill falls.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 947 (Senate Bill No. 176), as follows:

An Act to provide for the better protection and preservation of deer and elk squirrels and certain birds classed as game birds within the Commonwealth providing a method through which certain lands in the Commonwealth may be closed to hunting for a term of years and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act the Board of Game Commissioners of this Commonwealth shall have the power and authority to close for a term of years to the purpose of hunting elk and deer squirrels of all kinds and wild turkey and ruffed grouse and quail commonly called Virginia partridge and ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian quail or either of them as may appear necessary to the citizens of any county of this Commonwealth for the purpose of adding to the protection of such animals and birds or either of them and assist in their increase in the county wherein such citizens may reside

Section 2 That whenever at least two hundred citizens of any county in this Commonwealth shall through written petition certify to the Board of Game Commissioners that in their opinion an absolutely closed season is necessary to insure the better protection and consequent increase of elk and deer and squirrels of all kinds and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian quail or either of them in a wild state in that county in which such citizens may reside and asking that such county be closed to hunting for a period the Board of Game Commissioners shall forward to said petitioners and others a blank form setting forth such questions as they may consider best suited to determine the quantity of game and game conditions in the county in question and the necessity for closing said county to hunting which said forms with replies to entitle such answers to consideration before said Board of Game Commissioners shall be returned to said Board on or before the return day as fixed upon said forms such petitioners shall also publish for at least three consecutive weeks at their own expense in at least two prominent newspapers in the county to be closed the statement that such petitions has been filed with its purpose and the return day for information as fixed by the Board of Game Commissioners and shall file with said board duly certified copies of such notices as published in each newspaper on or before said return day If the written answers as returned shall fail to satisfy said Board of Game Commissioners that such closed season is necessary or those opposing such action shall demand a hearing before said board then a hearing shall be had upon such date and at such place within the county to be affected as may be decided upon by the said Board of Game Commissioners the expense of such hearing to be paid by those demanding the same if after the receipt of the written answers or the public hearing or both the Board of Game Commissioners shall be satisfied such closed season is necessary to insure the better protection of elk and deer squirrels of all kinds and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail found in a wild state and their consequent increase in said county they are herewith empowered and directed to declare a closed season not to exceed five years for elk and deer and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail or either of them found in a wild state within said county

The Board of Game Commissioners to make such closed season effective and binding shall be required to publish annually their decision and action regarding this matter in at least three newspapers if there be that many in each county affected thereby and to have notices of such ruling declaring such county closed to hunting printed and annually distributed in reasonable numbers throughout the affected territory

Each and every person violating any of the provisions of such ruling made by the Board of Game Commissioners under the requirements of this act shall be liable to a penalty of three hundred dollars for each elk and two hundred dollars for each deer and twenty-five dollars for each squirrel or bird taken killed wounded or attempted to be taken killed or wounded upon said closed territory

The bill as amended was then ageed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 981 (Senate Bill No. 282), entitled:

An Act providing for and regualting the validation of certain borough ordinances.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I beg to call the attention of the House to the fact that this bill is substantially the same in its provisions as House Bill No. 213, which was vetoed by the Governor. It is exactly the same bill. It seems to me that this House would probably waste its time in passing this bill. I, therefore, move it be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that this bill was in the Committee on Judiciary General and I was appointed to confer with Mr. Snyder concerning it. He said that this bill merely is a curative measure—a curative bill to remedy a particular case that happened in Blair County and that it has no reference whatever to the General Council Law. Further than that deponent saith not.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the Chair to the fact that owing to the confusion in the rear of the House we cannot hear.

The SPEAKER. The Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistants will discharge their duty and preserve order in the rear of the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 918, entitled:

An Act to provide for the study by the Department of Labor and Industry of the question of minimum wages for women and minors

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered an agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1023, entitled:

An Act to further amend the sixth section of an act approved April twenty-third Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three entitled "An Act defining the powers of the several courts of quarter sessions of the peace within this Commonwealth with reference to the care treatment and control of dependent neglected incorrigible and delinquent children under the age of sixten years and providing for the means in which such powers may be exercised" by providing that the court may direct that the clothing of and necessary medical and surgical attendance upon and the care of such child and its maintenance generally shall be paid by the proper county and may fix the amount which shall be paid for such board and clothing

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to the bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, Line 8, by striking out the word "powers" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "power."

Amend Section 1, Lines 11 and 12 by striking out the following: "by the act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven and"

Amend Section 1, line 13 by striking out the first word "the" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "an."

Amend Section 1, Line 14 by inserting after the word "thirteen" the following: entitled "An Act to further amend the sixth section of an act, approved April twenty-third, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three, entitled, 'An Act defining the powers of the several courts of quarter sessions of the peace, within this Commonwealth, with reference to the care, treatment, and control of dependent, neglected, incorrigible, and delinquent children, under the age of sixteen years, and providing for the means in which such powers may be exercised,' by extending the application of said section to dependent, neglected and incorrigible children; and providing for the payment of the board of such children," which

Amend section 1, line 20, by inserting after the word "its" a dash

Amend section 1, line 25, by inserting after the word "necessary" a dash

Amend section 1, line 40, by inserting after the word "hereby" the word "further"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments are agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SPECIAL ORDER ON FINAL PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL NO. 385.

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10 o'clock having arrived we will now take up and consider on final passage House Bill No. 385, File Folio 3271.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 385, as follows:

An Act regulating the practice of drugless therapeutics in the State of Pennsylvania defining the same creating a Bureau of Licensure therefor and means and methods whereby the right to practice drugless therapeutics in any of its branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom Providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the passage and approval of this act it shall be unlawful for any person or persons within the State of Pennsylvania to hold himself or herself forth as a practitioner in drugless therapeutics or any branch thereof or to assume the title of doctor of drugless therapeutics or doctor of any specific disease or to diagnose diseases or treat diseases by drugless therapeutics or to hold himself or herself forth as able so to do or to sign any death or birth certificate except such persons as are hereinafter exempted from the provisions of this act until he or she shall have received a certificate from the Bureau of Drugless Therapeutics created by this act which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Harrisburg and in the prothonotary's office of the county wherein such person desires to practice

Section 2 That the provisions of this act may be fully enforced the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a State Board of Drugless Therapeutic Examiners from such representatives of the various schools or systems hereinafter set forth who have been regularly engaged in practice for a period of five years prior to the passage and approval of this act said board shall consist of one representative from each of the following schools

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it was my original intention to object to the amendments to this bill at the time they were offered by the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, for the reason that I believe that these amendments were like sowing seed on rocky ground where they would not take root because there was no deepness of ground and there certainly is no deepness of ground for these amendments to be sown with respect to this bill. Mr. Speaker I can see no reason why the Medical Bureau should be deprived of the examination of students who apply themselves to the minor branches of medicine. It is distinctly a feature of the Medical Bureau, it is distinctly incident to the Medical Bureau that it should have charge of all matters that appertain to the health of the State of Pennsylvania, further than that the Medical Bureau has provided in the Act of 1911 and in the act of 1913 graded examination for the minor practitioners of medicine that this bill does not provide for. Allow me to read from the act of 1913 on page 1228 "and further it shall be the duty of said Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure at its discretion, to examine any person pretending to a knowledge of a minor branch or branches of medicine and surgery et cetera for the purpose of conducting such examinations, the said Bureau shall have the privilege of calling to its aid men or women of established reputation and known ability in the particular pursuit ..... and who shall be compensated for their services et cetera upon the requisite degree of knowledge and the moral character of the applicant being established, as above provided for and on the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of the Department of Public Instruction shall forthwith issue a State certificate to the applicant limited to the practice of his or her pursuit."

In other words when the State Board of Medical Licensure issues a license it does not issue a general license but it issues a license to the practitioner to practuce medicine in the line for which he has prepared himself and for no other.

Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill the "Governor of the State of Pennsylvania is authorized and directed to appoint a State Board of drugless therapeutic examiners from such representatives of the various schools or systems hereinafter set forth who have been regularly engaged in the practice for a periiod of five years prior to the passage and approval of this act." Now, Mr. Speaker in view of the fact that there are practically no reputable schools of drugless therapeutics where have these men whom the Governor is to appoint as a Board of State Examiners gotten their education to qualify on the Board? We find that under the act of 1913 the Board of Medical Education and Licensure is appointed by the Governor two of whom are members of the Governor's cabinet and the other five are reputable physicians of ten years' experience. Which will you choose? Will you choose a reputable board to examine these men, or will you choose a board of men who are totally without fitness or without competence to pass upon the fitness of students to enter into the various branches of medicine? Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this act it is provided that a certificate of preliminary education equivalent to four years of high school attendance and a diploma from a reputable school or college of drugless therapeutics is necesary, and then it goes on to enumerate the studies that this board is to examine the various students in, but it puts in this proviso "and diagnosis and theory and practice of drugless therapeutics as taught by the school or schools of which the applicant is a graduate." And further it says "that the Bureau shall have power to raise its standards as to educational requirements or length of courses from time to time as the courses of the various schools may warrant but no higher standard shall be required of any applicant than those existing at the time of his or her matriculation into the school from which the diploma was obtained." Now let me say in that connection, that that examination provides for no distinctions whatever between any branches of minor surgery or minor medicine. In other words a man who takes a course in medicine has just as much right to practice as a druggist therapeutic as a man who takes a course in some of the most complicated divisions of medicine. There is no distinction whatever made. Now, Mr. Speaker we come to a section of this bill which provides that any man who is permitted to practice drugless therapeutics no matter whether he is admitted as a masseuer or whether he is admitted from some of the most insignificant branches of medicine he is admitted to practice practically all the branches of medicine. I read as follows "Drugless practitioners duly licensed as herein provided shall have in the practice or conduct of their professions all the rights, powers and privileges of any or all of the persons practicing physicians or doctors of any school class or division in the treatment of any and all diseases, ailments or disabilities of the human body whatsoever or the health of the individual or of the public and shall observe and be subject to all state and municipal regulations relating to the control of contagious diseases and deaths." In other words, gentlemen, if we pass this bill we practically qualify and place on the same footing as physicians and doctors in this state men who have no fitness, men who have had no medical education, men who are totally without the training or the knowledge to practice medicine. We place these men in charge of the lives, in charge of the health of the community. We say that these men who have never studied in a school or college of any standard shall be permitted to practice medicine, shall be permitted to set by the bedside of your brother, of your wife or of your mother without the requisite knowledge and without requisite fitness.

Now in connection with this matter I have here a letter that has been written to me by Doctor Baldy and for the information of the House I shall read this letter.

"Dear Sir: Wilson Bill No. 385 has been amended. One amendment calls for the insertion of the following in section three 'who has received a degree from a reputable school or college teaching a course of not less than three years of seven months in each year.' In this connection I desire to say that this bureau through its inspectors inspected every college of drugless therapy as far west as Oklahoma. There is but a single school in all this district which has more than a single year qualifications. The only exception is the American College of Neuropathy located in Philadelphia.

The men who own and conduct this school are W. Wallace Fritz, Francis M. Jahn, and others.

These men are the men urging the passage of this act and are the ones who had it introduced into the House.

"A year ago while the Bureau of Medical Education was formulating the regulations for drugless therapists which are now operable in this state, Francis M. Jahn came to me in behalf of himself and W. Wallace Fritz and proposed that I have the Bureau of Medical Education refuse recognition to all drugless schools excepting the American College of Neuropathy, and that we should officially recognize this school as the only school at which drugless therapists could be educated."

This bill if passed will have exactly this effect and will take away from the people in the State of Pennsylvania all the advantages accorded them by the Board of Medical Education.

"The American College of Neuropathy has been inspected twice by agents of this Bureau and have each time been pronounced utterly incompetent in their equipment and organization to give even a reasonable proper education for its work. There is not in the institution a single laboratory of any kind. Although anatomy is the very essence and life of all instruction for drugless methods of teaching, the secretary of the Anatomical Board of the State of Pennsylvania officially informs me that this institution was furnished the following anatomical material:

"In 1910 with 40 students 2 cadavers." That is with dead bodies.

"In 1911 with 12 students no cadavers."

"In 1912 with 21 students no cadavers."

"In 1913 with increased classes 3 cadavers."

"In 1914 1 cadaver."

In one year their printed official announcement published the following names as in their graduating class.

W. Samuel Evans, Herman G. Bulster, Herbert Harr Dietz, Daniel Edward Foehl, Daniel E. Vail, Joshua Lake, Julia I. Hildebrand, George Forman Applegate, William Steele Moat.

In the same publication amongst the list of the faculty these same names appear as follows:

W. Samuel Evans, Professor of Pathology.

Herman G. Bulster, Professor of Lymphology.

Herbert Harr Dietz, Professor of Bacteriology.

Daniel E. Vail, Associate Prof. of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Paul E. Foehl, Prof. of Medical Jurisprudence and Toxicology.

Joshua Lake, Clinical Prof. of Surgery.

Julia I. Hildebrand, Prof. of Splanchnology.

George Forman Applegate, Prof. of Physic-Theraphy and Orthopedics.

William Steele Moat, Clinical Prof. of Rectal Diseases.

In other words here is the only college in the country that pretends to have college courses for graduates and graduated classes of about ten men and the same year those ten men become professors of the most profound branches of the science of medicine.

"You will therefore see that his school took nine of its graduating class and made them professors of some of the most profound sciences known to medicine.

It is only right that the Members of the House should understand the type of bill they are voting for and what its passage means.

No greater scandal could possibly come into the circle of decent medical education than the passage of this act."

Now Mr. Speaker, it is needless for me to read from the act of 1911 the requirements of medical men, of men who desire to practice medicine in the State of Pennsylvania. You all know that their examination is very severe and rightly so. They are compelled to take a course of four years with the hours of the day and the number of weeks in each year specified; so that no man can be sent out into the community as a practicing physician unless he has the requisite knowledge. If we pass this bill we make doctors of incompetents; we make doctors of men that have no more license to practice medicine than I have; and are you, members of the House, willing to stultify this State, are you willing to say that men who have no education, that men who are incompetent, that men who could not diagnose the simplest case, shall receive a royal passage into one of the most profound and one o the most respected professions of our State? Are you willing to deliver the people of this State over to men of that type? If you are, vote for this bill. If you believe in the protection of the public of this State, if you believe in the integrity of the medical profession, vote this bill down and do a service to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SARIG, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I had no intention of taking any part in this debate but I as a chronic rheumatic, have been laid on the shelf and have been unable to walk for a great part of my time during the last six years and I certainly cannot sit here idle and listen to the denunciation of these drugless men who have done so much for me and have done a lot for other invalids of my class.

This appears to be a fight between the medical men and the drugless men; but there is a third party that is vitally interested in this bill and that third party is the thousands of patients all over this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who yearly patronize the medical men and the drugless men. I am not here to say one word against the medical men. I have received a lot of benefit from them in spite of all my disappointments and in spite of all my failures to regain my health. I have not one unkind word to say against the medical men. For every assistance they have given me I am thankful. I am not here as a pessimist. I am here as an optimist, still continuing the struggle to regain my health; and I wish it to be thoroughly understood that I am not here fighting the medical men or saying a word against them because we know and believe they are doing a great work in this Commonwealth; but that does not mean to say that the medical men alone shall have the power of healing and helping the sick and crippled and invalids. We all know that in this country we are consuming about three times the amount of drugs per capita that any great civilized European nation consumes.

Sometimes the Europeans call us the drug fiends over here in America; and during my experience within the last five years, I have been in contact with many men of high standing in the medical profession and practically each and every one of them tells me that we are getting away from the drug habit, that within the next fifty years a large percentage, perhaps seventy-five or eighty percent. of the amount of drugs now used will be done away with. Now the medical profession in America to-day is trying to get away more and more from the use of drugs and is trying to get back to the laws of nature; in other words, the tendency of the times is towards the perfection of drugless practice.

Now I have studied this drugless system and I have studied the medical system and I am convinced that there is a great deal of virtue in this drugless system or practice. No other class with which I have come in contact,—and I have spent about eight hundred dollars trying to regain my health—no other class of practitioners lay so much stress upon the laws of nature as do these drugless men. No where have I received better instruction as to proper modes and proper methods of living which, after all, is the main thing in the cure of disease. I do not say that in acute disease medical practice is not preferable. I very much think, perhaps, it is preferable in acute diseases; but I know that in chronic diseases and diseases of long standing, where a seige has to be laid to the disease, this drugless therapeutics hardly has any superior; at least, that is my experience; and I want you to think not only of the medical men when you decide this question, and I don't think you should think only of the drugless men, but of the thousands of sick and invalids all over this Commonwealth who are appealing to you and who are imploring you not to throw away or to destroy this system of drugless practice by placing them under the thumb or in the hands of the medical men. I believe in fair play but I don't believe in monopoly and while granting to the medical men the power and right to practice medicine I want the same right and the same privileges for the drugless men.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentlemen who has just taken his seat.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, Yes sir.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker I desire to ask the gentleman whether he has read the section on page 1228 of the act of 1913, the act relating to limited practitioners.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I have not sir.

Mr. SPANGLER. Well, Mr. Speaker, I have just finished reading that which provides for the admission and practice by the Medical Bureau of limited practitioners. Under that section the limited practitioners have every power, have every right to practice their particular branch. They are examined in their particular branch. Their examinations are regulated in accordance with the requirements for that particular branch and they are given limited certificates to practice that particular branch; but under that section they are not given the powers to practice as physicians which they would be given under the provisions of this bill and to those provisions I would like to call the gentleman's attention.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Berks.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks consent to further interrogation?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I will sir.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will proceed but confine himself to the quetsion.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Berks by asking whether he has read the paragraph beginning with line 59, page 5 of this bill.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I have read over it casually. I do not know whether at this moment I recall it thoroughly.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether he will kindly read that passage now and give us his construction of it, beginning on page 5, line 59.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman to give his own construction upon it and I will then give him my answer.

The SPEAKER. That is unnecessary at this time.

Mr. SPANGLER. If the gentleman had read the passage that I have referred to he would have seen, as I have already stated, that under the provisions of that act a man who is nothing more than a masseur, a man who is a manipulator of flesh, has the power to become a physician. In other words—I will read the section:

"Drugless practitioners duly licensed as herein provided shall have in the practice or conduct of their professions all the rights powers and privileges of any or all persons practicing physicians or doctors of any school class or division in the treatment of any and all diseases ailments or disabilities of the human body whatsoever or the health of the individual or of the public and shall observe and be subject to all State and municipal regulations relating to the control of contagious diseases and deaths"

In other words, it means simply this; that if you pass this law you overflood the medical profession with all the fakers and with all the incompetents, not only of this State but all other States.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state first that I have no fight with the drugless practitioners but I certainly do object to this bill in the form in which it is drawn. I contend that they do not have sufficient educational preparation. They ask in line 59 to cover the same scope that the doctor does, a man who has spent seven years in the study of medicine. In this bill they provide that the man, before he shall take up the study of the drugless practice, shall have had a high school course; after which he shall spend three years, of seven months each; after which time he shall become a practitioner. I contend that he has not the foundation, the necessary foundation to take charge of the human anatomy. I claim that he has not sufficiently studied it. There is no other profession but what has to have the necessary preparation. Take the legal practice for instance. They must be a graduate of some reputable school or college having a degree before they are permitted to study law; after which they must spend three years in the study of law, and it has nothing to do with life or death.

The doctor must spend four years in his preliminary preparation, after which he spends four years in the study of medicine. After graduating he must become an interne in some hospital for one year before he can come before the medical board of education for examination. Now in section three, lines 59 and 60, it says: "Drugless practicioners duly licensed as hereing provided shall have in the practice or conduct of their profession, all the rights, powers and privileges of any or all persons practicing physicians or doctors of any chool class or division." I nave no fight,—don't misunderstand me,—I have no fight with the drugless practicioner. If he wants to come into the field of medicine, let him get his preparation the same as the other men have to do.

I have one other objection, and that is, it does not provide in this bill, as I see it, that a man shall stipulate that he is a doctor of what. What is to prevent the man who has graduated in drugless therapeutics from putting a sign on the door as "Doctor Johnson?" How is the public to discriminate whether he is a doctor of chiropathy or a doctor of medicine? I claim it should be stipulated, that he should state on his sign, on the outside of his window, that he is a doctor of chiropathy, or whatever he might be. As an illustration of men who are now practicing drugless therapeutics,—less than ten months ago I was shaved by my barber,—a man who could not speak good English. I met him less than two weeks ago and he told

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, March 29th, 1915.

The House met at 8 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Most Merciful God, we thank Thee that Thou hast called us through men to be representatives, representing a lofty and noble and redeemed manhood. We thank Thee that Thou hast called us to be true men; true to our convictions and true to the obligations binding us to man and to Thee. We thank Thee that Thou hast called us to be builders; to be builders of the home. Home is the basis of the social organization; it is the basis of all government. The home as man has said as he wrote, "Home, Sweet, Sweet Home." It is the dearest spot on earth from which we are separated tonight, and we pray Thee, O God, that Thou wouldst overshadow all of our homes with Thy Almighty Wing, and may we so live that our children will rise up and "call us blessed." We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, March 25th, 1915.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, March 25th, 1915, when, on motion of Mr. Stern the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from the office of the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Office Attorney General, Harrisburg, March 29, 1915.

To the Members of the Legislature,

Gentlemen:—I beg to call your attention to the reason for the introduction of the two bills—one entitled "An Act regulating the legal business of the State Government and the employment of Attorneys therefor, and defining the duties of the various Departments, Bureaus, Boards and Commissions, in relation thereto" and the other entitled "An Act reorganizing the Attorney General's Department; designating the officers and employes thereof, and fixing their salaries."

The legal business of the Commonwealth should be under the control of one responsible head, manifestly the Attorney General. This would insure a more efficient and satisfactory disposition of such business.

Under the system now in operation it has happened that extremely important cases, involving large amounts, as well as the Constitutionality of Acts of Assembly affecting the safety and welfare of the people, have not only passed through the Courts of Pennsylvania, but have been actually fixed for hearing in the United States Supreme Court before the Attorney General's Department was advised of their existence. Other cases have gone through the Courts of Pennsylvania, involving the administration of the departmental laws of the Commonwealth, without knowledge of the Attorney General. These cases were conducted by private counsel in the employ of other Departments, and of which notice was not given to the Attorney General.

Further illustrations could be given to demonstrate that the control of the State litigation should be in the hands of the State's legal officer.

The system proposed by these Acts, aside from promoting efficiency, will make an actual saving. During the last two years the various departments, other than the Attorney General's, expended $91,655.35 for legal services. During the same time there was appropriated to the Attorney General's Department $72,500.00 and $15,000.00 for outside Attorneys, making a total of $179,155.35 for legal services for two years, or $89,577.68 per year. The bill proposed provides for annual salaries in the Attorney General's Department of $63,100.00, being a saving, if considered from that standpoint alone, of $26,477.68.

To state it in another way, the appropriation for the salaries of the present force and for outside counsel fees amounts to $51,250.00. The bill now introduced provides for salaries amounting to $63,100.00, an increase of only $11,850.00. With this increase it is the intention to take care of the legal business of the State, including the collection of money due the State for the maintenance of insane.

As a matter of precaution there is a provision in the bill for the employment of additional assistance, if such should be required in the experimental stage brought about by this reorganization.

The present salaries in the Attorney General's Department are inadequate and out of all proportion to the service required.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS SHUNK BROWN,
Attorney General.

RESOLUTIONS.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 543 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. POWELL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to..

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1915.

Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 543, File Folio 3197, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled 'An Act to provide for the appointment of deputy prothonotaries in counties of this Commonwealth having a population of more than two hundred and fifty thousand and less than a million, and defining their qualification, powers and salary,'" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

RESOLUTION GRANTING USE OF THE HALL OF THE HOUSE TO THE COMMITTEE ON RAILROADS.

Mr. H. I. WILSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Resolved, That the use of the hall of the House be given to the Committee on Railroads for the purpose of holding a public hearing on the "Full Crew" repeal bill on tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE INVESTIGATION OF THE ALLEGED VIOLATION OF THE ELECTION LAWS BY THE LIQUOR INTERESTS.

Mr. GLENN offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over for printing:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, It has been alleged in the public press and in public discussion that large sums of money were illegally collected and expended by the liquor interests in the political campaign and election in Pennsylvania in 1914, and

Whereas, By reason of this alleged huge and illegal expenditure the combined liquor interests now openly declare that they control a sufficient number of votes of representatives of the people to defeat any legislation imperilling the interests of the liquor dealers, and

Whereas, It is common knowledge that the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of Pennsylvania, through its responsible officers, conduct a widespread and costly publicity campaign to accomplish this purpose, and

Whereas, Governor Brumbaugh in a statement published in the press of March 10th, is quoted as having said: "That after diligent search he had failed to find in any election expense account filed at Harrisburg any mention of money contributed for election purposes by a representative of the liquor interests, nor any accounting of any money spent by any individual or organization representing liquor interests, and

Whereas, Under the Corrupt Practices Act now in force any organization that collects or disburses money for any political purpose must file a full and complete accounting thereof, and

Whereas, The open and flagrant violation of the election laws by liquor interests, if permitted to pass without challenge, creates a vicious precedent and imperils the people's control of their own government, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a joint committee, consisting of three members of the Senate, one of whom shall be of the minority party, and four members of the House, one of whom shall be of the minority party, be appointed by the respective presiding officers of each House, to make a full investigation of all the circumstances and transactions connected with the alleged violation of the election laws of this Commonwealth by the liquor interests, including all moneys expended and the manner of expending said moneys, and such other matters pertaining to the alleged violation of the election laws as may to said joint committee seem pertinent. The said joint committee is hereby directed to organize forthwith after the approval of this resolution by the Governor, to hold public hearings as often as may be necessary, to summon witnesses, and for the purpose of this inquiry to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of all books, bills, cheques, cheque books, papers, minutes, records and contracts, and such other written and documentary evidence as may be pertinent to the inquiry and the said joint committee shall have the largest and most complete powers which the Attorney-General can confer for the accomplishment of these purposes. And the said joint committee shall have the assistance in conducting such investigation of auditors, accountants and counsel learned in the law, who shall be appointed by the Governor, and the said joint committee shall have authority to employ stenographers, clerks and messengers necessary for the proper prosecution of this investigation. The sergeant-at-arms of the Senate is hereby directed to attend said joint committee and serve all subpoenas issued by it, and generally enforce all the orders which said joint committee is hereby authorized to make,

and to incur all the necessary expenses to discharge these duties, and that the said joint commtitee shall make reports to the two Houses of the General Assembly at the present session, and the members of the General Assembly do hereby pledge themselves to make the necessary appropriations to defray the expenses of such joint committee, and this investigation.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct the title was read as follows:

House Bill No. 48.

An Act enabling townships of the first class to provide regulate and protect a system of water supply and to contract with certain adjoining municipalities for such water and granting and regulating the right of eminent domain and the right to occupy highways

Whereupon,

The Speaker in the presence of the House signed the same.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented the following communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, viz:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 40.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 25, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 40 entitled "An Act designating the Mountain Laurel (Kalmia latifolia) as the flower emblem or State Flower of this Commonwealth."

This bill proposes to establish the Mountain Laurel (Kalmia latifolia) as the state flower. No flower should be made the official emblem of the Commonwealth unless such flower is clearly desired by many of our citizens and is supported by a wealth of sentiment. The essence of the action is sentiment. There is no deep or abiding sentiment for this flower. While the flower is beautiful it is not interrelated in any important way with the life or history of the Commonwealth.

Scientific authority supported by personal observation pronounces the leaves of this plant poisonous.

Moreover, it is scarcely worthy this great Commonwealth to select as a state flower one already chosen as a state flower of a sister State. Kalmia latifolia has been the state flower of Connecticut for eight years.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to take issue with His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth. I will say at the outset of my remarks, however, that I am going to ask the members of this House to sustain the Governor in his veto, but I wish to have my day in court. I wish to give you a little of the history of this bill. Last Monday morning, in going through about fifteen hundred letters bearing on the Full Crew Repealer, I came across a communication from the Governor, requesting me into his presence. I forwith hied myself there and was administered a dose of nitrade oxide gas, which is commonly known as "laughing gas." I was closeted with the Governor for fifteen minutes. He said he would like to know my reasons for introducing this bill. I gave him a number of reasons for the introduction of this bill and why this flower was selected. First, I told him that the bill was handed to me by others and was favored by a number of my Republican constituents in Northampton County, and I am a Democrat. I told him that I hesitated about taking any special interest in this bill at first and then I decided to do so and I convinced myself that there was a demand for the mountain laurel as the State Flower of Pennsylvania. And I furthermore told him that it was not my desire in the introduction of this bill to introduce any usless legislation, as we already had enough usless legislation on our Statute Books. I told him that two years ago a bill was introduced naming some other flower the State Flower, which was treated as a joke and finally reached the Governor. That bill recommended the daisy as the State Flower. Governor Tener promptly vetoed the bill because he said sentiment had not been crystallized in favor of the daisy as the State flower. A further reason why I introduced this Bill favoring the mountain laurel as a State Flower was because there was public sentiment in favor of it as a State Flower. Among these were a number of prominent men in my county and others outside among people throughout the State. Senators Penrose and Oliver and Ex-Governor Pennypacker desired the mountain laurel as a State Flower and expressed an interest in it. I told him that it was by almost a unanimous vote by the members of this House that the bill passed and it also passed the Senate with only eight votes against it. I also said that I didn't think the reasons which he gave for his veto are reasons worthy of a schoolmaster—when he said "This bill proposes to establish the mountain laurel as the State Flower. No flower should be made the official emblem of the Commonwealth unless such flower is clearly desired by many of our citizens and is supported by a wealth of sentiment." From what I have said, I think there is sentiment, however, back of it. He proceeds with "the essence of the action is sentiment. There is no deep or abiding sentiment for this flower. While the flower is beautiful it is not inter-related in any important way with the life or history of the Commonwealth. Scientific authority supported by personal observation pronounces the leaves of this plant poisonous." I did not know that the State of Connecticut had anything that is poisonous except the New Haven Railroad. Lloyd Mifflin, the poet of the Susquenanna, about five weeks ago, wrote a little sonnet which appeared on the editorial page of the Public Ledger of Philadelphia. I wish to read that poem. I think it is of sufficient merit to be published in the legislative journal. The title of the poem is:

The Mountain Laurel as the State Flower for Pennsylvania.

(Kalmia latifolia)

A SONNET BY LLOYD MIFFLIN.

Search all the gardens,—every reedy fen,
Upland, and meadow where wild nature teems,
The tangled thicket where the torrent gleams,
In thunderous foam adown the forest glen,
And thou shalt find no flowering denizen
Equal our Kalmia, robed in rosiest white,
Whose beauty is a pang of pure delight,
Touching, through loveliness, the heart of men.

Unfading Laurel! symbol of our hopes,
Immortal Dryad of the greenwood gloom,
Long mayst thou haunt these Appalachian slopes
And be our sovereign State's resplendent Flower,—
Beauteous as Morning in thy roseate bloom,
Strong as our mountains in enduring power!

Columbia, Pennsylvania.

Well, gentlemen of the House, I had my little romance punctured. Last Wednesday night, I attended a moving picture theatre here in Harrisburg. I saw a film entitled "Tillie's Punctured Romance." I sincerely hope that the Governor of this Commonwealth will not have his romance punctured in the remaining days of the sessions of this House and I will ask the members of this House to sustain the Governor in his veto of the mountain laurel, as the State Flower.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 213.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 26, 1915.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:— I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 213 entitled "An Act validating certain ordinances of cities and boroughs and the contracts or payments made in pursuance thereof."

This bill contemplates the validating of certain ordinances and contracts that were not heretofore recorded in the manner required by law. In other words it proposes by legislative enactment to correct the mistakes of omission by certain officials. It seems to me that the proper recourse in all such cases lies with the city and borough authorities employing such officials. The courts are the capable instruments of correcting rather than the General Assembly

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I notice on today's calendar, page one, House Bill No. 1016, File Folio 3699, that my name appears as sponsor of this bill. I wish to have that corrected, as the bill was presented by Mr. Neville.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that this is an error of the printer. The name of the sponsor of the bill is Mr. Neville of Montgomery.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 731, File Folio 3193, entitled:

An Act providing for the appropriation of certain moneys to the organizations constituting and having in charge the distribution of various police pension funds throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and defining the duties of certain officers in relation thereto was defeated on Wednesday March 24th be reconsidered.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this motion is made for the purpose of having the bill amended to overcome the objections that were made by me in the consideration of it on Wednesday last.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 731, File Folio 3193 be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 802, entitled,

An Act regulating the compensation commission and brokerage of persons securing or placing loans for buildings and loan associations providing for the recovery of excessive compensation commission or brokerage and providing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. TWIBILL. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 802, File Folio 3353, be recommitted to the Committee on Banks.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1016, as follows:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware county and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" approved May first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act entitled "An Act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware county and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" approved May first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person to shoot trap or snare or poison any foxes within the limits of Delaware county" is amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person to shoot or trap or snare or poison any foxes within the limits of Delaware Chester or Montgomery counties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Neville.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NEVILLE. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill whether or not he has complied with the provisions of the Constitution and presented to this House the proof of publication which is required in the case of special legislation.

Mr. NEVILLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I will say that I did not, because I did not know about it until after the bill had been introduced.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker as this is plainly special legislation applying only to two counties of the Commonwealth and it being impossible that it, under any circumstance, can apply to the entire Commonwealth I desire to rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the bill is unconstitutional. It offends Article Three, section eight, of the Constitution which provides that "No local or special bill shall be passed unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or the thing to be affected may be situated, which notice shall be at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the Generaly Assembly of such bill and in the manner to be provided by law; the evidence of such notice having been published shall be exhibited to the General Assembly before such act shall be passed." Therefore Mr. Speaker as it is impossible to correct this defect at this time I make the point or order that the bill is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask the Clerks if they have any proof of publication. The Chair being informed by the Clerks that they have none, and this bill not having been advertised, the point of order is well taken and the bill falls.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 947 (Senate Bill No. 176), as follows:

An Act to provide for the better protection and preservation of deer and elk squirrels and certain birds classed as game birds within the Commonwealth providing a method through which certain lands in the Commonwealth may be closed to hunting for a term of years and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act the Board of Game Commissioners of this Commonwealth shall have the power and authority to close for a term of years to the purpose of hunting elk and deer squirrels of all kinds and wild turkey and ruffed grouse and quail commonly called Virginia partridge and ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian quail or either of them as may appear necessary to the citizens of any county of this Commonwealth for the purpose of adding to the protection of such animals and birds or either of them and assist in their increase in the county wherein such citizens may reside

Section 2 That whenever at least two hundred citizens of any county in this Commonwealth shall through written petition certify to the Board of Game Commissioners that in their opinion an absolutely closed season is necessary to insure the better protection and consequent increase of elk and deer and squirrels of all kinds and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian quail or either of them in a wild state in that county in which such citizens may reside and asking that such county be closed to hunting for a period the Board of Game Commissioners shall forward to said petitioners and others a blank form setting forth such questions as they may consider best suited to determine the quantity of game and game conditions in the county in question and the necessity for closing said county to hunting which said forms with replies to entitle such answers to consideration before said Board of Game Commissioners shall be returned to said Board on or before the return day as fixed upon said forms such petitioners shall also publish for at least three consecutive weeks at their own expense in at least two prominent newspapers in the county to be closed the statement that such petitions has been filed with its purpose and the return day for information as fixed by the Board of Game Commissioners and shall file with said board duly certified copies of such notices as published in each newspaper on or before said return day If the written answers as returned shall fail to satisfy said Board of Game Commissioners that such closed season is necessary or those opposing such action shall demand a hearing before said board then a hearing shall be had upon such date and at such place within the county to be affected as may be decided upon by the said Board of Game Commissioners the expense of such hearing to be paid by those demanding the same if after the receipt of the written answers or the public hearing or both the Board of Game Commissioners shall be satisfied such closed season is necessary to insure the better protection of elk and deer squirrels of all kinds and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail found in a wild state and their consequent increase in said county they are herewith empowered and directed to declare a closed season not to exceed five years for elk and deer and wild turkeys and ruffed grouse and quail and ring-necked pheasants and Hungarian quail or either of them found in a wild state within said county

The Board of Game Commissioners to make such closed season effective and binding shall be required to publish annually their decision and action regarding this matter in at least three newspapers if there be that many in each county affected thereby and to have notices of such ruling declaring such county closed to hunting printed and annually distributed in reasonable numbers throughout the affected territory

Each and every person violating any of the provisions of such ruling made by the Board of Game Commissioners under the requirements of this act shall be liable to a penalty of three hundred dollars for each elk and two hundred dollars for each deer and twenty-five dollars for each squirrel or bird taken killed wounded or attempted to be taken killed or wounded upon said closed territory

"no street shall be plotted upon the public plan of any municipal corporation for a period of more than one year where fifty (50%) per cent, or more of the property lying within the plotted lines of said street shall be improved properly; and no boulevard, parkway or park shall be plotted upon said public plan of any such municipal corporation for a period of more than one year; unless the said street, boulevard or parkway shall have been legally open to public use or said park condemned for public use within the said period of one year after the plotting. When the said plotting for public use has not been followed by the legal taking of the property within one year from the date thereof then said plotting shall be void and the said street, boulevard, parkway or park shall be stricken from the plan and shall not again be placed thereon for a period of one year thereafter."

Also in section 2, in line 1, by striking out after the figure "2" the balance of the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

When the lines of a legally opened street within the corporate limits of a municipality within this Commonwealth shall be revised so that the same shall be placed upon the public plan of said municipality of a greater width than said street is legally opened any owner of property desiring to alter or improve any property abutting on said street shall recede to the new lines of the street as plotted and thereupon shall be entitled to have the damages assessed for the widening of the said street in from of the said property so altered or improved in accordance with existing laws.

Also section 3, in line 1, by striking out after the figure "3" the balance of the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

When the confirmed grades of any legally opened street within the corporate limits of any municipality within this Commonwealth shall be revised so that the revised grade of the said street as placed upon the public plans of said municipality shall differ from the grade at which the said street is legally opened, it shall be the duty of the said municipality to grade said street to the said revised grade lines within one year after the same shall be legally confirmed; otherwise said revision of grades shall be null and void and the prior physical grade of said street shall become the confirmed grade thereof and shall not be altered for a period of one year thereafter.

Also by adding new sections as follows:

Section 4 That in the assessment in damages by any Board of Viewers or any Court of Record the measure thereof shall be the actual value of the property and any depreciation in the value of the portion remaining, and that in case of improved property no benefits shall be assessed against the owners of abutting or contiguous property, and further that from and after the condemnation of any property or part thereof for public use the taxes against the private owner shall abate if the whole property be condemned, but if only a portion of a property shall be condemned, the taxes shall be prorated.

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

The said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 631, entitled:

An Act to provide for the creation by bodies of electors of political parties not otherwise entitled under the law to participate in primaries and elections and giving such parties the right to participate in primaries and elections providing the manner in which such parties may be created providing the manner in which such parties may have the exclusive right to use certain designated names for their parties or policies providing a method of objecting to petitions filed for the purpose of obtaining such exclusive right to use a party name under which to participate in primaries and elections providing for the enrollment of qualified electors so as to entitle them to vote the ballot of such parties at primaries providing for the designation of a person upon whom shall be served notice of objection to such petitions or other notices required by law to be served upon such parties and who shall serve such notices as are required to be made or filed by such parties under the law in the matter of the nomination of candidates providing for the payment of costs incident to objections to such petitions and also for the expense incident to holding such primaries providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and the punishment for certain offences hereunder and providing for the repeal of inconsistent legislation.

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever a body of electors not otherwise entitled under the law to participate as a political party in a primary or election desire to organize a political party for the purpose of nominating candidates for public offices or party offices at a primary and of electing candidates for public offices or party offices at the succeeding election they are hereby authorized so to do under the following provisions conditions and limitations

When the object of such body of electors shall be to organize a political party to nominate and elect candidates for public offices or party offices to be voted for by the electors of the State-at-large the said body of electors shall file with the Secretary of the Commonwealth a petition setting forth that they have adopted a certain political appellation to designate their policy or party that they intend to nominate candidates for public offices or for party offices at the succeeding primary and election and that they desire to have the exclusive right to the use of the said certain political appellation at the said succeeding primary and at the said succeeding special general or municipal election to designate their said party or policy

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 Such petition shall be signed where it is intended to give the electors the right to nominate and elect candidates for public offices or party offices to be voted for by the electors of the State-at-large by such number of electors as is equal to at least four per centum of the largest vote for any officer elected in the State-at-large at the last preceding election at which such a State officer was voted for and of the said four per centum of signers there shall be at least two hundred from each of thirty counties of the State

Where such petition is intended to give the electors the right to nominate and elect candidates for public office or for party offices in any electoral district or division less than the State-at-large such petition shall be signed by such number of qualified electors as will equal at least five per centum of the largest vote cast for any officer elected at the last preceding general election in said electoral district or division in which the said body of electors desire to nominate or elect candidates

The said petitions shall be signed by the qualified electors in person and each elector so signing shall write after his name his place of residence (with street and number if any) and the name of his county city township borough ward or election division as the case may be and also his profession business or occupation

No elector may subscribe to more than one of such petitions and the signatures to each of such petitions and the qualifications of the signers thereof shall be vouched for by at least five of the signers thereof by affidavit which shall accompany and be attached to petition The affiants in such affidavit shall also designate one qualified elector who has signed such petition as the chairman of the said policy or party giving his name his address in full and his occupation and such elector so named as chairman shall be the person who shall serve all notices required to be served by said policy or party or filed under the general primary law of this Commonwealth.

Said petitions shall be upon forms to be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and no other forms than those prescribed and so furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall be used for the purpose

No words shall be used in any of said petitions describing or designating said political party or policy similar to or identical with words used by any body or electors or political party entitled to participate in said succeeding primary or general election

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend section 2, line 29, by inserting after the word "to" the word "such."

It was agreed to.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eight sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 3 Said petitions when intended to give the electors the right to nominate and vote for officers to be voted for by the electors of the State-at-large or for members of the House of Representatives of the United States or for State officers including Senators and Representatives to the General Assembly and judges of the court (if the law shall provide for the nomination and election of judges of the courts by political parties) shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth on or before the first day of February preceding the primary or general election at which the said body of electors or party proposes to participate in even numbered years and on or before the first day of July preceding such primary or general election in odd numbered years

Such petitions when intended to give the electors the right to nominate and vote for all other officers than those above enumerated shall be filed with the county commissioners of the respective counties on or before the first day of February preceding the primary or general election at which said body of electors or party proposes to participate in even numbered years and on or before the first day of July preceding such primary or general election in odd numbered years

It shall be the duty of the officer or officers with whom a petition for the use of a political appellation and the right to participate as a party at a primary or election when such petition is brought to him or them for filing under the provisions of this act to examine said petition and if such petition lack sufficient signatures or be otherwise manifestly defective it shall not be filed but the action of such officer or officers in refusing to accept such petition for filing may be reviewed by the court of common pleas of the county in which the petition is presented for filing upon application for mandamus to compel its receipt as of the date when it was first brought to such officer or officers for filing

Section 4 Upon the filing of such petition with the proper officer or officers as above set forth the said body of electors so filing such petition shall have the exclusive right to the use of the said name or political appellation designating their said political party or policy and they shall have the same right to nominate candidates for party offices and public offices at the succeeding primary and the succeeding election as have other political parties or bodies who are now entitled to nominate candidates at a primary unless objection thereto shall be made by any qualified elector of the State or of the electoral district or division as the case may be for which said petition is filed by writing filed in the court of common pleas of the county in which said petition is filed within fifteen days after the last day fixed for filing such petitions

In case such court is in session one or more of the Judges thereof shall proceed to fix a time to hear said objections and at such time fixed shall without unnecessary adjournment or delay give such hearing precedence over all other business before him or them and such objections shall be heard and determined within at least fifteen days from the date of the filing of the objections

In case said court be not in session any judge thereof on presentation to him of a certificate of the prothonotary that such objections have been filed as aforesaid shall proceed to fix a time and hear such objections as aforesaid Provided That no objections of any nature whatever shall be heard unless accompanied by proper proof of service of notice of the proposed objection upon the person designated as the chairman of said body of electors by the affiants to said petition or in case of the death of such chairman or inability of the objector or objectors to serve him with such notice then on any two of the affiants to said petition said service of such notice to be made at least five days prior to the time fixed by the court for the hearing of such objections

If the court decide that said petition is not signed by a sufficient number of qualified electors or that the name proposed to be used is the same or similar to the name of any other party entitled to participate in said succeeding primary or election or shall adjudge that said petition for the use of said name and the right to participate in the succeeding primary or election is not first in point of time of filing with the proper officer or officers then the said court shall decree that said petition be wholly void and of no effect

If the court shall find that said petition is filed in accordance with the provisions of this act then said court shall dismiss said objections and the said body of electors so presenting and filing said petition shall have the exclusive right to the use of said party name at the succeeding primary and election In cases where the objections to petitions filed are not sustained by the court the objector or objectors shall be liable for all costs of the proceeding including witness fees

Section 5 When said body of electors have filed their petition under the provisions of this act and the same has not been objected to or if objected to the objection has been dismissed by the court they shall be entitled to the exclusive use of said name or political appellation and they shall be entitled as a political party to participate in the succeeding primary and election in the matter of the nomination and election of party officers and of public officers in the same manner and under the same terms and subject to the same conditions provisions and limitations as political parties are now entitled to participate in such primaries and elections Provided That any qualified elector desiring to vote the ballot of the party thus securing the right under this act to participate in said primary must enroll as a member of said party before he may exercise his right at the said primary and the fact that such qualified elector has theretofore been enrolled before the filing of said petition as a member of another party or has at any time prior to the filing of said petition voted for another party shall not operate to prevent his enrollment with said new party

Section 6 Any additional expense incident to the carrying out of the provisions of this act shall be accounted for and paid for in the manner now provided for the accounting for and payment of expenses of primaries

Section 7 Any person or persons who shall falsely make any such petition for the exclusive use of a party name or political appellation or file any such petition knowing the same or any part thereof to be falsely made or suppress any such petition or any part thereof which has been duly filed or shall forge or cause to be forged any name or names thereto or who shall make any false affidavit to any such petition or who shall wilfully alter any material portion of any such petition shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and undergo an imprisonment for not more than one year or either or both at the discretion of the court

Section 8 That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act to provide for the creation by bodies of electors of political parties not otherwise entitled under the law to participate in primaries and elections and giving such parties the right to participate in primaries and elections providing the manner in which such parties may be created providing the manner in which such parties may have the exclusive right to use certain designated names for their parties or policies providing a method of objecting to petitions filed for the purpose of obtaining such exclusive right to use a party name under which to participate in primaries and elections providing for the enrollment of qualified electors so as to entitle them to vote the ballot of such parties at primaries providing for the designation of a person upon whom shall be served notice of objection to such petitions or other notices required by law to be served upon such parties and who shall serve such notices as are required to be made or filed by such parties under the law in the matter of the nomination of candidates providing for the payment of costs incident to objections to such petitions and also for the expense incident to hold such primaries prividing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and the punishment for certain offences hereunder and providing for the repeal of inconsistent legislation

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, March 30th, 1915.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, on the morning of this beautiful day we thank Thee that we can unite our voices with the angels and archangels and with all the company of Heaven, to laud and magnify Thy glorious name, evermore praising Thee and saying, "Holy, Holy, Holy, is the Lord God of Hosts."

We thank Thee that it is written "Without holiness no man shall see the Lord. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Oh, God, take these hearts of ours and purge them with hyssop and they shall be clean. Wash them and they shall be whiter than snow. Fill them with the love, knowledge, patience, brotherly kindness and godliness, and with these, make us blessings to our fellow men and to the world, we ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. Lindsey, the further reading was dispensed with and the journal was approved.

Mr. WYLIE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 952, entitled:

An Act providing that it shall be unlawful for any person or persons firm or corporation to have in use upon the public streets alleys and highways of the State of Pennsylvania commencing one hour after sunset and continuing until one hour before sunrise any vehicle or vehicles without being equipped with lights that can be observed from the front and rear of said vehicle and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask this House not to pass this bill in its present form as it will be unfair to the farmers of the State. It will be a dead letter and cannot be enforced. It would require the farmer to have a light on every wagon, on his manure spreader, on his hay-rake, on his cart, on his mower and on his binder. It does exempt his wheelbarrow, push-cart and baby carriage. I cannot see, and I cannot understand how it would be possible to have a light of this kind on a farm-wagon on a rough road. It would be impossible to keep a lighted lamp on a wagon of that kind on a rough road, and I submit to this House, that the farm wagon is more important to this State than the automobile. A bill that will hamper and harass the farmer can be nothing but fool legislation, if there is such legislation. Therefore, I want to ask this House to be fair to the farming interests of this State and not pass a bill of this kind.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, there is so much confusion in this House that I am satisfied that the members cannot hear what is going on. I thoroughly agree with what has been said by the gentleman who has preceded me. I think it would be a mistake for any country member to sit idly by while this bill is being considered. I know that in Jefferson County there are plenty of roads that never have an automobile run over them at all. There are months in the year, three or four months at a time, that it would be a positive hardship for men to have to put lights on the back and front of their vehicles, and when it would be simply impossible. Now, I do not think it is necessary to discuss this bill and unless it is put into different shape, I expect and hope that this House will defeat it.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I know both sides of this question. They used to come around when I was about thirteen or fourteen years old at four o'clock Monday morning, and say "get up, it is four o'clock, it is Monday morning, to-morrow is Tuesday, and next day is Wednesday, there is half the week gone and you are still in bed." The gentleman who had the floor a moment ago stated that you would have to have a light on your mower, hayrake and spreader. Any farmer who cannot run his machinery in daylight when he has fourteen hours and fifty minutes to work in summer, an hour before the sun comes up in the morning, and an hour after it goes down in the evening must be considerable of a hog or, I should say, very greedy. Now, let me tell you something else, I was raised on a farm. I am in sympathy with the farmer; we all have to go to the farmer for our daily bread, but every time legislation comes up it exempts the farmer. The Workmen's Compensation does not hit the farmer, the Child Labor Law does not hit the farmer. Why, he can work his people fifteen hours a day in the summer, and there is nothing said. A law should hit the farmers once in a while. I own a farm, and I may have to return to it some day and earn an honest living, and if I cannot do it and earn my living there from sun-up to sun-down, why then I do not deserve a living. We should look at the thing fair and square. Has the city man no rights at all? We are entangled with legislation and legislative enactment. We cannot walk five miles into the country without breaking five Federal statutes, the Inter-State Commerce Commission law and tearing our trousers on a trespass sign.

Mr. ROTHENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I am out three nights in a week. I have a lantern for a light and I want everybody who is on the street to carry a lantern too. I am for the bill.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not a new bill by any means. The same bill was introduced at the last two sessions of the Legislature, and was defeated. The principle objection to the bill at that time was that the bill would work a hardship on the farmers of this Commonwealth and that it could not be enforced. Our worthy friend from Allegheny states that he knows both sides of this question, and I desire to say to the House that the gentleman from York also knows both sides of this question. I have lived in the city. I am a farmer's boy and I am proud of it. I live now in a country district. Like my friend from Berks, I also carry lanterns upon every wagon which I use, but I realize that in many instances this bill is impracticable. The gentleman from Allegheny has spoken of the hours allotted to the farmer to carry out his daily quota of work. This bill does not interfere with him in the field. There seems to some misapprehension in the gentleman's mind. It applies to the highway. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, the day's work is done, the farmer is returning home from one of his fields which lies some distance from his house. He has a mower and a binder if you please; these are wheeled vehicles, and under the provisions of this act he is clearly directed to have a lantern upon all wheeled vehicles. He has not worked until dark, but he is coming home, and it is dusk. An automobilist goes by him, sees that he has no lantern and reports him—a fine is the result. If any gentleman in this House, farmer or otherwise, can show me how you can place a lantern on a four-horse team so that it can be seen from the front and rear I will take off my hat to him. It cannot be done. The lantern is not constructed that will stand the jars and the jolts. The Master of the State Grange, Mr. McSparren, is against this bill. Who are the State Grangers? I admit that the agriculturalist has gotten some exemption, but gentlemen when you take into consideration the fact that he feeds you, that he clothes you, that he houses you, he has got to be protected. And, gentlemen, I am not ashamed to stand here and say that I side with the farmers of the Commonwealth on this great bill. It means some thing to us. We cannot put lanterns on all the wagons we operate. It is a practical impossibility, and this law will be a dead letter. It will stir up much hostility, and how are you going to have healthy legislation if you cannot get the healthy co-operation of all. Why, gentlemen, discuss this matter at all? It is a matter on which we must be reasonable. We are willing to put lights on such wagons as we can and we are doing it, but do not attempt to harness us like this. Vote this bill down.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the farmers of this State have no more loyal supporter of their great farming interests than I. I do not rise to speak in the interest of this measure and wish to be understood as being antagonistic to the farming interest. Like some of the other speakers, I also chance to have the experience of living in the country. I can hardly understand why a farmer should oppose this measure. It is purely a safety measure. The farmer, in traveling through the country at this age, I should think would want this provision without an act of this kind. We are not living in the age that our grandfathers did. This is an age of the interurban lines and the trolley lines and encircling our entire State and the automobile. Now I chance to know from actual experience. During the summer months I like to put as much time in the country as I can possibly spare and I have had the opportunity of witnessing some accidents on a road with a sharp bend on it. An automobile comes around and the team coming in the opposite direction, the automobile light will not follow up the road and the automobilist will be upon the team before he can see it, due to the fact that there is no light on the team. This bill, however, was not inspired by automobilists. The bill was inspired by the trolley men of this State. The trouble with the trolley men, in going through the country districts, is that they strike sharp curves and the light will not follow the curves, the rays of the light, and before they can see ahead of them they run into the team, and that means thirty or sixty or ninety days suspension for the motorman. There is no excuse for him running into the team even though he could see it, and the motormen sometimes are discharged if the wreck is serious and sometimes brought into court and charged with manslaughter; yet it is purely excusable on their part because they could not see ahead. If there was a light on the team, notwithstanding the fact that the headlight throws the light in the opposite direction when going around a sharp curve, they could have seen the light on the wagon and prevented this accident; and as the common law now stands the party run into has all the law and the one that runs into them is the guilty one in the eyes of the law. This merely provides that they shall have a light on the vehicle.

As to the arguments that our friend down there produced that they finish their work in the fields and take their machines to the barn, that they would have to have a light, why the bill provides that for one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise in the morning they do not have the light; therefore, the farmer working in the fields after sunset and starting home after sunset has one whole hour before the law applies to him and one hour in the morning before the law applies.

I repeat that I do not want to be understood as doing a single thing that would harass the farmers, because they are my best friends and always have been, and I fought many a battle for the farmers throughout the State, and if I thought for a minute that it would work a hardship or injustice to the farmer I certainly would oppose it. I think it will be a bill that will be more beneficial to the farmer than to any one else and I hope therefore that the bill will pass.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Berks to say that after the hour has been reached, included in the provisions of this bill, the time shall have arrived and the farmer should stop work———

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides for one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he is positive that dusk or darkness comes one hour after sunset in the summer time, the farming season? Isn't it true that twilight intervenes for the space of an hour and a quarter and yet it is after sunset?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, in this part of the country it does not consume that length of time.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Berks whether he is aware that in some agricultural districts when the moon is bright the farmers go out at night time to mow their grass; lay off in the warm of the day so that the horses are not overworked?

Mr. MAURER. If it is a moonlight night and the farmer is on his way home with his machinery I do not think any one should have a very good case in court if he arrested that farmer for not having a light.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks further.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York desires to further interrogate the gentleman from Berks. Will he permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, keep right on.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how the farmer would escape the provisions of this act if he returned from a field distant from his house after sunset, after night fall, if you please, with a mower or binder; would he be amendable to this act or not?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to please repeat his question. I did not quite catch it.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, if a man is returning from his field after sunset or after dark, if you please, a man has gone there in the dark of the evening to get his hay ladders home at ten o'clock; would he, under the provisions of this act, be amenable under this act or not?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, in the dark?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, in the dark.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, any man who takes a mower or piece of agricultural machinery out on the public highway at this stage, with the automobiles and trolley cars, and drive such a machine along the public highways in utter darkness, he positively should be arrested and he certainly would come under the provisions of this act. If he did not, I would oppose the act.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman which should have the preference—the man out for pleasure or the man earning his daily toll if he should meet with an automobile?

Mr. MAURER. My answer to my friend is that we cannot discriminate. We have to see to the safety and welfare of the public.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House, it had been my aim to keep quite and keep off the floor during this session, but when my good friend, the gentleman from Allegheny arises and dubs the farmers of this great Commonwealth as hogs I cannot stand it any longer. The gentleman surely has forgotten that the time is here when farm labor is very scarce; when it is almost impossible for the farmer to secure hands to do his labor at the busy season of the year. He certainly forgets, also, that at certain seasons of the year the season is very unseasonable. Last fall all over this great Commonwealth it was impossible to get the grain set out at the proper time. Then when the season did come the farmers had to do co-operative work. I know of a case where my brother went five miles with his grain drill to help a fellow-neighbor to put his crop in and they worked as long as they could see, without going for their suppers, in order to set out the crop and provide a harvest for this coming season. They would go in and get their suppers and then, according to the provisions of this bill, my brother or your brother or no other farmer would be permitted to haul his grain drill home that night in order to be able to use it at some other place the next day. This kind of legislation is vicious, and I want to say further, Mr. Speaker, that the promise was made, practically made in the committee that if this bill were permitted to come out of the committee it would be so amended as to eliminate farm machinery. Upon that understanding the bill came out of the committee and only yesterday we were promised that the bill would be amended so as to eliminate farm machinery and here it is this morning, fighting to get it through, and exempting nothing but a baby cart, a wheelbarrow and a hay ladder. This is a piece of legislation that ought not to go through. The gentleman surely does not understand that the farmers must work as long as they are able to work and then they have to go to their homes in the evening. Besides that a farmer who goes to the farms of other farmers and is working there with them and wants to leave to go to work for the other farmers, he could not take his grain drill, his hay rake or mower home without being subjected to prosecution. It is not what the court would say on it. It is not the construction the court would make on a bill of this kind. The question is, it would be a violation of the law and this bill ought to be voted down.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to take the time of the House to argue on this question. I will say this: That I am opposed to the bill in its present form. I think this bill could be made a good bill if it was recommitted to the committee and several amendments made to it. In its present form I will have to vote against it. If it is up to the House to vote on this bill I hope that the bill will be voted down unless amendments are made to the bill.

Mr. HORTON. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Committee on Public Roads and as chairman of the sub-committee to which this bill, or two other bills, rather, were submitted, we took into conference the two sponsors of these bills. We took out the good qualities which we thought would be a good thing and we merged them both into one bill; and, of course, we gave the farmer very due consideration as you will notice that the penalty is only two dollars. Now then, Mr. Speaker, if the hay rake or mowing machine or reaper or harrow or sulky plow, etc., comes under the provisions of this bill then it is wrong; but if they are not considered vehicles it is right. Therefore I ask you to stand by this bill and vote for it.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I desire to reply to the gentleman from Huntingdon. I speak from some farming experience that I have had and I want to say that I have always stood for justice towards all men. I believe in justice being tempered with mercy and I think it should always be tempered with mercy when it applies to women and children and even domestic animals should have some consideration. Now, in my way, the gentlemen know that I speak on the impulse of the moment. I do not write out my thoughts in advance. I speak what comes into my mind at the time and I used a term that was not very elegant and after reflection I regret that I used it. I should have used the term "greedy." Now, I know so much about agriculture—I got my early education on the farm—why don't you interrogate me if you want to know something about farming. Under the provisions of this bill a farmer has seventeen hours to use his agriculture machinery and surely his horses that he drives will need seven hours rest out of the twenty-four.

Furthermore, the farmer does not use the public highway in returning from his fields after dark. Now, listen further. The farmer drives back across his own fields and can do anything he wants in his own fields. He simply drives through his own fields, and it won't apply to agricultural machinery, but simply to that on a public highway.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentlemen from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cromer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman the question, that a farmer's land lies on both sides of a public highway, his buildings at one end of the farm a mile long, and there is only one row of fields on each side of the public highway, and they are hilly fields, and the road runs along between the two rows of fields, would he compel that gentleman to drive along the side of the hill and keep off the public highway? The gentleman certainly does not realize what he is saying.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to reply to the gentleman from Huntingdon,—if he knows anything about farming he knows that the man will simply leave his machinery in the field until the next day. Some leave it out all winter.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, again I reply, with pleasure.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman know that every practical farmer never lets his machinery stand in the field? If he does, under general circumstances, he takes a chance upon a thunder storm, or upon a rain coming up, and it may have to stand there for two days. The practical business, up to date farmer invariably puts his machinery in the dry when night comes, and I appeal to the members of this House if that is not true. He farmed forty years ago, not now.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to reply to the gentleman by stating that I have a great many relatives who are farmers, right here in Franklin County nearby, and in Fulton County, who are relatives, and splendid men and they know how to farm. They can get their machinery in,—do all their work and get their machinery in the barn before nine o'clock, and if he does that he can get it in in less than an hour after sundown.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, I believe this will work an unnecessary annoyance, impertinence and would be considered a hinrdance in the rural districts, especially among the farmers. The farmers are the bone and sinew of our country, and ought to be left without any unnecessary obstacles in any way. The farmer as a rule is a careful man, he goes cautiously. He is not tied down to eight hours a day, or ten hours a day, or twelve hours a day. His work comes by spells and very hard when it does come. Often he goes eighteen to twenty hours a day, every once in a while. I have done it myself and lots of them do it, and they have occasion to move out on the public highway during the hours of the night, when it is dark as pitch and twice as nasty, but he goes all the same. It is not the farmer that does the mischief on the highway; it s the other fellow that does the mischief. It's like this. A near-sighted man and a cross-eyed man bumped into each other on the street. The cross-eyed man said to the near-sighted man, "If you would look where you are going you would not run into a body that way," and the near-sighted man said to the cross-eyed man, "If you would go where you are looking, you would not run into a body that way."

It is not the farmer that runs into the other fellow, it is the other fellow that runs into the farmer. The farmer goes where he is looking, but the other fellow too often does not look where he is going, and if you make the other fellow put a lantern on his vehicle, or bells on his vehicle, or anything else you have a mind to, he might go carefully and the other people will know to keep out of his way, but do not put any unnecessary burdens on the farmer.

Mr. BUNGARD. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to say anything upon this bill, put this question is so important that I shall not prevail upon myself to hold my voice. I am a farmer boy. In order to answer the honorable gentleman, Mr. Maurer, let us legislate these trolley companies to put crosseyed headlights on their trolley cars and they can see going around a curve and would not run into a farmer. He also said they would run into horses. Surely we do not want to hang lights on the horses' noses. On the other hand, to satisfy the argument of the other honorable gentleman relative to legislating the farmer, nail up his barns, close up the barn doors, put a pad lock on him; then lock yourself into a room somewhere, and starve yourself and feed yourself on brick dust, in answer to my honorable friend, Mr. Cromer. Gentlemen, let us vote this iniquitous bill down. It is unfair to the best men of our country, our farmers.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SET-OFF AND COUNTER-CLAIM

Section 14 In actions of assumpsit a defendant may set off or set up by way of counter-claim against the claim of the plaintiff any right or claim for which an action of assumpsit would lie and such set-off or counter-claim shall have the same effect as a cross-action If in any case in which the defendant sets up a counter-claim for which he might have a certificate in his favour the action of the plaintiff is discontinued dismissed or a voluntary nonsuit suffered the counter-claim nevertheless may be proceeded with

PLAINTIFF'S REPLY

Section 15 When the defendant in his affidavit of defence sets up a set-off or counter-claim against the plaintiff the plaintiff within fifteen days from the day of service of the affidavit of defence upon him the day of service to count as the first day shall file an answer under oath which shall be called "Plaintiff's Reply" which shall be served upon the defendant or his attorney at the address for the service of papers indorsed on the affidavit of defence In such cases the affidavit of defence shall be indorsed as follows

"To the within plaintiff

"You are required to file a reply to the defendant's set-off (or counter-claim as the case may be) within fifteen days from the service hereof the day of service to count as the first day"

The set-off or counter-claim shall be regarded as the defendant's statement of claim and the plaintiff's reply as an affidavit of defence thereto and both shall be drawn in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 16 Neither party shall be permitted at the trial to make any defence except that set forth in the affidavit of defence or plaintiff's reply as the case may be except as provided in sections seven and thirteen

MOTION FOR JUDGMENT

Section 17 In actions of assumpsit the prothonotary may enter judgment for want of an affidavit of defence or for any amount admitted or not denied to be due The plaintiff may take a rule for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defence to the whole or any part of his claim and the court shall enter judgment or discharge the rule as justice may require When the defendant sets up a set-off or counter-claim he may move for judgment against the plaintiff for want of a reply or for want of a sufficient reply to the whole or any part of the set-off or counter-claim and the court may enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff or the defendant for such amount as shall be found due with leave to proceed for the balance

Section 18 In actions of trespass when the defendant fails to file an affidavit of defence within the required time the case shall be deemed to be at issue and may be ordered upon the trial list

Section 19 When the plaintiff asks for an account and moves for judgment for want of an affidavit of defence or for want of a sufficient affidavit of defence the court may enter an order for an account which may be enforced by attachment or otherwise and judgment may be entered for the amount shown to be due in favor of the plaintiff or the defendant

PROCEEDINGS IN LIEU OF DEMURRER

Section 20 The defendant in the affidavit of defence may raise any point of law and any point so raised may be set down for hearing and disposed of before trial If in the opinion of the court the decision of such point of law substantially disposes of the whole action or of any distinct part thereof the court may enter judgment for the defendant or make such other order therein as may be just

Section 21 The court upon motion or of its own motion may strike from the record a pleading which does not conform to the provisions of this act and may allow an amendment or a new pleading to be filed upon such terms as may be just

Section 22 The court in its discretion upon motion and notice to the opposite party or his attorney may extend the time fixed by this act for the filing or service of any pleading

Section 23 The courts of common pleas shall make such rules as they deem advisable for the proper enforcement of this act

Section 24 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to the bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 8, line 3, by striking out the second word "to"

Amend section 9, by striking out on line 4, beginning at the last word "signed" down to and including the first word "or" on line 5 and insert the word "by" before the word "some" on line 5

Amend section 9, page 10, by striking out on line 2 beginning at the word "and", down to and including the word "act" in line 3,

Amend section 12, page 11, by striking out on line 6, beginning at the word "and" down to and including the word "act" on line 8

Amend section 14, page 12, by striking out on line 5, beginning at the word "and" down to and including the word "cross-action" on line 6 and insert the following, "and a verdict may be rendered in his favor for the amount found to be sure and judgment entered thereon"

Amend section 14, page 12, by striking out on line 7 beginning at the word "for" down to and including the word "favour" on line 8

Amend section 15, page 12, by striking out on line 19, beginning at the word "and" down to and including the word "act" on line 20

Amend section 16, page 13, by striking out the words on line 2 "except that" and insert the following "which is not"

Amend section 21, page 14, by striking out the words on line 5 "may be just" and insert the following "it may direct"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1017, entitled:

An Act relating to the resignation and appointment of councilmen in boroughs

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 527, entitled:

An Act requiring light heat and power companies to furnish upon application presented certain persons with light heat or power and providing a penalty for refusing same

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, This bill provides light and heat and power companies to furnish upon application presented certain persons with light, heat or power and the power company shall be compelled to furnish the light or current under a penalty for refusing the same. The purpose of the bill as I am informed is to compel electric light and power companies to furnish owners of land over which these electric light and power companies have right of way, with light. It becomes necessary to electric light, heat and power companies sometimes to lay high tension wires and in order to allow these wires placed on private land they agree with the land owner upon the terms on which these lines shall be laid. It would be necessary in order that the high tension lines may be safe to reduce the high voltage of the high tension power so that it would be safe for private consumption. It would also be necessary to stretch lines from the high service wires. I am informed that the expense in the reduction of the high voltage is very high. It would also be an additional expense of no small amount to lay these necessary lines. I wish to call your attention further to another feature of this bill. This high tension line may run several miles through a country and there is no limitation upon the radius in which those five petitioners must live. There may be one petitioner along one line and another about half mile in another direction. At each point this high tension must be reduced and a line laid into the house.

Another feature of the bill to which I wish to call your attention is this, the words used are "light, heat and power companies" and as I said, I understand the reason is to apply to electric light heat and power companies. However there are other companies which may be included in the term "light, heat and power". We have in certain acts of Assembly the incorporation of gas both natural and artificial companies. We have also sometimes a peculiar combination and ownership of the high tension power lines of electric street car lines interurban lines and power companies. I fear, I am not prepared to state, but I fear that under the wording of this act some of the natural gas companies may be included. Now, natural gas companies necessarily through their service lines carry a heavy pound pressure which would be exceedingly dangerous to apply for private consumption unless it were reduced. It would require a reducer at every consumer's house. In addition to that if this act should apply to companies conducting inter-urban lines it would be a considerable hardship on those companies. Now I wish to state further that these light, heat and power companies have no right upon the land of individuals until they have acquired a right of way which is a contract entered into between the power company and the owner of the land. I submit that the proper place to make these provisions is at the time that that contract is entered into. If there is such provision the owner of the land has the courts to enforce his contracts. I submit, gentlemen, that the bill in the first place is very improperly drawn, and in the second place that it is a distinct hardship upon the companies furnishing light heat and power whether electric or gas.

Mr. OAKS. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of this bill, I just want to say a few words in its behalf. In our county there are high tension electric light and power companies doing business. They have gone through many farms, through municipalities and obtained their right of way, have contracted for them with the understanding that the people in such communities would have the benefit of its electric current. Now, then, they refuse to give it to them. I have in mind two boroughs that are three miles apart, the borough of Ashville and Chest Springs. These people have asked for this light time and again ,and have been refused. Now, then, I went into this matter with some one who is practical and knows what he is talking about. In fact it is an agent of another concern and he tells me the cost of installing the transformers necessary to cut this current down so that it can be used as a domestic—I don't know what you might call it,—that the cost of that would be about one thousand dollars. Some one approached me on this just a few minutes ago and informed me that the cost would be fifteen to twenty thousand dollars. That is not correct. I therefore ask the gentlemen of this House to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman states as one of the purposes of this bill that light may be furnished to boroughs. I submit that under the reading of the bill as drawn it does not apply to boroughs, unless the right of way through the borough is over private property—the right of way upon the streets of the borough is not "land" such as is used in this act. However, the Public Service Commission, under the Public Service Act has ample authority to compel these companies to furnish light to these boroughs I believe.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provision of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I will state my question briefly and to the point. I have always been a man of action, with the clutch thrown in high gear, and I am becoming just a little impatient with the procedure of the House. It is said that "the mills of the Gods grind slowly," but they haven't anything on the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. To show you that I am doing all in my power for the best interests of this Commonwealth, I wish to say that I have refused to present considerable legislation here because it did not appear to have merit. I want to say to the Gentlemen of the House that I will not, under any circumstances, present another bill to this House for passage at this session.

Another thing I want to bring up is that we have been entertained here by speakers, lecturers and shows of different kinds, and I was not elected to come down here to be entertained. I think it takes up the business of the House. If you look at your calendar you will see nearly half a hundred bills on third reading, and I would not be surprised if we had another moving picture show tonight. I thank you, Mr. Speaker.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Mr. MILLIRON asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 1050, File Folio 3527, on page eight of to-day's calendar, Bills on Second Reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 8, on third reading, entitled:

An Act supplementory to an act entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto" approved the twenty-seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirteen providing for and enacting initiative and referendum provisions with reference to ordinances and the holding of elections relative thereto go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 190 (House Bill No. 104), entitled:

An Act regulating the manner and time of payment of employees of cities of the first class be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 192 (House No. 10), entitled:

An Act regulating the manner of payment of county employes in counties having a population over one million

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, this bill, as I understand, relates to changing the entire system and custom in the city of Philadelphia for the payment of the employees. I think it is a bad precedent to begin to change conditions that have been prevailing there for the last thirty-five or forty years. It requires a semi-monthly payment of the employes, when the custom and the practice and the appropriations made by councils are made on the basis of monthly salary. It would practically incur a very heavy expenditure on the part of the municipality, which, I think, is an unwarranted change at this time, and the conditons of the times are such and the men employed are in such a position that we ought to leave such things alone until there is a revival of prosperity. I trust that the Senate will defeat this bill in the interest of economy in the municipality.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—6.

Farley,	Snyder, C. A.,	Thompson,	Vare,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 193 (House Bill No. 74), as follows:

An Act to quiet the title to real estate and to enable citizens of the United States and corporations authorized to hold real estate within this Commonwealth to hold and convey title to real estate which has been formerly held by or for corporations not authorized by law to hold the same

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That where any real estate in this Commonwealth heretofore held by or for any corporation or corporations not having the right to own and hold the same has been conveyed to any citizen of the United States or to any corporation authorized by the laws of this Commonwealth to hold the same such citizen or corporation grantee as aforesaid shall hold and may convey such title and estate indefeasibly as to any right of escheat in this Commonwealth by reason of such real estate having been sold by or for a corporation not authorized to hold the same by the laws of this Commonwealth This act shall not apply to escheat cases now in litigation

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I voted no.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I voted no.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I would like to say a word to the Senate in reference to this bill. It was drawn by Dr. Higbee who is at the head of the Board of Examiners of Nurses and presented by Mr. Willard over in the House. It was defeated here this morning I think because some of the Senators have not looked into the matter. If there is anything wrong with the bill, after it is reconsidered all those who are interested in the bill can examine it and have it corrected.

And the question recurring?

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, taking the suggestion of Senator Vare that the members should have an opportunity to look into the bill, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until next Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Thompson and Mr. McNichol and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17.

Burke,	Farley,	Schantz,	Warner,
Catlin,	Gerberich,	Sproul,	Wasbers,
Clark,	Martin,	Stewart,	Kline,
Crow,	McNichol,	Vare,	Pres. pro tem.
Daix,	Patton,

NAYS—8.

Buckman,	Hoke,	McConnell,	Thompson,
Endsley,	Kurtz,	Snyder, C. A.,	Tompkins,

The PRESIDENT. Less than a quorum having voted the motion is not agreed to and the Sergeant-at-Arms will close the Senate and lock the doors, and send for the Senators who are absent.

After some time the Chair directed that the Clerk should call the roll.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to be informed as to whether we are to vote "present" or to vote on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senators to vote "present".

The following Senators answered to their names:

YEAS—32.

Buckman,	Hoke,	Miller,	Stewart,
Burke,	Jenkins,	Patton,	Thompson,
Catlin,	Kurtz,	Phipps,	Tompkins,
Daix,	Lynch,	Schantz,	Vare,
Endsley,	Magee, C. J.,	Smith, W. W.,	Warner,
Farley,	Martin,	Snyder, C. A.,	Wasbers,
Graff,	McNichol,	Snyder, P. W.,	Kline,
Hilton,	McConnell,	Sproul,	Pres. pro tem.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Sergeant-at-Arms is directed to open the doors, and the question now before the Senate is the motion by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, to adjourn until next Tuesday evening at nine o'clock.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, that motion was put and lost, and so stated by the Chair, that the motion did not prevail, there was not a quorum then present. I now move that Senate Bill No. 176, which this morning was reported from the Committee on Elections, be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining, for this reason: The Committee on Mines and Mining have put a great deal of time on this bill and spent a number of hours last night with the Attorney-General, with Mr. Dever, attorney for the miners, and I believe that they have this bill now in such shape———

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will state for the benefit of the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson, that there is but one motion before the Senate at the present time. As there was no quorum present, therefore the motion could not fail, and the only thing to do was to lock the doors and send for the members so that a quorum could be present for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the Senate will agree to the motion to adjourn.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, This motion to adjourn was made when there was no quorum present. After the vote was taken and the roll had been verified, the Chair stated that there was no quorum present and the motion did not prevail.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will state for the benefit of the Senator from Beaver that, if the Chair stated that the motion did not prevail, the Chair was in error, because a motion of that kind cannot prevail if there is not a quorum present. The yeas and nays were taken and upon the yeas and nays being taken it was ascertained that there was not a quorum present, and if the Chair then stated that the motion failed, the Chair was then in error. The only thing that is in order is the motion that was previously made.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, if a motion is put here and seconded and there is not sufficient number of people here, if there is not a quorum here, is that a motion or not.

The PRESIDENT. It is not under the rules; they cannot do any business in the absence of a quorum.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, Since we now have thirty-two members present, I move that this bill, Senate Bill No. 716———

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator that the only thing in order now is the previous motion to adjourn.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, you said there was no motion made, as there was not a quorum present.

And the question, recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Thompson and Mr. Buckman and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15.

Burke,	Jenkins,	Schantz,	Warner,
Catlin,	Martin,	Smith, W. W.,	Wasbers,
Daix,	McNichol,	Sproul,	Kline,
Farley,	Patton,	Vare,	Pres. pro tem.

NAYS—16.

Buckman,	Hoke,	McConnell,	Snyder, P. W.,
Endsley,	Kurtz,	Miller,	Stewart,
Graff,	Lynch,	Phipps,	Thompson,
Hilton,	Magee, C. J.,	Snyder, C. A.,	Tompkins,

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 716, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of article eight, section two of article eight, section four of article eight, section six of article eight, section three of article ten, rule one of article twelve, rule three of article twelve, rule seventeen of article twelve, rule twenty of article twelve, rule thirty-five of article twelve, rule thirty-six of article twelve, rule forty-three of article twelve, rule forty-six of article twelve, rule forty-three of article twelve, rule forty-five of article twelve, section four of article thirteen, section eight of article seventeen and article eighteen of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," approved the second day of June, 1891.

which was reported this morning from the Committee on Elections, be recommitted to the committee on Mines and Mining.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I make that motion for these reasons: The committee on mines and mining have met for two separate days. The Chairman of the Committee has given a great deal of time to this matter, spoke to Mr. Dever, attorney for the miners, last evening, talked to the Attorney-General and we believe we have this bill now in such shape that it will meet with the approval of the operators and the miners. Some time ago, at a meeting last Tuesday a week after the hearing, when we had a meeting of the committee, eleven of the members of the Committee on Mines and Mining were present, and when the bill was practically unanimously voted on by the Committee, and decided to be retained for further information, I so made known to the representatives of the mines and representatives of the operators. We asked for further information. I was at that time told by Mr. Dever that some of the statements made by the miners were privately withdrawn. It was the sense of the committee that those statements were made publicly and that they should be withdrawn in the same manner. I talked with a number of the miners on Monday evening and the great thought on this particular bill is that it should come under the workman's compensation act. A number of eminent authorities were spoken to on this matter, they said, not one, two or ten men, they said that this workman's compensation bill would not cover this particular case, and I asked for their names and addresses. I have not received that information as yet. This Committee on Mines and Mining has given a great deal of time on this bill. They have been absolutely conscientious in their work on this particular bill, and if a practice of this kind shall prevail in this Senate, then I say, dismiss every chairman you have, and leave it to the view of one or two men in this Senate as to what shall be done, and some of them, not even Senators. I think this is one of the sharpest pieces of practice I have ever known in my life, and I, for one, shall vote to recommit the bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, Whatever my feeling might be toward the bill under question, I shall vote to recommit the bill to the Commiteee on Mines and Mining as I have never in my experience here voted to treat a committee in the way such a thing as this would be treating it.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I have been sitting in this Chamber for ten years. There is no desire on the part of the people who are supporting this present action to be discourteous in any way to any committee. There are bills here having the same titles practically and purporting to deal with the same subject matter that are introduced from day to day and are referred to different committees other than those to which the bills as originally introduced were referred. But it is not with the idea of being discourteous but it is the idea of getting action on a bill that has been here for some time and the reason for that it that it is said that if the compensation act in its entirety shall pass both Houses of this Legislature, that a large body of the citizenship in this community that is desirous of having a proper recognition and to come in under the folds of the compensation act would be excluded and that they should be treated in it as a part of the body of the working men in this State, they should be given some protection and some consideration. We have been going along until within five weeks of the adjournment of this Legislature, as the time has been fixed by the House, and if this matter is left to the Committee on Mines and Mining for consideration without anything being done for the next week or ten days, it is a question whether an important body or important population of this Commonwealth are not going to be deprived of the compensation features of the bill that is being put through the House and will be in the Senate. If the Senate will assure us that there will be in the near future a report of this bill to the body of the Senate, I will be satisfied. I think this is due to the members of the Senate in an important matter—if it was a matter pertaining to some trivial affair, why, of course, there would not be any attempt upon the part of the Senators who are advocating this measure to usurp any prerogatives of a committee. I would be the last member of the Senate to do it, I assure you. But when you take fifty, or sixty, or a hundred or a hundred and fifty thousand people in this commonwealth, and nothing done to compensate these men for injuries and with the present laws as they are and if the bills now introduced will exclude them, as I am told by competent lawyers, including the Attorney-General, that they will be excluded from participating in this compensation act, something should be done. I don't want the Senators to think that in voting for this proposition, I am becoming discourteous in any respect, because the bill having reported, today until Tuesday night it can be gone over by the members of the Senate and given proper consideration. That is the reason for this action in this matter. Even though a precedent be broken I do not think there is one of the fifty members in this Senate that would want to sit here and deprive the miners of this great Commonwealth from participating in the benefits of the compensation act.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will just say for the benefit of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, that it happened just last evening I met with the former Attorney General, Mr. Bell and present Attorney General, Mr. Brown, and they have added a clause to the present Workmen's Compensation bill that in the opinion of the present Attorney-General, concurred in by the former Attorney-General, amply covers the miner. And I can assure the members of this Senate that there is not a single member of this Committee that is not giving this matter great thought, and want the miners to come under the present compensation bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, before we vote on this, as I understand the statement of the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson, he has practically agreed that this bill with the approval of the Attorney-General and the ex-Attorney-General will be upon the floor of the Senate in the early part of next week, if that is so I will certainly agree that the bill be re-committed.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I have not looked over this bill, I am speaking of the former bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am speaking of the former bill.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, there was an agreement with the Attorney-General last evening with regard to the compensation feature of this particular bill..

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, as I understand the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson, the main feature of discord and the purposes for which research has been made as to this bill, having been the compensation feature of it——

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, that is one of the main features.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, and that has practically by the statement of the Senator, been cleared up, with the approval of the Attorney-General and the ex-Attorney-General.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, then there is nothing in the mind of the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Thompson, that will prevent a reporting of the bill early next week.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, nothing in the world regarding that feature of the bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I understood that this was the main feature.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, That is the main feature, the others were incidental. This committee is composed of thirteen members and their vote shall entirely govern this bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, a committee can vote out a bill as committeed or as amended or with a favorable recommendation.

And the question, recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until next Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1.50 o'clock P. M. until Tuesday evening, April 6, 1915, at 9 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, March 31st, 1915.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that Thou art our Father, our Creator and our Preserver. We thank Thee that Thou art a rich Provider, and hast provided us infinite blessings. "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God has prepared for those who love Him." We thank Thee for the gift of the Redeemer, who stood over Jerusalem, and cried, "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto Thee; how often would I have gathered thee together as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings but ye would not." That same Saviour upon the Cross exclaimed, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do," and He said unto the thief, "to-day Thou shall be with me in Paradise," then uttered those great words, "it is finished" redemption has been completed, and to-day He is our Saviour and our Intercessor, and through Him we offer all of our prayers, and may all of our prayers be acceptable to Thee, O God, we ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. McConnell, the further reading was dispensed with and the journal was approved.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 962, as follows:

An Act relating to practice in the courts of common pleas in actions of assumpsit and trespass except actions for libel and slander prescribing the pleadings and procedure to be observed therein and giving the courts power to enforce its provisions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after January first one thousand nine hundred and sixteen in actions of assumpsit and trespass except actions for libel and slander brought in any court of common pleas the procedure shall be as herein provided

THE PLEADINGS GENERALLY

Section 2 The pleadings shall consist of the plaintiff's statement of claim the defendant's affidavit of defense and where a set-off or counterclaim is pleaded the plaintiff's reply thereto When the affidavit of defense or where a set-off or counter-claim is pleaded the plaintiff's reply thereto is filed the pleadings shall be closed the case shall be deemed to be at issue and no replication or formal joinder of issue shall be required

Section 3 Pleas in abatement pleas of the general issue payment payment with leave set-off the bar of the statute of limitations and all other pleas are abolished Defences heretofore raised by these pleas shall be made in the affidavit of defence

Section 4 Demurrers are abolished Questions of law heretofore raised by demurrer shall be raised in the affidavit of defence as provided in section twenty

Section 5 Every pleading shall contain and contain only a statement in a concise and summary form of the material facts on which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence as the case may be but not the evidence by which they are to be proved or inferences or conclusions of law and shall be divided into paragraphs numbered consecutively each of which shall contain but one material allegation Every pleading shall have attached to it copies of all notes contracts book entries or a particular reference to the records of any court within the county in which the action is brought if any upon which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence as the case may be and a particular reference to such record or to the record of any deed or mortgage or other instrument of writing recorded in such county shall be sufficient in lieu of a copy thereof

Section 6 Every allegation of fact in the plaintiff's statement of claim or in the defendant's set-off or counter claim if not denied specifically or by necessary implication in the affidavit of defence or plaintiff's reply as the case may be shall be taken to be admitted except as against an infant a person of unsound mind or one sued in a representative capacity as provided in section seven and except as provided in section thirteen

Section 7 When the affidavit of defence or plaintiff's reply is made by an executor administrator guardian committee or other person sued in a representative capacity he need only state the facts he admits to be true and that he believes there is a just and legal defence to the remainder and the facts upon which he bases his belief

Section 8 It shall not be sufficient for a defendant in his affidavit of defence to deny generally the allegations of the statement of claim or for a plaintiff in his reply to to deny generally the allegations in a defence by way of counter-claim but each party shall answer specifically each allegation of fact of which he does not admit the truth except as provided in sections seven and thirteen

Section 9 The statement of claim shall be as brief as the nature of the case will admit In actions on contracts it shall state whether the contract was oral or in writing It shall be sworn to by the plaintiff or by some person having knowledge of the facts and if there be an attorney shall be signed by his attorney

Section 10 The statement of claim shall be endorsed as follows

"To the within defendant

"You are required to file an affidavit of defence to this statement within fifteen days from the service hereof the day of service to count as the first day"

This notice shall be followed by the name of the plaintiff's attorney or by his own name if he sues in person and an address within the county where all papers are to be served

Section 11 If the plaintiff avers that the defendant has received moneys as agent trustee or in any other capacity for which he is bound to account to the plaintiff or if the plaintiff is unable to state the exact amount due him by the defendant by reason of the defendant's failure to account to him the plaintiff may ask for an account

AFFIDAVIT OF DEFENCE

Section 12 The defendant shall file an affidavit of defence to the statement of claim within fifteen days from the day when the statement was served upon him the day of service to count as the first day The affidavit of defence shall be as brief as the nature of the case will admit It shall be sworn to by the defendant or some person having knowledge of the facts It shall be served upon the plaintiff or his attorney at the address for the service of papers indorsed on the statement of claim and shall be indorsed with the name of the defendant's attorney or of the defendant if he defends in person and an address within the county where all papers are to be served

Section 13 In actions of trespass the averments in the statement of the facts constituting the commission of the alleged tort and averments relating to damages claimed or their amount need not be answered or denied but such averments shall be deemed to be put in issue in all cases unless expressly admitted

Section 14 In actions of assumpsit a defendant may set off or set up by way of counter-claim against the claim of the plaintiff any right or claim for which an action of assumpsit would lie and a verdict may be rendered in his favor for the amount found to be due and judgment entered thereon. If in any case in which the defendant sets up a counter-claim the action of the plaintiff is discontinued dismissed or a voluntary non-suit suffered the counter-claim nevertheless may be proceeded with

PLAINTIFF'S REPLY

Section 15 When the defendant in his affidavit of defence sets up a set-off or counter-claim against the plaintiff the plaintiff within fifteen days from the day of service of the affidavit of defence upon him the day of service to count as the first day shall file an answer under oath which shall be called "Plaintiff's Reply" which shall be served upon the defendant or his attorney at the address for the service of papers indorsed on the affidavit of defence In such cases the affidavit of defence shall be indorsed as follows

"To the within plaintiff

"You are required to file a reply to the defendant's set-off (or counter-claim as the case may be) within fifteen days from the service hereof the day of service to count as the first day"

The set-off or counter-claim shall be regarded as the defendant's statement of claim and the plaintiff's reply as and affidavit of defence thereto

Section 16 Neither party shall be permitted at the trial to make any defence which is not set forth in the affidavit of defence or plaintiff's reply as the case may be except as provided in sections seven and thirteen

MOTION FOR JUDGMENT

Section 17 In actions of assumpsit the prothonotary may enter judgment for want of an affidavit of defence or for any amount admitted or not denied to be due The plaintiff may take a rule for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defence to the whole or any part of his claim and the court shall enter judgment or discharge the rule as justice may require When the defendant sets up a set-off or counter-claim he may move for judgment against the plaintiff for want of a reply or for want of a sufficient reply to the whole or any part of the set-off or counter-claim and the court may enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff or the defendant for such amount as shall be found due with leave to proceed for the balance

Section 18 In actions of trespass when the defendant fails to file an affidavit of defence within the required time the case shall be deemed to be at issue and may be ordered upon the trial list

Section 19 When the plaintiff asks for an account and moves for judgment for want of an affidavit of defence or for want of a sufficient affidavit of defence the court may enter an order for an account which may be enforced by attachment or otherwise and judgment may be entered for the amount shown to be due in favor of the plaintiff or the defendant

Section 20 The defendant in the affidavit of defence may raise any point of law and any point so raised may be set down for hearing and disposed of before trial If in the opinion of the court the decision of such point of law substantially disposes of the whole action or of any distinct part thereof the court may enter judgment for the defendant or make such other order therein as may be just

Section 21 The court upon motion or of its own motion may strike from the record a pleading which does not conform to the provisions of this act and may allow an amendment or a new pleading to be filed upon such terms as it may direct

Section 22 The court in its discretion upon motion and notice to the opposite party or his attorney may extend the time fixed by this act for the filing or service of any pleading

Section 23 The courts of common pleas shall make such rules as they deem advisable for the proper enforcement of this act

Section 24 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof are repealed

NAYS—6.

Garner,	Palmer,	Sones,	Vickerman,
	Sarig,	Trach,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmatve.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 70, entitled:

An Act to amend the second section of an act of Assembly entitled "An Act authorizing the bureau of health in cities of the first class to make and promulgate rules and regulations for the sanitary keeping of stables and other places in such cities where horses mules cows sheep goats or swine are kept and for the collecting storing and transportation of manure from such animals providing that no manure shall be collected or stored in any stable manure pit or other place without a permit or transported in violation of said rules and regulations making a violation of the act or of said rules and regulations a misdemeanor prescribing penalties therefor and repealing inconsistent acts" approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen so as to permit the deposit of manure on wharves and piers for shipment beyond the limits of such cities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CURRY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 6 , by striking out the word "bureau" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Bureau."

Amend section 1, line 6, by striking out the word "health" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Health."

Amend section 1, line 20, by striking out the word "bureau" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Bureau."

Amend section 1, line 20, by striking out the word "health" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Health."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection. The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was than agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 871, entitled:

An Act authorizing appointments of clerks and stenographers by district attorneys in certain counties and regulating their compensation out of the county treasury

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe this bill should be passed. I call your attention to section second of the bill,—in counties having a population of fifty thousand and upwards the district attorney may have the right to call in a stenographer and pay nine hundred dollars. In Bradford County we have a population of a little above fifty thousand. We have four terms a year and the district attorney only has on an average of about sixty bills of indictments during the entire year, about fifteen to twenty bills for each term. His salary is fifteen hundred dollars.

Now, so far as our county is concerned, we do not need the extra help of a stenographer for the district attorney. He is able to prepare all the bills of indictment which come before him and attend to all of the duties of his office inside of one week for each term. We never have required the help of a clerk and I do not believe we ever will. What I have said in regard to section second applies with equal force to section one of the act. There are many counties in the State which I take it do not require the assistance of a stenographer any more than we do in Bradford County, and I ask the members of the House that you vote down this bill. Our taxes are high enough already and the people of Bradford County and all of the counties of the State do not want a bill of nine hundred dollars added to the taxes of the county. This bill should be voted down.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, there is one feature of this bill that looks to me to be unsafe. In a general way I could approve this bill, but at the top of page two you will find that the district attorney in counties having no controller issues his certificate directly to the county treasurer, who shall pay the bill. It puts no check on that pay, and it eliminates the county commissioners who are the guardians of the people's moneys. That is one feature of the bill we should take into consideration.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was drafted at the instance of the District Attorneys' Association, which includes all the district attorneys of the Commonwealth. The compensation permitted to be paid to stenographers by the various district attorneys is graded in accordance with the population of the counties. It has been considered carefully by that District Attorneys Association, and they feel that it is an entirely reasonable compensation, particularly as in these modern days the method of doing legal business requires stenographic work and it cannot be done efficiently without such employment. The amounts prescribed for the district attorneys of the different counties are not compulsory. The district attorney is not required to appoint a stenographer, or to expend any particular amount. It is still left optional with him, and if he is economical and if the people of his county don't want him to make these expenditures, there is nothing in the act which will compel him to do so. But where the work requires it and the necessities of the case are such that stenographic help should be employed, he has the authority to do it and the county commissioners are then compelled to pay the bill. The amounts are not exorbitant and I understand, from a great many district attorneys, that they think it is a fair and reasonable amount to be allowed them in their work.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, in the first section of this bill in line 17, the bills reads "In counties having no controller the certificate shall be issued by the district attorney directed to the county treasurer who shall pay it according to law." It seems to me that that ought to be changed so that the county commissioners would have something to say as to the payment of this salary. Sending it directly to the county treasurer from the controller does not seem to be quite fair to the county commissioners. It ought to be with the consent of the county commissioners and I think that ought to be changed. I, therefore, offer that as an amendment. However, I do not have it in writing. I would suggest that the bill be sent back to the committee for amendment.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I have not been able to hear what the gentleman has said.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I have just been informed by some of my friends here that the gentleman from Dauphin suggests an amendment. As I could not hear what he was saying, I would like to be informed what his motion is.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the gentleman from Chester did not understand my suggestion or my proposed amendment. It says here in this first section of this bill that in certain counties "the district attorney shall draw his warrant directly to the county treasurer for payment." I suggest that that ought to be to the county commissioners and from the county commissioners to the county treasurer. The county commissioners are entirely ignored and that does not seem to me to be right.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that the bill requires that the stenographers bills be presented to the county controller and it is only in counties who have no controllers that the certificate goes directly to the treasurer to be paid.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, that is my argument that the bill should go to the county commissioners and from the county commissioners to the county controller. In other words, the county commissioners ought not to be ignored in payment of this salary. I say that the county commissioners should have some information or something to say on the payment of the alary of the stenographer in counties where there is no controller.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Dauphin as to the question he raises, I see no reason why the bills should be presented to the commissioners at all, because the payment is in the nature of a salary and the amount is prescribed by the act and practically it is a salary for the stenographer and is so ordered. It seems to me that it is proper to pay that direct by the county treasurer on the district atorney's cerificate and the judgment or the audit of the commissioners could not effect it or improve it in any manner.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar for the present.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly satisfied to have this bill go on the postponed calendar if the author will agree to notify the members of the House when he is going to call it up.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, my purpose is to call this bill up on next Tuesday. The reason I am asking for the postponement at present is this; there are a number of members who are interested in this bill both for and against who are absent and in consideration of that fact I am requesting that the bill be placed on postponed calendar for the purpose of calling it up next Tuesday.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 306, entitled:

An Act validating certain elections of counties cities boroughs townships school districts and other incorporated districts held pursuant to the provisions of an act approved the twentieth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four entitled "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof" and the amendments thereto and validating bonds issued or authorized to be issued in pursuance of such elections

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LEE SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 20 by inserting after the word "indebtedness" the words "or did not in the words of the act and its supplements aforesaid, authorizing such increase, signify their desire for such increase of indebtedness."

Amend section 1, line 21 by inserting after the word "commissioners" the words "or were not printed on the official ballot after the list of candidates, but were printed on separate ballots."

Amend section 1, line 25 by inserting after the word "election" the words "and notwithstanding any mistake in stating the amount of percentage of the existing debt or the percentage of the proposed increase."

Amend title, line 8, by inserting a double quote after the word "thereof"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 662, entitled:

An Act to protect all persons in their equal rights regardless of race color or creed in places of public accommodation entertainment or amusement and providing penalty for violation of the same

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the importance of this bill and in order to give the members of the House ample time for its consideration, I now move that this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1029, entitled:

An Act conferring authority on street passenger railway companies and motor power or other companies lawfully operating lines of street passenger railways to own lease and operate lines of self-propelled omnibuses in connection with their street railway systems

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 318, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine butterine and other similar products when colored in imitation of yellow butter to provide for license fees to be paid by manufacturers wholesale and retail dealers and by proprietors of hotels restaurants dining-rooms and boarding houses for the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine butterine or other similar products not colored in the imitation of yellow butter to provide for license fees to be paid and sale of oleomargarine butterine or other similar products not colored in imitiation of yellow butter and prevent and punish fraud and deception in such manufacture and sale as an imitation butter and to prescribe penalties and punishment for violations of this act and the means and the method of procedure for its enforcement and regulate certain matters of evidence in such procedure"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that many members are absent who are favorable to this bill, and also those who are opposed to it, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 881 (Senate Bill No. 338), entitled:

An Act requiring and regulating the declaring and posting of the vote at election districts at a primary election

And said bill having been read three times at length, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to give the purpose of this bill, having a similar bill before the House. It seems that in the general election law, or the primary law of some time back, they forgot to specify in that act the posting of the returns of the primaries, and all that this bill calls for is to post the returns at the primaries, the same as they do at the general election.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Mr. WHITAKER in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 974 (Senate Bill No. 45), entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled "An Act authorizing the board of county commissioners of the several counties of the State to appropriate money for co-operative agricultural extension work for the purpose of improving and developing the agricultural resources of the proper counties"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say in the beginning that I am a friend of State College. I am a graduate of State College, but I want to call your attention to this act, what it provides for and ask you to defeat it. Two years ago an act was passed authorizing the County Commissioners to appropriate funds for the co-operative extension work. You gentlemen from the rural districts know the work in agricultural extension that is now being done by State College. As I said before the bill was passed two years ago, which authorized the county commissioners to appropriate certain funds to help in this work.

Now, this bill that is before us this morning is mandatory. It says that the county commissioners, upon the petition of three hundred voters and upon the written request of the Pennsylvania State College, must appropriate this money for this work. Now, gentlemen, I think we all agree that the work State College is doing is a good work, a splendid work, but I do not think that there is any right or principle in a measure which can compel the commissioners of a county, upon a very small demand of the inhabitants of the county,—three hundred—and upon the request of Stafe College, to appropriate money to co-operate in this work. The county commissioners know whether or not the county can afford to do it. The county commissioners know what the county needs. It would not be fair to the commissioners, nor to the county, nor, on the other hand, to the College, to make a county appropriate money for work when it really did not want it at that time or it was not expedient to have it at that time. I do not think it is proper for this Legislature to force local taxation. If there is sufficient sentiment in the county, if there are enough people in the county that really want the extension work done in that county, I do not believe there would be any trouble getting the county commissioners to appropriate the money for the work, and there certainly would not be any trouble to get the State College authorities to send their men there to do the work. This bill would weaken, rather than help the work. Signers could easily be obtained to a petition by people who had absolutely no interest in it one way or the other. We all know it is the simplest thing in the world to get signers to any sort of a petition and when we come to do the work the people who had made the demand, the signers, had no responsibility and would probably take no interest in the work and the very object we are striving for at State College would fail.

The very fact that a community must get together and make its financial agreement, brings about a sentiment and a help-along spirit that cannot be obtained in any other way. And furthermore, no institution, whether it is the State College, or whether it is an industrial school, or whether it is a university, has any right to compel local taxation, and that is exactly what is provided, what would be done in this bill, as soon as State College would write and ask to do this work.

It is a dangerous precedent to establish and one that ought to be stopped in its inception. The work is being done by State College in a dozen counties,—fourteen to be exact—in every one of which the commissioners are contributing under the authorization law passed by the last Legislature. Arrangements are being completed for starting the work in eight additional counties, in which the commissioners will also contribute voluntarily. If one-third of the counties of the State contribute under a civil act authorizing them to do so, and have done that in two years, isn't it reasonable to suppose that in a few years more practically all of the counties which are in any way interested in agriculture, will be participating in this work. For that reason I say this bill is absolutely unnecessary, and furthermore I say this as a friend of State College, that a bill of this sort, forcing the people of a county to do something they might not want to do is going to make enemies for State College, rather than friends.

This is a State institution and should be taken care of by the State in a proper way in the future as it has been taken care of by the State in the past. We expect to be taken care of in the future but we don't want to put ourselves in the position of compelling the counties to take care of us when we are not asking for any help. Gentlemen, in some counties where the commissioners don't understand the purpose of the act of two years ago and don't understand the work that the State College was doing, there was at first some opposition, but as soon as this was explained and the commissioners understood what the College proposed to do, in practically all the cases there was no further trouble. Gentlemen, as a friend of State College, I am going to ask you to vote this bill down.

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, I had hoped that this bill would pass this House without any opposition. I want to say to you, gentlemen of the House, that I come from a section of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that is represented by the agricultural interests. I am here to represent those people and I am here to vote and work for the best interests of not only the agricultural people of my county but the people all over this great State. I will say to you, gentlemen, that I am greatly surprised at the gentleman coming from the City of Philadelphia who knows nothing about the interests, the agricultural interests, practically, of this great State that will stand before you and argue and oppose a bill that, in a great measure, is one of the best bills that has come before this House in the interests of the agricultural people of this State. He says he feels that State College should not be imposed upon. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that State College is receiving her help from this House; State College today is being appropriated a fund which is being used in building up the great agricultural college of this State. I want to say to you that the bill is mandatory, the authority coming from the people of the State of Pennsylvania, to place a fund at the disposal of that Board, which will enable it to carry on their affairs and will permit extension. I want to ask you gentlemen, you who are interested in agriculture; you who come here and you who are depending today upon the farmer; you who depend upon the farm for a living and have the interests of this institution at heart, I ask you for that reason, gentlemen of this House, I ask you to support this bill.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I submit that the gentleman who has just finished speaking has totally misunderstood my position. I will repeat again that I am a friend of the Pennsylvania State College; that I am a graduate of State College and I am in very close touch with the work they are doing. While we believe that the work which State College does is the best thing possible for the State and for the rural communities, I personally, don't believe that any county in this State should be placed in a position of having to accept this work willy nilly. If there is a demand in any county for this extension work, there is a manner provided by law by which the work can be brought about in that county. I don't believe any bill which compels the counties to contribute money to an institution, even though it be the Pennsylvania State College, is a just bill.

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to weary this House any further, but I want to say to you that Senator Stewart, my colleague, from my county, is in a position to know as he received a letter from State College endorsing this bill and asking that it may be passed. I am going to leave it to the gentlemen of this House to vote upon this measure and I know the facts coming direct from State College are that they are in favor of this measure.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, the objection that I see to this bill, gentlemen, is that in the county of Dauphin, which I represent, which includes the city of Harrisburg, under this bill three hundred voters of the city of Harrisburg might compel the payment of this money and the appointment of this instructor, or whatever he is called, and the farmers of this county would know nothing about it. I say that is not quite fair; if these men are all farmers, then I have no objection to the bill but it ought to be designated in this bill who shall say. Now, any three hundred electors in a large city can force this on the farmers and they know nothing about it. I say this bill ought to be amended so that the electors who have the say will all be farmers. That is the objection I have to it and I will vote against the bill for that reason.

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I represent a farming community and belong to several farming organizations and I agree perfectly with my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Forster. I don't think that this bill should go through the House. I think he has presented the matter in a way so that you can all understand it; I think he is correct and I hope that the farming interests of this House will vote against the bill. But there is one point that he has not brought out: That there are a number of counties in this state with a population of less than forty thousand inhabitants; I cannot see how those counties could afford to do anything of that kind.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I represent one of the best agricultural districts of the State of Pennsylvania. York county, agriculturally speaking, stands second to Lancaster county in the State of Pennsylvania and is the third best agricultural county in the United States. We do not have this bureau and I cannot say that we desire to have it forced upon us. It seems to me that every public servant is guided by the sentiment of his people and they have certainly had sufficient opportunity in the agricultural districts to know whether this thing is desired or not. I believe that where it is desired it should be obtainable, and it is obtainable, but I don't believe that it should be forced upon us. I, therefore, don't see, consistently, how I can support this measure and I most certainly shall vote "No."

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this bill is wrong in principle. We all realize that unless work of the character proposed in this act is sufficiently supported by public sentiment it will be ineffective. An Authorization measure was passed two years ago that enables county commissioners to appropriate a sum not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars. During this try-out period of two years, twelve counties have taken advantage of the provisions of that bill and in eight additional counties bureaus are in process of formation. That means that up to this time twenty counties of this State will have put bureaus in operation. Now, the residents of all the counties are sufficiently appreciative that if these twenty counties clearly demonstrated that the results of this bureau work pay that their county commissioners have done good business when they made this appropriation and they are not going to hang back. They are going to make these appropriations, but when you make it mandatory for the commissioners of all the counties of the State irrespective of the sentiment in those counties to appropriate a sum of from one thousand to three thousand dollars, more than likely there will be objections in many counties, for we all know how easy it is to get out a petition signed by three hundred taxables and as soon as that petition is sent in to State College they will feel it incumbent upon themselves to order the county to make this appropriation. What is the sense of the county commissioners being compelled to make that appropriation for this work unless the work is being supported by popular sentiment, to such an extent as to secure such results as will reflect credit upon the work? In addition to that, if that would be the outcome of it, you can readily see how every worthy college would lose its prestige in such counties and it would lessen the influence for good that that institution now possesses. I believe that the Authorization Act of two years ago is sufficient, for the time being, and that this bill should not be passed.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, by request of the sponsor who is absent, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 774, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of certain county officers in counties containing more than one hundred and fifty thousand and less than two hundred thousand inhabitants

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OAKS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I know words has been passed around to defeat this bill. Prior to the time our county reached a population of one hundred and fifty thousand, we paid our county commissioners fifteen hundred dollars. After the census of 1910, we found that we had passed the hundred and fifty thousand mark and under the provisions of the old act we were compelled to pay our county commissioners four thousand dollars. The same act also created the office of county controller at a salary of four thousand dollars, a deputy at a salary of eighteen hundred dollars, also a stenographer at seven twenty. It does seem to me that this is piling it up rather fast; that would be an advance of about a hundred and eighty per cent. You never hear of any corporation advancing a salary one hundred and eighty per cent. notwithstanding the fact that he was receiving good wages before. When we paid our county commissioners fifteen hundred dollars, it cost our county forty-five hundred dollars per year. Today we passed the one and fifty thousand mark it costs our county eighteen thousand five hundred dollars. Quite a little increase. Under the provisions of this bill it would cost our county twelve thousand five hundred dollars.

I have a resolution here that I want to read. This resolution came to me unsolicited.

"At a regular meeting of Cambridge Grange No. 1116 held March 13th, 1915, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, we deplore the tendency of the times to maintain or increase salaries and all public and private expenditures. As the earnings of the average taxpayer are limited.

"Resolved, That we endorse Assemblyman Oaks Bill to reduce the salaries of county commissioners and controller to twenty-five hundred dollars per year and surveyor to one hundred dollars, and

"Resolved, That we favor also a reduction of the salary of sheriff, treasurer, prothonotary and recorder to eight dollars per day and poor director and tipstaves to six hundred dollars per year, and ask our representative to vote and work for the same."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I believe that it is unanimous, with the exception of a few politicians in our county to have the salaries reduced from four thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars per year for our county commissioners. I therefore ask the members of this House kindly and most respectfully to support this bill.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, it is such a novelty for a bill to reduce salaries rather than raise them that I am going to vote for it and stand by the taxpayers with one vote at least.

Mr. ROTHENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I think this is a very unfair bill, it reduces the salaries of some officials who do the work of the county and those who have no work to do it does not reduce. Now, gentlemen of the House, I hope you will vote this bill down.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, this bill looks to me as though perhaps there was some personal misunderstanding in Cambria county. I believe that this is more a personal matter than a matter of reducing salaries, because I cannot understand why it is that the salaries of the county controller and the salary of the county commissioners would be reduced, when the officials who get a salary higher than they, should be left alone. If we want to begin reducing salaries—I am not in favor of reducing them nor am I in favor of increasing them—but if we do wish to start reducing salaries I think we should start at the top and reduce the salaries of those who get more than the county controller and the county commissioners. I do not think it is right to reduce the salaries of the men who do the real work of the county. We all know that there is a heavy responsibility upon the county commissioners, that they are really the watch dogs of the treasury. They are the men who take care of the people's money, and so does the controller. I don't think it is fair to go to work and reduce their salaries, and let the salaries of the man higher up and who receive more than they do stand as they are. It looks to me as though there was some selfish purpose and some selfish interest in this bill. I do not believe that it is the real desire of the sponsor of this bill to reduce it merely for the sake of saving dollars for the taxpayer.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, when I arose before I arose to ask unanimous consent to consider at this time a bill out of order, which bill I have no personal interest in whatsoever. The bill is No. 941 and I ask to have the bill considered at this time because I will be absent tomorrow and it is very important that this bill, which is an Attorney General bill, should be passed at this time. It is important that it be passed this week if possible, and I therefore ask unanimous consent to consider it at this time, if the House is agreeable.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to consider at this time House Bill No. 941 out of order? The Chair hears no objection.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 941, as follows:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Palmer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what effect this bill has on the barbers already practicing?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, no effect at all. They simply have to establish the fact that they are practicing at the barber trade and they will obtain a license under this bill.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, April 1st, 1915.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER, (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that Thou dost reign in the heavens and in the earth. Righteousness and judgment are the habitations of Thy throne. We thank Thee for the gift of Thine only begotten son, whose birth was foretold by the prophets and announced by the angels; whose life and teachings have revolutionized the thought of the world; whose deeds have been incorporated in Christian civilization and have built the great Christian church; whose death has been for the redemption of the world; whose resurrection was his mastership over death and the grave; he is truly the wonderful, the counsellor, the mighty God, the everlasting father, the prince of peace, and unto Him who hath loved us and washed us in his own blood and has made us kings and priests unto God, the glory and power and dominion, for ever and ever. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the journal of yesterday's proceedings.

RESOLUTION NO. 13.

Mr. H. I. WILSON called up Resolution No. 13, File Folio 3465, which was read as follows:

Whereas Under the provisions of an act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven popularly known as the Sproul Bill approximately eight thousand five hundred miles of State Highways were provided for as the beginning of a State highway system covering substantially the main highways of the State and

Whereas By two amendments thereto enacted at the session of one thousand nine hundred thirteen approximately fifteen hundred miles additional State highway were added to the existing State highway system such additional highways to be taken over on June fifteen one thousand nine hundred fifteen and

Whereas Prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifteen the State Highway Department was handicapped in the administration of the State highway system by inability to use funds appropriated therefor and

Whereas Owing to the failure of the people to approve the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania whereby the sum of fifty million dollars was to be available for the use of the highways of Pennsylvania the State Highway Department was unable to secure sufficient funds to carry out the plan already outlined and

Whereas Throughout the length and breadth of Pennsylvania there have been and are now at the present time going on earnest discussions as to the highway policy that Pennsylvania should adopt in order to bring herself abreast with her sister States in constructing and maintaining a modern and efficient system of highways and

Whereas Time is going on and there is no evidence to the public that the General Assembly has taken any action or devised any comprehensive policy looking to a proper State highway system and

Whereas If work is not commenced soon upon the public highways by the State Highway Department much valuable time will be lost much money wasted and the agricultural and other interests of the State retarded and injured and

Whereas At the present time approximately the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars is available for use on the State highway system in the hands of the State Highway Department for purposes of repair and upkeep therefore

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania That it is the sense of this House that the entire mileage of the State highway system as originally outlined in the Sproul Road Bill and as subsequently increased by the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred thirteen be kept intact as a nucleus for a State highway policy and system and that the State Highway Department is directed to proceed at the earliest possible date in the actual work of repair and maintenance of the various roads comprising the State highway system and be it further resolved

That in the expenditure of the various sums of money coming into the hands of the State Highway Department available for road or repair purposes that the State Highway Department endeavor to put as much of the money in actual constructive and repair work as the needs of the road require

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I am happy to announce that the subject matter covered by this resolution appears to be bearing fruit. There is no disposition by myself to embarrass any member or any person in this State. The resolution was offered in good faith and seemed to me a very necessary act to be passed upon by this House, but inasmuch as we have assurances from the right direction that this subject matter will have prompt attention and is being given prompt attention, I wish now to reiterate the statements made in the resolution and the policy endeavored to be enunciated therein by requesting—by moving that this House refer this resolution to the Committee on Public Highways.

Mr. W. H. WILSON, Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House refer the resolution to the Committee on Public Roads?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this matter, I would like to say just a few words: It is along this line; there is a great deal of good in this resolution and if it comes to the Pubic Roads Committee it will be properly treated there, but I want to call the attention of the House to the conditions of this road matter which it seems to me we ought to awaken to. That is this, we are drawing to a close, perhaps adjournment is only a month off and so far as I can see there is very little being done in this Legislature, so far, towards raising additional revenue for the Commonwealth, and if I am not mistaken, gentlemen, unless some move is made in this direction at once, unless we do have some revenue bills out of the Ways and Means Committee and passed by this Legislature and put upon the Statute Books of this State, we are going to find ourselves at the close of the session in almost the same condition that we have been in the past, session after session, and whatever road legislation we may put through will be handicapped for lack of money.

The vital thing in this whole road problem in Pennsylvania to-day is the matter of finance, of funds with which to build roads. We cannot build roads out of papers or newspapers or wind; it takes cash. Unless the Ways and Means Committee takes action and I don't care, gentlemen, to criticize the Ways and Means Committee, but action must be taken and it does not seem to me that the Ways and Means Committee is giving us the revenue bills which they should provide not only to build up the road system of the State but for the public schools. Mr. Speaker, we know what is necessary in the way of a road appropriation for which we should have at least fifteen million dollars in an appropriation besides twenty million dollars of an appropriation for schools. In addition to the financial support for all the expenses of government, there should be revenue bills passed to provide at least ten millions of dollars additional revenue, in order to properly take care of the roads and schools and the various other institutions of the State.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, this road matter is one of the vital propositions before this session. Both the great parties last fall in the campaign emphasized very forcibly the necessity for taking care of the public highways. Both parties had the confidence of the people in believing that the public highways would be taken care of. Now, at this time, it would be a serious mistake to drop any of the roads that have already been provided for. As a member of the Highway Committee, I do not know whether it would be wise to add any additional roads or not, but I do feel that it would be a betrayal of the people of this Commonwealth for us to drop one mile of any of the roads that have been provided for under the Sproul Act or the additional act of 1913. For that reason I firmly believe that we cannot afford to permit one mile of it to be dropped and I do believe that the support of the resolution introduced by the gentleman from Jefferson should prevail and that we should stand by the promises made by the parties in the past and hold the confidence of the people on this issue.

Mr. OAKS. Mr. Speaker, I had as my guest last night Dr. Summerville from our county who is President of the Board of Supervisors and he had with him resolutions passed at the last board meeting advocating a half mill tax for a special fund for road building purposes. He was very desirous to see Mr. Jones but we could not locate him last night. He made a special trip here in order to see whether this resolution might not have some effect upon this House.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, this question of financing the State, in order to make good roads throughout this Commonwealth, was taken up in the session of 1913. I was very much interested in that legislation in regard to the fifty million dollar bond issue. While I come from a county which would not receive one penny of that fifty million dollar bond issue for good roads, yet I was very much interested in it and desired to see it pass so that it should come before the people of this great Commonwealth and let the people who were interested in country roads and anxious for the betterment of the roads throughout the State vote on the subject and have a fund that would make the roads of Pennsylvania superior to any other roads in this great country. I want to say to you, gentlemen, of this House, after the earnest efforts made on behalf of the House of 1911 and 1913 in order to put this constitutional amendment before the people of this Commonwealth, in the November election when it came up to a vote the people, the country people, who would be directly benefitted by this fifty million dollar bond issue took the impression given to them that it would be used by certain people for certain other purposes and they defeated that constitutional amendment. My district and my county which would not have received one penny of that fifty million dollars bond issue intended for the country roads gave a majority of over sixty thousand for that constitutional amendment. It is the fault of the country members to-day if they have not money sufficient to repair and fix the country roads and put them in a condition superior to the roads in any state in this country. It is the fault of those people for permitting themselves to have falsely impressed upon their minds that somebody was going to spend that money in a manner that would not be satisfactory or that would not be judicially spent or spent in the interests of the farmers of our Commonwealth. The whole responsibility of it is up to them for not having improved country roads, and place the State Highway in a position that we should be proud of, for the people who would reap the benefits of it are our country members.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House the gentleman from Susquehanna has referred to the Committee on Ways and Means in reference to revenues for road building and other matters. I wish to say in the absence of the Chairman, that at our last meeting we passed out some bills giving a couple of million dollars revenue, and that there are bills in the committee which will come before us to be acted upon within the next week, and it is expected that they will be put out before the House for your consideration. They are revenue bills and some of them, I think will come before you for your consideration in a very brief period of time.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this seems to be a sort of a round-table affair concerning the road problem I want to call your attention to one point mentioned—The history of the bonds. Those who were here in the last session will recall that a bill was passed undertaking to provide for the distribution of Highway money among the townships. The bill was thoroughly impracticable in the shape it was, but nevertheless it passed the House, I do not believe because they thoroughly approved of it, but we all believed in more definite legislation so that every county would feel that they were to get their just share of any appropriation that should be made. At that time I gave the matter some consideration and prepared a bill that I thought was a better one than that, which, however, could not be adopted. But I just want to call the attention of the members who were here, and interested, to the bill I introduced on Tuesday of this week undertaking to meet some of the criticisms then made. I would like to say to the Members of the House that I would like to have them look it over as soon as it is printed.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

In addition to the annual report herein required each society shall annually report to the Commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on December thirty-first last preceding excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current expenses provided the first report of valuation shall be made as of December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifteen Such report of valuation shall show as contingent liabilities the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation less such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies and as contingent assets the present mid-year value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected At the option of any society in lieu of the above valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided less such portion thereof as may be assumed by other associations or companies and said net value when computed in case of monthly contributions may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years

Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary or at the request and expense of the society verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home state of the society and shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates except for disability benefits shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality as adopted by the National Fraternal Congress August twenty-third one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine or at the option of the society any higher table or at its option it may use a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than four per centum per annum Each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contributions for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefit and expense funds Provided That where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required

The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities

Beginning with the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen a report of such valuaton shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June first of each year or in lieu thereof may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the society The laws of such society shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws additional or increased rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency and such laws may provide that upon the written application or consent of the member his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by the valuation with interest not exceeding six per centum per annum

Secton 23b In lieu of the requirements of section twenty-three any society may value its certificates on a basis herein designated "accumulation basis" by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the losses for each year herein designated "cost of insurance" and carrying the balance if any to his credit The charge for the cost of insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this Commonwealth and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year which shall be the amount payable at death less the credit to the member Except as specifically provided in its articles or laws or contracts no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit If after the first valuation any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit including the contribution for the year the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses and if the credit at the time any benefit becomes payable during the lifetime of the member including any available funds does not equal such benefit the contribution to be made by him or on his behalf shall be increased by the difference Any such excess shares of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose

Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained and on such transfer shall be entitled to make such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society

Certificates issued rerated or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserve to mature such certificates upon assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this Commonwealth shall be valued on such basis herein designated the "Tabular Basis" provided that if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificates the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis

Whenever in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year the deficiency shall be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied to the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws

If the laws of the society so provide the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if in an independent society and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with the assets of other classes of the society

A table showing the rates being paid by and the credits to individual members at each age and year of entry and showing opposite each credit the tabular reserve required on the whole life or other plan of insurance specified in the contract according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this Commonwealth and adopted by the society shall be filed by the society with each annual report and also be furnished to each member before July first of each year

In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the data aforesaid for such member and giving the tabular rates and tabular reserve and level rate required for a transfer carrying out the plan of insurance specified in the contract No table or statement need be made or furnished where the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis

For this purpose individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as any society may provide by or pursuant to its laws nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner as expressed in the contract and its laws nor as making any such reserve or credits a liability in determining the legal solvency of the society

Section 24 The Insurance Commissioner or any person or persons he may appoint shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any domestic society He may employ assistants for the purpose of such examination and he or any person he may appoint shall have free access to all the books papers and documents that relate to the business of the society and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers agents and employes or other persons in relation to the affairs transactions and conditions of the society

Whenever after examination the Insurance Commissioner is satisfied that any domestic society has failed to comply with any provisions of this act or is exceeding its powers or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith or is transacting business fraudulently or whenever any domestic society after the existence of one year or more shall have a membership of less than four hundred (or shall determine to discontinue business) he may present the facts relating thereto to the Attorney General who shall if he deem the circumstances warrant proceed in the manner prescribed by the act of June first nineteen hundred and eleven for the liquidation of insolvent or delinquent companies orders or associations transacting any class of insurance

No such proceedings shall be commenced by the Attorney General against any such society until after notice has been duly served on the chief executive officers of the society and a reasonable opportunity given to it on a date to be named in said notice to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced

Section 25 No application for injunction against or proceedings for the dissolution of or the appointment of a receiver for any domestic society or branch thereof shall be entertained by any court of this Commonwealth unless the same is made by the Attorney General

Section 26 The Insurance Commissioner or any person or persons whom he may appoint may examine any foreign society transacting or applying for admission to transact business in this Commonwealth The said Insurance Commissioner may employ assistants and he or any person he may appoint shall have free access to all the books papers and documents that relate to the business of the society and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers agents and employes and other persons in relation to the affairs transactions and condition of the society He may in his discretion accept in lieu of such examination the examination of the Insurance Department of the state territory district province or country where such society is organized The actual expenses of examiners making any such examination shall be paid by the society upon statement furnished by the Insurance Commissioner

If any such society or its officers refuse to submit to such examination or to comply with the provisions of the section relative thereto the authority of such society to write new business in this Commonwealth shall be suspended or license refused until satisfactory evidence is furnished the Insurance Commissioner relating to the condition and affairs of the society and during such suspension the society shall not write new business in this Commonwealth

Section 27 Pending during or after an examination or investigation of any such society either domestic or foreign the Insurance Commissioner shall make public no financial statement report or finding nor shall he permit to become public any financial statement report or finding effecting the status standing or rights of any such society until a copy thereof shall have been served upon such society at its home office nor until such society shall have been afforded a reasonable opportunity to answer any such financial statement report or finding and to make such showing in connection therewith as it may desire

Section 28 When the Insurance Commissioner on investigation is satisfied that any foreign society transacting business under this act has exceeded its powers or has failed to comply with any provisions of this act or is conducting business fraudulently or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith he shall notify the society of his findings and state in writing the grounds of his dissatisfaction and after reasonable notice require said society on a date named to show cause why its license should not be revoked If on the date named in said notice such objections have not been removed to the satisfaction of the said Insurance Commissioner or the society does not present good and sufficient reasons why its authority to transact business in this Commonwealth should not at that time be revoked he may revoke the authority of the society to continue business in this Commonwealth

Section 29 Every decision order or ruling of the Insurance Commissioner under the provisions of this act shall be reduced to writing and filed in his office and a copy thereof together with a statement of his reasons therefor furnished to the officers of each society interested therein Every such decision order or ruling shall be reviewable by any court of competent jurisdiction by appeal or other proceeding for review and such appeal or other proceeding for review shall be a supersedeas and in every such case the said decision order or ruling of the Insurance Commissioner shall be suspended and abide the final determination of the appeal or other proceeding for review

Section 30 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to affect or apply to grand or subordinate lodges of Masons Odd Fellows or Knights of Pythias exclusive of the Insurance Department of the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias and the Junior Order of United American Mechanics (exclusive of the Beneficiary Degree of Insurance Branch of the National Council Junior Order United American Mechanics) or societies which limit their membership to any one hazardous occupation nor to similar societies which do not issue insurance certificates nor any domestic order or association now doing business in this Commonwealth which reinsures all of its Pennsylvania risks in a domestic life insurance company authorized to do business in this Commonwealth nor to an association of local lodges of a society now doing business in this Commonwealth which provide death benefits not exceeding five hundred dollars to any one person or disability benefits not exceeding three hundred dollars in any one year to any one person or both nor to any contracts of reinsurance business on such plan in this Commonwealth nor to domestic societies which limit their membership to the employes of a particular city or town designated firm business house or corporation nor to domestic lodges orders or associations of a purely religious charitable and benevolent description which do not provide for a death benefit of more than one hundred dollars or for disability benefits of more than one hundred and fifty dollars to any one person in any one year Provided however that nothing in that part of section twenty-three beginning with the words "In additional to the annual report" and ending with the words "Not exceeding six per centum per annum" at the end of said section twenty-three and none of section twenty-three shall affect or apply to any corporation society order or voluntary association which was prior to January one one thousand nine hundred and fifteen organized and doing business in this Commonwealth on the lodge system as provided for in section two of this article and which does not issue death or disability benefit certificates in a sum exceeding five hundred dollars or both to any one member and whose membership is confined and limited exclusively to persons of one particular faith The Insurance Commissioner may require from any society such information as will enable him to determine whether such society is exempt from the provisions of this act

Any fraternal benefit society heretofore organized and incorporated and operating within the definition set forth in sections one two and three of this act providing for benefits in case of death or disability resulting solely from accidents but which does not obligate itself to pay death or sick benefits may be licensed under the provisions of this act and shall have all the privileges and shall be subject to all the provisions and regulations of this act except that the provisions of this act requiring medical examinations valuations of benefit certificates and that the certificate shall specify the amount of benefits shall not apply to such society

Beneficial societies other than those specifically exempted herein without ritualistic work or a representative form of government transacting any class of insurance shall not be required to comply with this act but all such societies or associations shall on and after the passage of this act file with the Insurance Commissioner copies of their charter constitution and laws and annually thereafter make a report in such form as the Commissioner may require showing their condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December preceding and of their transactions for the year and the Commissioner may at any time make an examination of the books and accounts of any such society

And whenever he is satisfied that any such association has not on hand sufficient funds to meet its outstanding obligations to take the necessary proceedings to liquidate its affairs

Section 31 Every fraternal society organized or operating under this act is hereby declared to be a charitable and benevolent institution and all of its funds shall be exempt from all and every state county district municipal and school tax other than taxes on real estate and office equipment

Section 32 Any person officer member or examining physician of any society authorized to do business under this act who shall knowingly or wilfully make any false or fraudulent statement or representation in or with reference to any application for membership or for the purpose of obtaining money from or benefit in any society transacting business under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year or both in the discretion of the court and any person who shall wilfully make a false statement of any material fact or thing in a sworn statement as to the death or disability of a certificate holder in any such society for the purpose of procuring payment of a benefit named in the certificate of such holder and any person who shall wilfully make any false statement in any verified report or declaration under oath required or authorized by this act shall be guilty of perjury and shall be proceeded against and punished as provided by the statutes of this Commonwealth in relation to the crime of perjury

Any person who shall solicit membership for or in any manner assist in procuring membership in any fraternal benefit society not licensed to do business in this Commonwealth or who shall solicit membership for or in any manner assist in procuring membership in any such society not authorized as herein provided to do business as herein defined in this Commonwealth shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars

Any society or any officer agent or employe thereof neglecting or refusing to comply with or violating any of the provisions of this act the penalty for which neglect refusal or violation is not specified in this section shall be fined not exceeding two hundred dollars upon conviction thereof

to INVESTIGATE COLD STORAGE.

MARCH, 1915.

To the General Assembly of Pennsylvania:—

We have the honor to submit the following report of our findings, in accordance with the resolution of 1913 creating this Commission.

CHARLES H. KLINE, Chairman.
AUGUSTUS F. DAIX, Jr.,
J. HARRY MORGAN,
THOMAS F. McNICHOL,
A. W. MITCHELL,
WILLIAM D. WALTON,

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION

Introduction.

The Pennsylvania Legislative Commission to Investigate Cold Storage was created by the Act of 1913. As set forth in the resolution creating the Commission, the object of the investigation is to report to the Legislature of 1915 all matters pertaining to cold storage and the preservation of food products, the length of time goods shall remain under refrigeration or cold storage, and all facts relating to the branding and sale of such articles.

Meetings were held in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and Harrisburg. The Commission visited New York, took testimony there as to the working of the cold storage law enacted in that State a few years ago and inquired into the effect of the Pennsylvania Cold Storage law upon the New York trade.

In its investigation, the Commission was greatly aided by Secretary of the Agriculture Houston, whose Department is vitally interested in the study of cold storage. Secretary Houston delegated Dr. Mary Pennington, Chief of Food Research Laboratory, Bureau of Chemistry, Department of Agriculture, to appear before the Commission. Her views on cold storage and refrigeration generally were very helpful to the Commission. She is regarded as the Country's leading expert on the subject, and presented facts that proved of much aid to the Commission in its deliberations.

The Secretary of the Commission conferred with a number of states that have enacted cold storage laws, and also with Canada, where the business of refrigeration of food is partly vested in the Government.

Every document pertaining to the subject at hand has been made use of in the preparation of this report. The facts brought out in the extended hearing before the United States Senate Committee on Manufactures in 1911 and 1912 have also been studied.

The hearings given by the Commission have been public, and preceding each session the Secretary, on behalf of the Commission, extended an investigation through the public press to all persons interested in the subject to appear and express their views.

THE COMMISSION

Charles H. Kline, Chairman.

RESOLUTION CREATING PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE COLD STORAGE.

RESOLUTION.

A concurrent resolution for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report to the next session of the Legislature all matters pertaining to cold storage and the preservation of food products, and the length of time goods shall remain under refrigeration or cold storage, and to the branding and sale of such articles, and making an appropriation to meet the expenses of said commission.

Whereas, There has been and is considerable agitation regarding cold storage and the preservation of food products, as well as the length of time that goods shall remain under refrigeration or cold storage, and the proper branding and sale of such articles; and

Whereas, It is of the utmost importance that a thorough and complete investigation and study of the whole matter of refrigeration and cold storage should be made at the present time, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That a committee of six members of the General Assembly be appointed—three to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and three by the Speaker of the House of Representatives—to investigate, and to report at the next session of the General Assembly their findings upon the following questions:

1. The necessity of cold storage, and the proper provisions for the protection of perishable products.
2. The value of such products to the producer and the community at the period of the greatest production, when the supply exceeds the demand, and at all other times.
3. The length of time articles should remain under refrigeration or cold storage.
4. Whether refrigeration or cold storage products shall be branded, and, if so, what shall be determined to be refrigerator products or cold storage products, or both.
5. The effect on the price of commodities by reason of placing them under mechanical refrigeration or cold storage.
6. The relation of cold storage or refrigeration to the high cost of living.
7. The effect of cold storage legislation in this and other states.
8. The advisability of a uniform cold storage or refrigeration law: Provided, That the actual expenses incurred by the committee shall not exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), which shall be provided for in the general appropriation bill.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION

COLD STORAGE

TESTIMONY

taken in PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23, 1914.

The Cold Storage Commission convened in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce this day at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Present: Hon. Charles H. Kline, Hon. J. Harry Morgan, Hon. William D. Walton, Hon. A. W. Mitchell, Hon. Thomas F. McNichol and W. P. Gallagher, Secretary.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Kline.

CHAIRMAN KLINE. Gentlemen, the Commission appointed by a recent Act of the Legislature of 1913 to investigate the question of Cold Storage and several other subjects relating thereto have now assembled, and the real object of this Commission is best set forth in the resolution creating the same; and so that the people of this community may understand fully the intent and object of this resolution, the Secretary will read the same.

W. P. GALLAGHER, Secretary, then read the resolution as follows:

"In the Senate, February 8, 1913.

A concurrent resolution for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report to the next session of the Legislature all matters pertaining to cold storage and the preservation of food products, and the length of time goods shall remain under refrigeration or cold storage, and to the branding and sale of such articles, and making an appropriation to meet the expenses of said commission.

Whereas, There has been and is considerable agitation regarding cold storage and the preservation of food products, as well as the length of time that goods shall remain under refrigeration or cold storage, and the proper branding and sale of such articles; and

Whereas, It is of the utmost importance that a thorough and complete investigation and study of the whole matter of refrigeration and cold storage should be made at the present time; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That a committee of six members of the General Assembly be appointed—three to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and three by the Speaker of the House of Representatives—to investigate, and to report at the next session of the General Assembly their findings upon the following questions:

1. The necessity of cold storage, and the proper provisions for the protection of perishable products.

JOHN K. TENER."

CHAIRMAN KLINE. Gentlemen, it is the object of this Commission to hear all sides of this question whether or not the law now on the Statute Books of the State of Pennsylvania is a good law or whether or not certain amendments should be made to meet the requirements as set forth in this resolution. We are anxious to hear all sides of this question as this is supposed to be and is a non-partial Commission; and after we hear all the testimony over our State and elsewhere and after we go into the laws of the different States which have Cold Storage Laws we will then be able to decide in our own minds according to the evidence which will be produced before this Commission. I see quite a few people here and the question which arises in our minds now is, which side of this question shall we hear first and I would ask those who believe in some modification or change in our present laws to please rise so that we can know. The majority seems to be few and we will hear that side of the case today first. We do not know the names of the gentlemen who want to appear before this Commission and we would be very glad to hear anybody that will present himself before the bar here in regard to the same. Are there any committees formed who desire to lay this matter before us?

Mr. ————————. Mr. Chairman, we have a Committee here representing the wholesale dealers, a committee of five that would like to be heard.

CHAIRMAN KLINE. Introduce the gentleman to the Commission.

Mr. ————————. Mr. E Culver, in the wholesale business and also President of the Pittsburgh Butter and Egg Exchange; Mr. G. A. Samuels; Mr. G. B. Winsor, of Winsor & Brothers, in the wholesale butter and egg business; Mr. John L. Porter, of the Union Storage Company, and Mr. A. V. Mason, of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse & Cold Storage Company. That is the committee of five that we have here, representing three dealers and two Cold Storage Houses.

CHAIRMAN KLINE. Mr. Culver, do you want to speak before the Commission first?

Mr. E. CULVER. Each of us has a paper which we would like to read covering the particular points that we would like to dwell upon. I wish to say, gentlemen, that we have no objection to a Cold Storage Law in the State of Pennsylvania. In fact, every wholesale dealer is in favor of having cold storage goods marked "cold storage" from the warehouse clear down to the consumer so that it would be impossible for anyone to sell cold storage goods for anything except cold storage goods. We are in favor of that. We do object to some of the terms in this bill that we think should be amended. Each of us has a paper covering the particular points that we would like to bring to the attention of the Commission.

"Our principal objection to this Act is the short time limit placed upon butter and eggs. In making this time limit it seems that they have lost sight of the very purpose and object of cold storage as a medium for the preservation of food. The purpose of the cold storage is to carry, in proper condition, certain food products from the season of abundance until the season of scarcity. Now any restriction of time limit shorter than twelve months will destroy just that much of the usefulness of cold storage and will destroy just that much of the very purpose and object for which cold storage is used.

The seaon of abundance of eggs is during the month of April and the early part of May; the season of scarcity is during the cold months of the winter, including October, November, December, January, February and frequently a part of March. If eggs are stored in April, we should be allowed to carry them into the following March, if necessary, and I venture to say that not one of you gentlemen can give any satisfactory reason as to why they should not be carried for that length of time. It would be just as reasonable to pass a law compelling dealers to dispose of all of their potatoes, or apples or cabbage or any other food product within a time limit of eight months as it is to place this time limit on butter or eggs. Cold storage eggs and cold storage butter are just as staple an article of food as sugar or coffee and I will venture to say that not more than one out of a hundred laboring men in the large cities of Pennsylvania ever have, on their table during the winter months, any other than a storage egg, as the prices of fresh eggs and fresh butter are prohibitive for the man who labors for his daily bread and every hardship and every additional expense and every restriction that is placed upon the cold storage or upon the wholesale or retail dealer in cold storage products is ultimately paid for out of the pockets of the laboring people. This bill does not effect the rich as it does the people of limited means as it is the masses and not the classes that must depend upon the cold storage in a large measure for their daily food and any law making any restrictions on the time that butter or eggs can be carried in cold storage for a less period than twelve months will detract just that much from the usefulness of cold storage and will also add to the cost of cold storage products. No one questions the fact that Pennsylvania must depend on outside states for the greater portion of eggs and butter. Since this law has been enacted many dealers in Western states who had heretofore shipped eggs and butter to this State to be stored and sold during the winter months, have shipped their products to other states where they are not subject to this drastic law. Instead of passing laws that will tend to drive these products from Pennsylvania to other states, we should encourage shipments, as it is the abundance of food supplies that cause cheap prices and not the scarcity thereof.

A great many people, unfamiliar with the facts, have been under the impression that eggs are carried in cold storage for several years in succession. This idea is absolutely absurd and unfounded. There are various reasons why eggs in the shell are not and cannot be carried in cold storage for more than one season. First, the eggs will not carry for more than one season in a wholesome, merchantable condition. Second, even if they would carry for more than one season it would not be a profitable or wise investment for the owner. We do not think any dealer would be foolish enough to attempt to carry a lot of eggs in cold storage through the season of scarcity during the winter months when prices are usually higher into another producing season, when the fresh crop of eggs could be bought at several cents per dozen less than the cost of his eggs in storage after the season's carrying charges had been added. For example, if I purchase a hundred cases of eggs the first of April at twenty-one cents per dozen, the carrying charges to the first of the following April would be about three cents per dozen, and the cost of candling one cent per dozen, then the cost of this lot of eggs at the beginning of the next season would be twenty-five cents per dozen; if prices were normal, then the fresh crop could be bought at the beginning of the next season, at twenty-one cents. Would it not look very foolish to try to carry old eggs which cost twenty-five cents per dozen rather than to buy the fresh crop and store at twenty-one cents per dozen. There are a great many other reasons why eggs and butter cannot be carried sucessfully for more than one season. Dealers have been compelled, on account of oversupply of butter, a few times in the past ten years to carry over a small percentage of their holdings, but it has invariably been with the most disastrous financial results, as the butter had to be sold at absolutely ruinous prices the following season and it is a fact well known to dealers the following season that on several occasions cold storage eggs of the very finest quality have been sold as low as one-third of their original cost, in order to clean them up before the end of the season, as it would be impossible to carry them into another season successfully.

We think that this law should certainly be amended to allow a twelve months period for eggs and butter or if less than a twelve months period is allowed, the eggs should be subject to an extension of time upon inspection by a properly authorized agent, but in no case, we think, do any dealers wish to carry eggs or butter for a period longer than twelve months, in fact, eggs that are stored during the summer and fall months are always taken out before the beginning of the new season and we think it would be equitable and fair to the dealer and also give the consumer the proper protection, if this law were amended as to allow eggs and butter to be carried from season to season, i. e., to have the storage season for eggs end April First and all eggs that were stored during any months of the season to be taken out previously and the storage season for butter to end on June First, no matter what month the butter might have been stored. This would prohibit any cold storage goods from being carried over from one season into another. It would also allow the early goods, which are really the only ones fit for long carry, to be carried over for the longest period of time. The eggs that are laid during June, July and August, should not be allowed as long a time as eggs that are laid in April, as it is a fact well known to the trade and substantiated by the United States Government, Department of Agriculture, that the April and early May eggs are really the only ones fit for a long carry. So our idea would be to make a twelve months limit for both butter and eggs, but in no event allow the old crop to be carried into the new season. We think this would give the dealers all of the time they need and it would certainly give the consuming public much better protection than they have under the present law.

By HON. THOMAS F. McNICHOL:

Q. As a result of your experience in business, your particular and only objection seems to be that part of the law that covers the storage of eggs and butter?

A. That is the particular point I am covering.

Q. What would your opinion be as to the provisions of the bill generally?

A. As to the marking and other provisions, other members of our committee have covered the other points that they object to. This is the particular point that I object to. So far as the marking is concerned, we are in favor of it being done clear down all the way, from the cold storage plant to the wholesaler, from the wholesaler to the retailer, and from the retailer to the consumer, so that the consumer must know what he is buying when he is buying cold storage goods.

Q. You are talking about that part of the bill in which you are most interested,—butter and eggs?

A. Yes sir, to be sure.

By SENATOR KLINE:

Q. Don't you find that the greatest complaint has been that fraud and deception are practiced upon the public by some unscrupulous retailers, by selling cold storage eggs as fresh eggs?

A. Yes sir, I must admit that there have been some unscrupulous retailers that have sold storage eggs as fresh, and at the price of fresh. He sells his storage eggs as fresh eggs, an in order to sell them as fresh eggs, he must sell them at the price of fresh eggs, which is considerably higher than the price of storage eggs. If he sold them at the price of storage eggs, he would sell twice or three times as many, and that is the reason I am in favor of selling them for what they are.

Q. In order to avoid this,—you think the law is a good law, having all the eggs marked that have been in storage as storage eggs as a protection to the general public from unscrupulous dealers?

A. As far as marking the eggs "cold storage' is concerned, we are in favor of that.

Q. Eggs become scarce, don't they, around January? That is the cold season?

A. We usually have the greatest scarcity in January and February, and March sometimes.

Q. Where do eggs come from to give you relief,—fresh eggs,—during that scarcity season?

A. We usually begin to draw fresh eggs from the South, Texas and some of the extreme southern states, in January, but the quantity is so small that it benefits the market very little, if we have no storage eggs to depend on.

Q. What proportion then of your trade can you take care of during that scarcity season when eggs are coming from the South, than you can in the good season,—what proportion of your trade can you take care of then, of your trade when eggs are plentiful?

A. The receipts of fresh eggs at that time are very little, especially if we have cold weather; it runs down low during the cold weather; we bring very few eggs from the South. The shipments are so light and the price so high we cannot relieve that scarcity.

Q. You think if the season was from year to year, then when that scarcity season comes during the winter months that the trade could be supplied at little cost by having these eggs then on the market, these storage eggs?

A. Yes sir, I think it could be supplied at a great deal less cost. If we had to depend upon fresh eggs instead of storage eggs, I think most of our families would do without eggs for breakfast during the cold weather.

Q. There are so many people interested today in behalf of the general public in regard to the high cost of living, who, I understand, claim that the storage of eggs would naturally increase the cost of living, especially during the winter season, and some of them were the instigators in the enactment of the cold storage bill last winter?

A. I think that any of you gentlemen can see that when the cold storage houses have to empty their places in eight months, and fresh eggs are so hard to get, that it would certainly cause high prices instead of low prices, which was, I think, our experience last season.

By HON. WILLIAM D. WALTON:

Q. Your idea would be to clean up at the end of one year?

A. Yes sir.

Q. As the law is now, it is carried over so long as it is taken out at the end of eight months?

A. Yes sir, but I think it would be better to have it twelve months.

Q. Say instead of placing in storage in April we would place things in storage in February and March?

A. Everything placed in storage up to a certain time would be considered as the goods of one season, and would all be cleaned up by the first of April. Of course, if placed there in March they should not have to be taken out. If placed in storage in April, May, June, July or September, it should be taken out and cleaned up by the first of the following April.

Q. As it is now they can be carried over?

A. Yes sir, an egg stored late in the season can be.

By HON. THOMAS McNICHOL:

Q. When the supply of eggs is plentiful and through that the price is cheap, by the storage of eggs for the purpose of providing for a scarce season and awaiting the time when they were scarce, a boosting of the price of eggs would be accomplished?

A. That can be done. If we dont get a boost in the price we could not handle them.

Q. The dealer stores the eggs for this scarce season?

A. That is just exactly what every dealer stores eggs for. If I dont have an opportunity of making at least a reasonable profit on a lot of eggs, I would not store. If there was no reasonable profit, we would have our work for nothing, and there would not be many stored then.

Q. Then the dealer would be tempted to take advantage of the plentifulness of eggs and put them in storage until the time was good for the dealer, and then the public would have to pay his price?

A. I don't agree with you.

Q. That might happen?

A. It could happen. My idea is this: the public gets the eggs during the entire season much cheaper than they would if eggs were not stored.

Q. Could there not be a corner in eggs created by the placing of the eggs in cold storage?

A. A corner in eggs is impossible, and has been proven so.

Q. Nevertheless they have bought up the supply of eggs and stored them in the cold storage houses?

A. Yes sir, about eight per cent. of the supply, the government reports show, goes into storage over the United States.

Q. Then it would be as much a matter of business methods to store the eggs and keep them for the scarce season for an increased price as to supply the people with eggs in the scarce season?

A. The only object in storing at all would be to make a fair and reasonable profit. That would be the only object.

Q. Then it is as much in consideration of the dealer himself as of the dear public?

A. Altogether that,—to my own personal interest as a dealer. Every man in business is only in business to make all he can out of it. If I could not make at least a reasonable profit on eggs, I would not store. Sometimes instead of making a profit on the eggs, we suffer a big loss. I have known seasons when eggs have been sold in order to clean up at one-third of the original cost to the dealers.

Q. The probabilities are that the provisions of the bill as it is now on the Statute Books, interfere with the cold storage man making the profit he would like to make?

A. Do you mean the dealer?

Q. The dealer, of course?

A. In regard to that I would say that least season, the first under the operation of this law, showed the largest profit in my business of any season in Pittsburgh.

Q. Was that due to the provisions of the law?

A. I think it was to some extent. I think the law helped me out.

Q. Notwithstanding that you come to object to the particular provision of that bill that enables you to increase your earnings?

A. Yes sir, but the dealers were afraid of the law, and did not store as in other years.

Q. But you took a chance and stored?

A. Yes sir, until I got the advance.

Q. The same conditions might not follow this year?

A. No, they might not.

By HON. A. W. MITCHELL:

Q. Could you tell the Commission what is the average net cost per case or per dozen, however it is incurred, including interest on the investment,—the average cost for carrying eggs in cold storage? What is the cost per dozen per month or however you figure it?

A. The cold storage season usually runs from April first to January first. I think that is the way most of the cold storage houses make their rates.

Q. Covering a period of nine months?

A. Yes sir; that is along the end of the cold storage season. Few of them make a charge of so much per month; that is what they call the season carried. Their charge, including the interest, would be a little over two cents per dozen, depending on the original cost of the eggs going in and other things, but generally up to the first of the year it is two cents and, after all are in the insurance would make it about three cents a dozen and then the cost of candling after coming out would be one cent, making the total carrying charges about four cents per dozen.

Q. You spoke of being in favor of identifying eggs; in what manner should they be identified, the container or the individual egg; would it be possible to identify each egg?

A. I don't know but what it would be practicable but it would add much to the cost in practice to mark each egg, but I think that every package should be marked "cold storage eggs" or "cold storage butter." We are all in favor of having them identified.

Q. Is not the package or container broken a number of times between the storage warehouse and the consumer? How can the continuity of that identity be maintained?

A. I think that is fully covered in the present law. If taken out of the original package they must be marked in the smaller packages with the same mark.

Q. Do you think it is not feasible to identify each particular egg?

A. I think it would add too much to the cost. We would not object, but it would add entirely too much to the cost.

Q. Now, you spoke of the price being from three to four cents per dozen for the season; is that the price to the one who buys the eggs in bond in the warehouse?

A. He pays that for the storage.

Q. And that is the average charge for carrying those eggs in the cold storage warehouse?

A. Yes, that is right.

G. A. SAMUELS, being called, testified as follows:

CHAIRMAN KLINE. Go ahead Mr. Samuels, sit down.

Mr. SAMUELS. What I am here for is just to try to consider the matter of using cold storage houses more freely for one or two days or a certain amount of days up to twenty days without branding cold storage eggs and selling them for fresh eggs. That is what I want to call your attention to.

"We wish to call your attention to a matter that was not considered when this Cold Storage Bill was enacted, and which is of vital importance to every dealer in butter and eggs, and that is the taking care of these articles by the storage houses, for a short period, without branding them "Cold Storage Goods."

This matter is not mentioned in any part of the Act, and there is not a dealer, who will not, at one time or another, be more or less overstocked, and who is anxious to take proper care of these goods, but has no facilities for doing so.

Butter and eggs must be kept in proper condition before being delivered to the consumer, butter especially must be hard before being delivered to the common carrier, as it takes, in most cases, one to two days before it is delivered to the consumer. Otherwise, the butter becomes like oil, as neither the express companies, nor the railroads, for local freight shipments, furnish refrigerator cars.

We cannot avoid accidents, and not longer than a month ago, during the hot weather, the ice machine that furnishes cold air to all the dealers on Ferry street, was put out of commission for a whole week, and we had to have the storage house take care of our butter, and when the butter was delivered to us, even if it were only one day in the storage house, the storage brand was on every package.

We are allowed to keep these goods for an unlimited period in our own coolers, as long as we place them on the market in proper condition, now, why not allow the storage house to take care of our goods, for say twenty-nine days, without requiring them to be branded "Cold Storage." And should the goods be left in storage for a longer period than twenty-nine days, then let the goods become automatically storage goods, and the storage house will then, when the goods are withdrawn, stamp each package with the date the goods were originally placed in storage.

By allowing the storage house to take care of these goods for a short time, without branding them "Cold Storage," we can many times deliver to the customer better goods, and in better condition, and at the same time protect the goods from deterioration.

Further the statistics of the United States Government prove that millions of dollars worth of eggs go to waste every year on account of not being taken care of properly. The storage house is one of the remedies for this great waste, but the Cold Storage Act, in its present form, instead of encouraging the free use of the storage house, in prohibiting the dealers storing freely.

We need the storage house much more for taking care of our fresh goods, for a few days, than for season goods. During certain months of the year, especially during the hot weather, eggs will deteriorate within one to two days, if not carried at the proper temperature and atmosphere. During this same season the supply of eggs is sometimes large and most every dealer requires extra refrigerator space for a few days, and must look to the storage house.

In fact, cold storage goods receive much better care than fresh goods, which are kept in haphazard way, on account of the dealer not having proper facilities and being prohibited from using the storage house for short carry.

Very often there is a car of eggs shipped on commission, that we cannot dispose of just at the time and would like to hold it in storage for a few days, and in this way preserve the goods, but this is impossible under the present ruling. Very few individuals have cold storage facilities sufficient to take proper care of all their goods during the flush of the season in their own coolers, and it would undoubtedly be a great help for them to be permitted to use the public storage house for a limited period, without branding their goods "Cold Storage."

Therefore, gentlemen, we again urgently request you to give us an opportunity, when necessary, to take care of our fresh goods in proper shape, for a short time, without being obliged to distribute them to the consumer as "Cold Storage Goods."

By CHAIRMAN KLINE:

Q. The law today is that everything must be branded as cold storage?

A. Yes sir, if it is fifteen minutes in a cold storage ware house it must be so branded. We have no way of protecting our goods. We object to that feature of the bill.

Q. You think that if eggs are put in cold storage for thirty days only that they will not be deteriorate any?

A. No sir, they will be better than the eggs in my house.

Q. You say they will be better than if kept in your own store?

A. They will be better than if kept in my own store because I cannot get an even temperature in my cellar while storage houses always have a better temperature and a better atmosphere.

Q. And there is nothing to prevent you from keeping those same eggs in your store and selling them as fresh eggs?

A. No sir, not as long as I keep them in proper condition.

Q. That was not taken into consideration at the time of the passage of the Cold Storage Bill?

A. The way your Act reads now, if eggs are put in cold storage for fifteen minutes they come out as cold storage eggs.

G. B. WINSOR, being called, testified as follows:

CHAIRMAN KLINE. We would be very glad to hear from Mr. Winsor.

Mr. WINSOR. Gentlemen, I want to say that the present law does increase instead of decrease the cost of these eggs.

"While we know the real intent and purpose of the Pennsylvania "Cold Storage Law" is to protect the masses and insure protection to the consuming public and while it is our desire to work and co-operate in conjunction with the law to this end, as no business man objects to a fair and Equitable Cold Storage Law.

There are, however, points in our present law that work hardships and unecessary additional expense to the storage houses, wholesalers and retailers alike, and which has increased rather than decreased as was intended the cost of these goods.

At present the length of time in which it is permissionable to carry butter or eggs in cold storage in Pennsylvania is so limited that they are sure can be marketted or disposed of before the expiring dates prescribed.

This alone prevents there being a surplus of these goods in the storage houses of this State at a time of shortest production in this and nearly all other states of the Union.

This occuring right in the middle of the winter months as it does when we have practically no production and are, therefore, compelled to look to merchants and cold storage houses in other states where there are more liberal laws for a supply right at a time when we still should have a good supply at home, and thereby pay a profit to outside parties or merchants who originally stored these goods as well as the normal profit which we are entitled to ourselves, all of which increases the cost to the consumer.

Also owing to the fact that both butter and eggs must be out of our storage houses in this State and marketed at an early date none of the shippers or producers from our great producing sections in the West take many chances of placing large quantities of these goods in Pennsylvania cold storage houses where they may be compelled to market them before the season for these goods really opens, and, therefore, we have a shortage rather than a surplus in our own State which again works to their advantage, but greatly to our disadvantage for it is a surplus rather than a scarcity which decreases prices.

We also are compelled to stamp on each package the date the month in which it was placed in or came out of storage which necessitates numerous stamps or the changing of dates in each stamp to agree with dates of the month of goods which we are selling, or so offering for sale.

This necessitates more clerks to wait on the same amount of trade, more clerical help and added expense for which the consumer has to pay.

When the month of the year rather than the day of the month would be sufficient information to the dealer or consumer as to what particular season of the year these goods were placed in storage, and, thereby, save an extra expense in intricate stamping and branding for this all sums up to the fact that the consumer pays the bill. What we would suggest is that goods be branded April, May or June as the case may be.

Any consumer would be satisfied to know that his purchase of butter or eggs was either April, May or June production, the price and quality of which usually varies according to the month but not day of the month in which such goods were placed in storage.

In short, the law as carried out and enforced at the present time only tends to make the dealer in these goods overly conservative as to the amount of goods they will store in this State, and consequently compels them to resort to the importation of hundreds of thousands of cases of eggs and pounds of butter purchased and shipped in from other states at a time of the year and at a cost far exceeding that at which such goods could be purchased if such purchases were made here in our own State at the time of greatest production. Supply and demand is still the governing law of prices.

The more of these goods we can store in our own State, purchased while such goods are most plentiful, the methods of handling, stamping, dating and branding simplified to a minimum and still be effective, the cheaper we can deliver butter and eggs to the consuming public of Pennsylvania."

By SENATOR KLINE:

Q. Your remarks are in regard to the stamping of the goods?

A. Yes sir. I believe the extra cost and labor it takes to stamp all of these goods adds additional cost. I know that it does. That labor must be paid for. We want all goods stamped,—everybody is willing to have that done. We want the consumer to know what he is getting. These goods run along in seasons. The April egg is the best egg for storing. It is clean and has not been hit by the heat. April eggs up to about the 28th of April are the finest quality we can get. Instead of stamping them with the date in which they were placed in storage, if they were stamped April I believe that would cover the case.

Q. Would that allow them to remain in over a year, say thirteen months, instead of a year?

A. No, we don't want that. We would not carry them longer than the first of the following April.

Q. If you put a case of eggs in in April, you want the time to expire on that case on the first of April of the next year?

A. Yes sir. We want the May egg stamped "May," so that the consumer buying eggs knows that it is a May product. The weather in May is warmer, and the May egg is not of as good quality as the April egg, so it should be sold a little cheaper. If you want to buy the best egg you can buy an April egg. If you want a cheaper egg you can buy a June egg. It is put in a little later in the season and is a cheaper egg. But in regard to the stamping of each day the goods are put in, retailer has a great deal of extra labor in changing the stamps to the 14th day of April, and to the 12th day of April, and so on, to mark a package of that date. This extra labor could be done away with by just stamping the month only. The law is all right only as to the length of time we are permitted to store and the extra labor in connection with the stamping. What I want to see is that this work is simplified as much as possible.

JOHN L. PORTER called and testified as follows:

Mr. PORTER. I have been asked to set before you the comparative points of our present law with those of neighboring states, and I will do it as quickly as possible.

Mr. Chairman and Members. It has been said by some one, that 75% of all general legislation is based on theory, and that about 50% of it fails of its intended purpose, because it is not practicable.

We believe that much of this inefficiency is brought about by a too suspicious attitude on the part of our legislative bodies, who seem to prone to mix too much salt with the statements offered in hearings by business interests in defense of their various enterprise; in consequence of which the bills reported from committees are radical, decidedly restrictive, and in many cases almost confiscatory.

A knowledge of legislative methods induces us to admit therefore, that the Cold Storage Act under which we are now working, is perhaps as good as might be expected from a first attempt.

Experience, however, has already demonstrated to both the public and the dealer, that some modifications are absolutely necessary, if we are to bring about and preserve that balance between supply and demand so necessary to a wholesome condition and stable prices.

We had no criterion to work by when our law was compiled, but, fortunately, today we have four or five notable examples of similar legislation which offer many proofs of efficiency and which suggest a few changes of a strictly beneficial nature in our Act, rendering it more useful without destroying any of its policing powers.

The State of Massachusetts, whose law has proven most satisfactory, permits the storage of all food products for twelve months, with an extension of time, if the goods are still wholesome.

We have here a volume of the findings of the Commission of that State, which, after a most searching investigation led them to draw the Act mentioned.

The State of Iowa grants twelve months without regard to the product, and an extension of time may be obtained.

New Jersey grants ten months on all articles, subject to extension by the State Board of Health.

New York grants ten months on all kinds of food but butter, and that may be kept twelve months.

The Commissioners on Uniform State Laws have drafted a bill naming twelve months as a legal limit, but with an extended period on consent of the State Food Commissioner.

We have every reason for the belief that the Department of our State Dairy and Food Commissioner is desirous of some material changes in our present law.

Right here let us say, that no honorable dealer fears any of the penalties cited in the Act, and we raise no objection whatever to any amount you may stipulate for infractions. No law should be so drastic as to invite and encourage dishonest practices, and we see no good reason for creating a condition calling for any undue espionage in this instance.

We are at a loss to understand why our legislative bodies should favor laws which drive capital to other states for investment, and submit our own institutions to keener competition and its consequent losses.

They have no branch houses; are not working under any agreement; belong to no trust; and few, if any, of our industries are compelled to exercise such watchful care over the property they handle.

We shall waste no time in enumerating the many advantages and benefits of cold storage, and, will say that when our people come to thoroughly understand its utilitarian purposes, public sentiment will do for the enterprise what the Government (backed by twelve years of experimental work) fails in accomplishing.

Why is Canada, Australia and the Argentine today subsidizing the building of cold storage plants, and why has every town of any import in this Commonwealth of ours, its cold storage facilities?

The impression seems to prevail that dealers resent the reputation of handling cold storage products. Nothing could be further from the fact. "Wholesome Cold Storage Food" should be, and will eventually be, looked upon as a trade mark of quality, as much as is "Sterling" on silverware, and the time will come when restrictions will have to be made covering the selling of second class, deteriorated and decaying fresh food as cold storage products.

Speaking from a bacteriological standpoint, cold storage food is known to be infinitely cleaner, more wholesome, and more carefully handled than the majority of our so-called fresh products, wherever and by whomever sold.

By HON. THOMAS McNICHOL:

Q. You represent what portion of the business?
A. Cold storage.

Mr. A. V. MASON, called, testified as follows:

Mr. MASON. Mr. Chairman and members of the Commission, before I present the paper I have here in support of the propositions advanced by Mr. Samuels, on the 29th day period, I want to read to you a revision of the rules by the Commissioner at Harrisburg on the present cold storage law. This is dated December 2nd, 1913.

"Interpretation of Cold Storage Act of 1913 and Rules and Regulations Promulgated thereunder.

No. 1. Regulation No. 4.

REVISED.

Since this Department promulgated its rules and regulations, under the Cold Storage Act of 1913, and the interpretation thereof August 15, 1913, certain conditions and situations which were not at that time foreseen, have arisen. In interpreting Regulation No. 4, this Department held that a license must be issued for the entire building or structure in which a cold storage plant was operated. It appears that there are large establishments, particularly for the killing and dressing of the carcasses of animals to be sold as fresh meat and not intended to be put in cold storage, in which a cold storage room or rooms are located for general cold storage purposes. It also appears that there are several rooms in the basement of the large passenger station in the city of Philadelphia, known as the Reading Termnial, which cold storage rooms occupy a very small portion of the structure. There are similar buildings throughout the Commonwealth. It is manifestly unreasonable to require a license as a cold storage plant for the entire passenger railway station, and apparently just as unreasonable to require a license for large butchering establishments where only a small room is used for storage, and thus necessitate all of the fresh meat coming from such establishment being marked as required by Section 15 of the Act.

Therefore, the interpretation of Regulation No. 4 issued on August 15th, 1913, is now modified and a license will be issued by the Dairy and Food Commissioner in proper cases for the room or rooms used as a cold storage plant, when properly designated in the application, with the understanding, and upon the condition that the Commissioner reserves the right of sanitary inspection of the whole, or such part of the building or buildings in which such rooms are located, as in his judgment is necessary to properly carry out the provisions of the Cold Storage Act.

(Signed) JAMES FAUST,
Dairy and Food Commissioner.

Harrisburg, Penna.,
December 2, 1913.

Now, gentlemen, when that was brought to our notice, in connection with the cold storage point of view that it has been proven that dealers must have a place to put their goods for a short time to protect them in case of hot weather, we went to the expense of setting apart a room, after application to the Commissioner, and this is the letter to us, dated February 24th, 1914.

"Department of Agriculture,
Harrisburg, Pa., February 24th, 1914.

Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse & Transfer Co.,
Pittsburgh, Penna.

Gentlemen:—We have your favor of the 23rd inst., and in reply beg to say that you will find enclosed a copy of Regulation No. 4, revised. Under this revised rule yo u can have your license to operate a cold storage warehouse restricted to a certain number of rooms, designating them in a written request, giving the number and location of each room to be covered by the license, and say nothing about the one or two rooms which you do not wish to be included in said license. You can then keep fresh products in the one or two rooms not covered by the license for a period of 29 days, and said products will not be subject to the cold storage law. This, however, does not apply to cold storage products. I mean products that have been in storage before being placed in the freezing room or rooms for a period of thirty days. The Department reserves the right to inspect your plant at all reasonable times. Yours truly,

(Signed) JAMES FAUST,
Commissioner."

This is merely in support of Mr. Samuel's proposition that there is need of and ought to be a provision made to take care of this perishable food for a short time. The Dairy and Food Commission recognized that, and has promulgated this order. I will now proceed to my paper.

In presenting the following statements, there is no thought in mind other than to cover some of the general aspects of the subject under consideration in the hope that the views advanced may be useful and of some assistance to the Commission.

It is very evident that the fundamental purposes of the Pennsylvania Cold Storage law are to insure the public against unwholesome food and incidentally to lower the cost of certain food to the consumer. We have no disagreement with these purposes, but on the contrary do heartily commend them and cheerfully promise our co-operation under any legislation enacted for such purposes based upon reason, justice and equity to all concerned.

The true function of public cold storage is to preserve by refrigeration certain food products and because of performing this function, is undoubtedly the most important single factor and natural means in aid of the conservative food products known today.

Therefore, the value of cold storage facilities in meeting an important public economic need, is not discounted by those who have given the subject even passing thought and if this be true, it follows that the more of such facilities provided, the greater in proportion is the benefit to the public, and to encourage the operation of such facilities within the borders of our State, would seem to be much the duty of our Legislature as any other responsibility resting upon that body, which duty certainly cannot be discharged by enacting legislation frustrating or defeating in its general effect and abrunding with haodships and difficulties in its specific effect upon very necessary lines of trade and industry.

The effect of the present Cold Storage law has not only fallen far short of the expectation of its advocates in lowering the prices of certain food commodities as must be admitted on all sides, but has, moreover, been the means of increasing the cost to the consumer because of its unusual restrictions and requirements upon dealers, both wholesale and retail, as already presented by competent testimony at this hearing.

Certainly no one with ordinary knowledge upon the subject would presume to be able to lower the value of a marketable food commodity by legislative enactment, arbitrary in its restrictions and provisions, especially if the production of that food did not keep pace with a constantly increasing demand for it as is well known to be the case with such food staples as meat and meat products, eggs and butter. Every act of labor and every cent of added cost incidental to compliance with the requirements of such a law, must inevitably be added to the value of the commodity and be paid for by the ultimate purchaser, who is the consumer, in which respect, the drastic provisions of the Pennsylvania Cold Storage Law stand as pre-eminently the most costly to the public of similar legislation enacted anywhere in this county.

It seems to be the general opinion that dealers place in cold storage in the warehouse of Pennsylvania in particular, and the country in general, the greater proportion of the production of certain food commodities. Nothing can be further from the truth, at least so far as butter and eggs are concerned, since it is stated, and on good authority, that not in excess of 10 per cent (the United States Government has estimated 8 per cent) of the total production of eggs ever reach Cold Storage, which absolutely discredits the opinion so frequently advanced by writers who are not well informed on the subject that dealers store and hoard up the bulk of these foods to the disadvantage of the consumers.

Therefore, at best, such laws as the Pennsylvania Cold Storage Law can deal only with the 8 per cent. and 10 per cent. surplus production of such commodities and any legislation which adds to the financial burden of those who contribute to the preservation of this small surplus from the season of over production to the Winter season of scarcity, is detrimental to the consumer who in the last analysis must pay the cost, while it is noticeable that absolutely no attention is paid to the 90 per cent. of the total remaining and which is preserved in a sanitary way or not, and sold to the public without precautionary supervision.

It is, therefore, emphasized that there is no objection whatever on the part of either the cold storage houses of the dealers to a reasonable and just law exercising supervision over the operation of cold storage plants, providing reasonable periods of storage for foods placed in cold storage and reasonable restrictions as to marking and dating cold stored food, but there is strong objection to some of the provisions of the present law which may be summed up under the following heads:

1. The too short periods of storage permitted for eggs and butter.

2. To some of the unnecessary marking and dating requirements, and

3. To the fact that botn butter and eggs may be carried an unlimited time in dealers' stores or coolers with or without refrigeration which conditions at best cannot be conductive to their best preservation, and still be sold as fresh, while if such food be placed but five minutes in a sanitary and well supervised cold storage plant, which the state under the Act inspects and guarantees to the public to be clean and properly equipped for such service, then such food must automatically be branded and sold as cold storage food which at once shows the glaring inconsistency when the purpose of the Act is kept in mind.

We are certain that you gentlemen of the Commission will recognize that the testimony offered before you is the result of a conscientious effort to present carefully and truthfully only reasonable objections or suggested amendments to some of the provisions of the present law all with a view to rendering assistance to your honorable body and with the hope and belief that the changes suggested will, if put in force, re-act to the benefit of all concerned, the producer, the consumer and the dealer alike.

In conclusion, may we express our appreciation for the patient and courteous hearing afforded our Committee and at the same time assure you of our desire to co-operate with you in your endeavor in any way possible.

Senator KLINE. Have you anything else, Mr. Culver?

Mr. CULVER. I think this is all our Committee has to say.

Chairman KLINE. Is there any other gentleman here that is interested in the question of the storage of eggs and butter? If so, we would be very glad to hear from him.

CHARLES H. MUEHLBRUNNER, being called, testified as follows:

CHARLES H. MUEHLBRUNNER. Mr. Chairman, I am not interested so much in the storage of eggs and butter as I am in vegetables and I want to call your attention of what is being done in the city of Cleveland. That city has spent $1,200,000 in the erection of a cold storage plant there for the use of the consumer in that city and they are demonstrating to the house wife of that city that it pays to buy their eggs in a season of plenty and bring them there for storage thus encouraging the cold storage business. That is entirely contrary to your law, of course, but it seems to me that that is one of the things you should take into consideration when these other states are doing just the opposite things in favor of the consumer yet your law virtually in some cases keeps the consumer from buying cold storage eggs by insisting that certain packages must be marked "cold storage." We think it is unfair in Pennsylvania when other states are doing the opposite and I believe if you will investigate—I cut this article out of one of the magazines, I think the Review of Reviews and it tells about this cold storage plant in Cleveland. The article states that they encourage women to go there to this cold storage house and try this new method of keeping cold storage eggs and to buy them in the cheap season for use in the scarce season.

Chairman KLINE. Ohio has a cold storage law, has it not?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. I am not familiar with that, Mr. Kline.

Chairman KLINE. I think Ohio has a cold storage law. Our law does not prevent the house wife from taking eggs and butter and other things and storing them.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. I grant that. When a man stores eggs, a number of cases of eggs or of poultry it must be marked with the time in and the time out and there is a certain odium on it, when a customer comes in to buy these cold storage goods. Lots of people don't understand the cold storage business but it will not be many years before they do understand it.

Chairman KLINE. I appreciate that fact, but laws are not passed for honest people. They are passed to prevent dishonest people from imposing upon honest people and invariably the honest people are obliged to suffer. Now the people are not educated and even the cold storage people say they don't object to the twenty-nine days, although being marked "cold storage."

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. That applies to butter and eggs in which I am not interested. My line is poultry, produce and vegetables. I have been in the cold storage business as myself for fifteen years and I want to state a case which happened to me twenty-eight years ago when there was no cold storage in Pittsburgh. There were no eggs in Pittsburgh and I found that there was a peddler going over Greene County selling eggs at thirty-five and thirty-eight cents a dozen by the case. I went to Mansfield and got hold of that peddler and paid him seventy-five cents a dozen for those eggs. It was in the month of February cold weather, and I brought them in here and sold them at one dollar per dozen. If we would have had cold storage facilities that condition could not have happened because eggs could have been stored in a season of plenty and brought out at forty or forty-five cents per dozen. I think from what I know of the law it should be modified to some degree. I did not hear the discussion here but I think you have the dealers sewed up here so that it makes the business really unpopular.

Chairman KLINE. Do you think the law as it is has any effect upon the high cost of living which is agitated so much throughout Pennsylvania?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. The agitation of the high cost of living that is brought about by certain persons who really don't understand the business of storing food products. The cost of everything as you know—you have had some business experience—is regulated by supply and demand. When eggs are plentiful they sell at a low price and when they are scarce naturally the price goes up That is human with every business man.

Chairman KLINE. That is natural ;we are experiencing that today are we not?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Can you name any products, the price of which is not regulated by the law of supply and demand?

Chairman KLINE. That is natural.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. The general proposition of supply and demand regulates the price of everything. There are certain goods that are manufactured in Europe that are going to advance in price very materially in a short time on account of our not being able to import them. The same condition applies to all business.

Mr. McNICHOL. Was it your thought that there should be a cold storage plant erected under municipal supervision in order to give an opportunity to the consumer to store in his own name goods in a plentiful season?

Mr. MUHELBRUNNER. I certainly wouldn't object to it.

Mr. McNICHOL. Then it wouldn't make much difference if goods so stored for individual consumption were marked "cold storage" or other wise.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Yes, that is true.

Chairman KLINE. I encourage it to get away from the high prices, Senator.

Mr. MUHELBRUNNER. I suppose that is the main object, yes. It really doesn't effect the dealer because the eggs are put there by and bought from the dealer in many cases.

Mr. McNICHOL. It would give the individual an opportunity to save the increased cost of a commodity in a scarce season?

Mr. MUHELBRUNNER. Yes.

Mr. McNICHOL. That would be a good idea?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Yes.

Chairman KLINE. Senator, I see here that we do go into perishable products; wouldn't vegetables and poultry come under that?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Your law does not apply to vegetables.

Chairman KLINE. You say it does not apply to that?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. To perishable products and poultry; vegtables are eliminated in your Act.

Chairman KLINE. Wouldn't poultry be a perishable product?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Yes.

Chairman KLINE. The first thing we are to inquire into is the necessity of cold storage and the proper provisions for the protection of perishable products.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. That is not in your Act; that is in the resolution.

Chairman KLINE. It is in our resolution. Now, that is the purpose of this Commission. Can you enlighten us as much as possible as to the necessity for the protection of that product?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. I can so far as that is concerned. When it is put into cold storage it will come out in the same condition as when it was put in. There is no difference in it at all cold storage does not improve poultry; it doesn't improve anything. It delivers it in the same condition in which it goes in.

Chairman KLINE. Then it is a protection not only to perishable but also to poultry?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. It certainly is. You should enact a law to prevent them from putting spoiled goods in storage. There is where the trouble is. Lots of goods have been put in storage in past years without being fresh and it cannot be protected as well as when it is put in fresh. You should keep them from putting bad goods in storage.

Mr. McNICHOL. Then you would advocate a provision for the examination of goods prior to their being stored?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Yes.

Mr. McNICHOL. What is your idea as to the cold storage proposition on certain classes of foodstuffs and the high cost of living?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. It does not add very materially to it.

Mr. McNICHOL. Do you think that such a law would tend to reduce the high cost of living—that is, a proper law?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. It would serve to hold it at a level. You could not go then to any extreme at any time such as I cited in the early day.

By Mr. WALTON:

Q. Your idea is that the consumer, on account of cold storage pays much less in January and February, than he would without cold storage?

A. Yes sir, it regulates the price.

By SENATOR KLINE.

Q. You think cold storage is a good thing for poultry, provided at the time it is put in it is in good condition?

A. Yes sir, you could not get any fit to eat at this season of the year if it were not for the cold storage plants.

Q. And the reason why so many people object to cold storage goods is due to the fact that they are not interested in the question of cold storage, and secondly, from what you said, it is because they do not understand really what cold storage is?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And secondly, if goods are put in fresh, goods such as poultry, and are in a good wholesome condition when put in, and were kept in that condition, that would give a market in these goods the whole year round?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And the proper law would be a law covering the inspection of these goods prior to putting them in cold storage?

A. That is the idea. The predicament has arisen from that fact that a lot of food that has been stored, was not in good condition when stored on account of the climatic conditions. Naturally when these goods reached the consumer they were in bad condition.

Q. If you stopped that from going into storage you could overcome that?

A. Yes sir, that is what I say,—it is tainted when put in.

By Mr. MITCHELL:

Q. Isn't one of the fears of cold storage the careless and unsanitary method of handling the product after it has been released. Isn't that charged to cold storage when it should not be after it is released from cold storage?

A. When it comes from cold storage in good condition it stays in that condition until it reaches the consumer.

Q. Isn't it a fact that after a commodity of that sort is released from cold storage that it deteriorates?

A. If it is left on the counter or exposed to heat for 24 or 48 hours.

Q. It deteriorates rapidly?

A. Yes sir. The large dealers have learned a lesson in that respect and only take out what they can sell and have orders for.

Q. You govern yourself according to the demand?

A. Naturally.

Q. You realized that if you took out great quantities you would suffer a severe loss?

A. Yes sir.

Q. A man watching the dealers and sensing the keen competition today, would not take out more than necessary?

A. That is what we do every day in the year. We only take out as much as we have orders for. We put it right into consumption, and the goods are in just as good condition as when in storage.

By Chairman KLINE. Is there any other gentleman who desires to be heard?

Mr. HENRY W. IHRIG, called, testified as follows:

Mr. CHAIRMAN and members of the Commission, I merely want to call the gentleman's attention when he spoke to Mr. Culver of the storage of eggs that it was only for the large profits that the storer of eggs was getting, and Mr. Culver very modestly answered yes and left it at that, it leaves you gentlemen with that bug-a-boo that the storer of eggs is a robber of the public, and I don't think that is proper or I don't think it is fair that the storer of eggs should be under that head, because there is no question that the storer of eggs is beneficiary to the public. I personally have never gained anything by storing eggs. I have never lost anything by storing eggs, because I never stored any, but I have had the opportunity. But the question is this; if through your laws you prohibit the storer from storing his eggs on account of the profit he makes out of them, you are going to rob the public in the winter time. But it has a far more reaching effect than that. The American farmer is the most astute business man in the world,—I believe you will agree with me on that. And if the influx of eggs the great supply of eggs in April, May and June will not bring in sufficient revenue to pay for the food that they eat on his farm, he will chop the chickens' head off, and refuse to raise any more chickens, and consequently will stop the production. So you can readily see that it will have a far reaching effect should you stop the storage of eggs, which today means an ordinary cheap breakfast for at least two out of every three of your cities families today in January, February and March.

My experience on the food and dairy question in this country has been this; that every time there was a municipal statute and anything other than a general national food and dairy law enacted that was demoralizing to the natural law of supply and demand, that it was the common every day laborer in your mills and mines that had to stand the joker,—he had to pay the bill. It isn't the business man, or the wholesaler, or the producer or the retailer that pays that, it is the consumer that must pay it all, and therefore, I would ask this Commission to be very careful in the conclusions that they will come to on this law, as it affects every man, woman and child in the State. It does not affect the farmer. Another point in your laws is the law of prosecution, and the law of Pennsylvania is very weak, I believe, in that respect, and if you will pardon me for taking your time, I want to explain my opinion of it. There should be a clause attached to your law which makes the original buyer the prosecutor. You should not have a system of espionage in your State. You should not give the Commissioner of food and dairies the power to send one or two or three men to visit the stores and get cases on people. You don't know whether you have ten or twelve such men who would be anxious to get a case on a man whether he is guilty or not. And further we claim that the only just way to prosecute under your law should be that the man who buys the goods and finds that he has been cheated should be able to go to your Commissioner and say, "Here, I bought this for so-and-so and I want you to prosecute the man," and the State should step in and do so. I do not think there is an honest man that would not agree on that point, that the present system is nothing but a case of espionage, and it should at least be done away with.

Chairman KLINE. Is there any other gentleman present who desires to talk upon this law or any changes that should be made in the law with respect to the cold storage of any perishable products?

No response.

Chairman KLINE. There does not seem to be any more people who desire to appear before the Commission in regard to that part of the bill. Is there any person present who desires to present any matters before the Commission in regard to the question of refrigeration of perishable products, or the length of time articles should remain in refrigeration, or anything relative to the cold storage, with respect to the high cost of living, or anything relative to the same? If there are any such gentlemen present we would be very glad indeed to hear them. If there is any gentleman present who desires to present any phase of this question we would be pleased ot hear him.

Mr. CHARLES H. MUEHLBRUNNER. Mr. Chairman, concerning the prosecution of cases it seems that under the present law your inspectors or agents who go around and pick up cases of violations, get samples, and prosecute under those samples without any notice to the person who has the goods on hand that prosecution is going to be entered—we think that this is unfair because the dealer has no protection, no way of protecting himself, and the only way that he can combat that in court successfully is to know that he also has a sample of the goods that the agent has taken. Your law is rather loose in that matter and the dealer in a way should be protected at least to some extent. Most of these cases are brought by so-called "spies"; the dealer is not notified that he is going to be prosecuted and has no means of defense, be he right or wrong.

Chairman KLINE. He has no opportunity to get a sample to have his chemist examine to rebut the testimony of the State chemists?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Yes.

Mr. MITCHELL. Such a bill was introduced last session.

Chairman KLINE. It didn't pass.

Mr. MITCHELL. No.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. The dealer should have some protection and the Courts have ruled, I believe, that to defend himself successfully he must have at least the same line of goods analyzed as the prosecutor.

Mr. MITCHELL. The dealer is simply in a state of anxiety all the time?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. Yes; the dealer has no protection; he cannot defend himself.

Mr. MITCHELL. The entire prosecution is based on the condition of that sample and the defendent is entirely deprived of any means of defense?

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. That is the idea; that is a subject worthy of consideration.

Mr. McNICHOL. The dealer don't know whether he sold the goods or not.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. He doesn't know anything about it.

Chairman KLINE. We have a few lawyers on this Commission. They put the chemist on the stand; they put the inspector on the stand who testifies that on such and such a day he purchased such and such goods at the defendant's place of business. They put the chemist on the stand who has analyzed that sample and then the prosecution rests. Then the defendant goes on the stand and he has no defense except to say that he didn't handle that kind of goods as a means of breaking the weight of the testimony of the other people. He should have a sample furnished to him at the time the goods were taken from his store and have his chemist then make an analysis of them, it would be better for the defense for the analysis of his chemist would then have greater weight with the jury in finding out whether he was guilty or not guilty.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. It certainly would.

Chairman KLINE. It means that he is as helpless as a child in this case and these defendants are usually found guilty regardless of the efforts of counsel for the defendant to show that a one-sided proposition it is in the eyes of the general public to the men on that jury. That is my experience.

Mr. MUEHLBRUNNER. There is no show for that fellow at all.

Mr. E. M. WEST being called, testified as follows:

Mr. WEST. The United States Government gives us notice; their inspector will come into our place of business and buy samples and tell us what they are going to do with them thereby giving us a chance to take samples of the same goods but the Dairy and Food people will prosecute us—they will come in and get a sample from one of our customers and four or six months afterwards we are notified that a suit has been brought against us. We have no way to protect them or ourselves.

Mr. McNICHOL. That would be a question to come up before the next session of the General Assembly. That would call for a general reconstruction of the law now given the Dairy and Food Commissioner who is now given that authority. It is a question in my mind whether this Commission have any right to act other than according to the provisions in the resolution creating it.

Mr. WEST. We expect that you will recommend that in your report.

Mr. McNICHOL. We could not recommend it because we are not empowered to take up that phase of the case While we recognize the justice of your proposition from personal contact, we realize that frequently a man is placed at a disadvantage because an inspector of the Dairy and Food Commission will come to his place of business and make a purchase of goods without any notice to the man that he is a representative of the Dairy and Food Commission and the first intimation that the seller has is when he is summoned to appear. Frequently he is in a position where he cannot say whether he made that sale on that particular day of not, but as far as the powers of this Commission are concerned I do not think we should go into that any more than to discuss it in a general day. The proper place for that complaint would be before the General Assembly when they again meet in Harrisburg in the beginning of the next year and ask for an amendment to the present law embodying your views which seem to be just and equitable. We realize that the facilities for prosecution other than an honest prosecution exists as long as the present condition prevails. There should be an equitable provision in the law whereby the defendant has the same chance as the prosecutor.

Mr. E. CULVER being called, testified as follows:

Chairman KLINE. Mr. Culver, could I ask you—eggs are sold undoubtedly at a higher price in January and February than in any other month?

Mr. CULVER. Usually; sometimes they are not but usually that is the case.

Chairman KLINE. Really fresh eggs are a rarity during those months?

Mr. CULVER. Almost invariably; during January and February and even in March we get a very high price for fresh eggs; it depends on the season.

Chairman KLINE. Could you give us some idea of the difference in price of cold storage eggs, say in January and February, as compared with the months of October and November—from your experience? You said you had been ten years in this business.

Mr. CULVER. It would be only in a very general way.

Chairman KLINE. Let us have it.

Mr. CULVER. Usually I would say, in January and February there is a difference of about ten or twelve cents per dozen between storage and fresh eggs at that time.

Chairman KLINE. Ten or twelve cents.

Mr. CULVER. Yes.

Chairman KLINE. When?

Mr. CULVER. In January and February; and in September and October there is possibly a difference of two or three cents in the price of storage and fresh eggs at that time. The storage eggs would then be about two cents a dozen lower than fresh eggs and in January and February the price is usually ten and twelve cents lower for storage eggs than for fresh eggs and sometimes a wider difference than that and these conditions very quite a great deal with different seasons.

Chairman KLINE. You take an egg and put it in storage until July, for example; that egg is held in storage storage until the next February; has the quality of that egg depreciated very much?

Mr. CULVER. Very greatly; an egg stored in July would not be if carried until November.

Chairman KLINE. It would not?

Mr. CULVER. No; unless the egg was of an exceptional fine quality—I am speaking of fresh eggs—at that time.

Chairman KLINE. When are eggs stored? I know I paid last winter something like sixty cents a dozen at one time. Now, these were supposed to be fresh eggs. I don't know what cold storage eggs were selling at at that time, but when would a good egg be sold as a cold storage egg—when would that egg be put in storage?

Mr. CULVER. For a good egg to be carried into cold storage to February or March it would be necessary to store an April egg.

Chairman KLINE. An April egg?

Mr. CULVER. Yes, that is the only egg fit for a long carry. We should be allowed to carry April eggs for twelve months and so on, the later the egg the shorter the carriage because the early egg is more fit for a long carry. We would make the season close on April first. All eggs stored previous to that time ought to be taken out and a shorter time for later eggs which are not fit for a long carry. The only egg fit to carry into January, February or March is an April egg.

Mr. MITCHELL. What is the chemical or physical reason for that fact? Why is an April egg suitable for a longer period of storage?

Mr. CULVER. The April egg has not been subjected to the heat and the hen that laid the egg has not been subjected to the heat. These are the principal reasons why hot-weather eggs will not carry into storage. These eggs all show the effects of the heat when held up before the light. They are more shrunken, more fibrous and contain a whole lot of defects that we do not get in the April egg. The thing is pretty well known that early in the spring is the time for parties to purchase their eggs and naturally at that time they purchase the best egg. Later eggs may be more plentiful but then the hens don't lay quite as good a quality of eggs. The earlier egg is solider and better and by all means a better egg to carry in storage than an egg laid at any other time of the year and we think if we were allowed twelve months for the April egg and a shorter time on these later eggs that it would be more equitable to the dealer and it would be greatly more protection to the consumer because, under the present law, they are allowed to carry eggs over into the other season but if you make the season for all eggs end on April first, then it would be impossible to carry them over.

Mr. McNICHOL. You mean to credit the time of storage from the date of the production of the egg?

Mr. CULVER. Yes.

Mr. McNICHOL. That is, you want the April egg stored a year, the May eleven months and so on?

Mr. CULVER. Yes.

Mr. McNICHOL. In order to make a general clean-up the first of April?

Mr. CULVER. Yes, of everything put in the previous season.

Mr. McNICHOL. And that everything put in prior to the succeeding first of April is to be removed?

Mr. CULVER. So far as eggs are concerned. I think it would be a good rule to apply to butter also but more especially to eggs. But I will say along that line that sometimes when we have an early season that we store eggs sometimes the latter part of March, and in that case I think that storing the last week of March, we should not be compelled to take them out on the first day of April, when only in a week, but should be allowed 12 months on them. Make a twelve months' limit on everything, but all of the previous season's goods should be taken out by the first of the following April.

By SENATOR KLINE.

Q. Are the larger profits made after the eight months' period?

A. Well, sometimes they are and sometimes they are not. Of course, at the present time there is no profit after the eight months period is up.

Q. I mean prior to the passage of this law?

A. Sometimes the larger profits have been made after the eight months' period and sometimes previous to it, just depending on the season.

Q. Usually the disastrous seasons we have come after this eight months' period.

A. Yes sir. There have been seasons, such as I spoke of, when eggs have been sold as low as one-third of the original cost; that is after the eight months' period is up and we are compelled to clean the old eggs out before the next season.

By HON. WILLIAM WALTON:

Q. On account of an extra early spring?

A. Yes sir.

By SENATOR KLINE.

Q. You say the April egg is the best egg? Does the collection of April eggs for cold storage have any effect upon the price of eggs than throughout the balance of the year?

A. Well, I would not say that it affects the price for the balance of the year. It may affect the price of eggs during the month of April.

Q. Can it have an effect upon the price of eggs in May and June?

A. There are a few eggs stored in May and June, but not so heavy as in April. I think the storing does have some effect on the price of eggs at that time as there is a certain percentage of the crop goes into storage. But you take the percentage of eggs that goes into the cold storage houses in the United States, and it is so small as compared with the total crop that it cannot affect the market very materially.

Q. Throughout the balance of the year?

A. Yes sir.

Q. The government statistics show that there is about 8% of the crop that goes into cold storage when all the cold storage houses over the United States are filled say with that percentage of the crop, what effect would it have on the market at that time?

A. I think that the storing of eggs has a great deal more effect on making cheaper prices in the winter than it does on advancing the prices in the spring. It has very little effect in the spring when we have an over production, but it does have a great effect in cheapening the price in the winter season when eggs are scarce.

Q. You are of the opinion that it does materially affect the price of eggs during the twelve months' period?

A. I think for the twelve months of the year the storing of goods makes the price much cheaper.

Q. How much does the price of eggs vary say from April to September, as a general rule, can you tell us that?

A. The price of storage eggs usually varies just enough to pay the carrying charges and allow the dealer about a cent a dozen profit.

Q. About a cent a dozen profit?

A. Yes sir.

Q. In addition to the cold storage charge?

A. Competition of this sort is so very keen that it is almost impossible for a dealer to make over a cent a dozen.

Q. How much to the general public? What is the difference in the value or price after the April eggs are bought up, what effect has that to the general public during July, August and September?

A. During those months I think it affects the price very little, to the general public.

Q. I mean with respect to the other eggs?

A. So do I.

Q. You are talking about the April egg for storage, which you say last for a year?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What effect does that have on the price of the other eggs that come along in May, June and July?

A. It affects the price very little during those months.

Q. Has the large percentage of eggs that are already in storage at that time any effect on the eggs produced after that time that go into consumption? You are going to put the best egg, the April egg, into storage, because it lasts longer, for the reason you have stated. How about the demand for the other eggs that came along in these other months, would it have any effect on the price of these eggs?

A. I cannot see how it would have any effect on the price during these months, buying the April eggs for storage.

By HON. THOMAS McNICHOL:

Q. In other words, you mean to say that the increase that would naturally come to the consumer through the storage of the April egg would be more than offset by the supply of eggs in January and February?

A. Oh yes, I think so, if you take the average price.

Q. Would be for the benefit of the consumer generally?

A. Most decidedly, yes sir, to the benefit of the consumer.

By Senator KLINE. Is there anybody else that desires to be heard?

Mr. JOHN L. PORTER:

In the event that an impression was created erroneously by the question put by one of the members of the Commission, it might be just as well to call your attention to the fact that if a lot of dealers were to withhold eggs in storage warehouses because of an advance that they expected to get out of it, that would constitute a conspiracy. A conspiracy would not be possible among the dealers of a large city, because the supply of eggs would regulate that very quickly. For instance, it could not be caused in Pittsburgh, because every egg dealer in Philadelphia, in New York, in Cleveland, Chicago and every large storage point are thoroughly familiar with the conditions existing here in Pittsburgh, and in 24 hours, or 29 hours possibly at the latest, they could have a car of eggs put in here that would break this market all to pieces. I say this, just fearful that a wrong impression had been created by that question, and I do not want it to go by. Another thing that ought to be stated here is that the municipal warehouse in Cleveland is really nothing different from what has existed in Pittsburgh and other places for years. The storage warehouses are open to anybody and everybody who wants a place to put their stuff away, and the great benefit we will all derive from the Cleveland situation is the fact that the consumer will realize how good cold storage food is, and will not hesitate to buy it, as I reason it.

By SENATOR KLINE.

Q. It will encourage the cold storage business?

A. Yes sir, and the consumption of cold storage foods. I think we will be heartily welcome.

By HON. Mr. MITCHELL:

Q. And the consumer will avail himself of the privilege of storing?

A. Naturally.

By SENATOR KLINE.

Q. That may be well and good for those who have sufficient moneys to do that and take advantage of it. You take the laboring man who lives from hand to mouth and he is obliged to pay in January say twenty-five per cent. more for his goods than the man who has money, for this reason, that the man who has money can during these seasons buy up quite a quantity to carry him over the winter, whereas, the working man lives from hand to mouth and buys in smaller quantities, say one-half a peck of potatoes and ten cents' worth of cabbage and sourkraut, while you and I put in enough of sourkraut to last all winter, then how is this municipal idea in Cleveland going to affect the poor fellow?

A. Simply in this way: That you and I, having already engaged our supply, we are not in the market for the goods. The result will not be so great a demand. You and I keep out, thereby benefitting the working man. We help to lower the prices because the supply is greater.

By HON. Mr. MITCHELL:

Q. Supposing I wanted to put thirty dozen of eggs in a storage house, what would be the tariff?

A. That is one case. There is a rate that seems to be thoroughly remunerative of ten cents a case per month. That doesn't seem an exorbitant charge.

By SENATOR KLINE.

Q. Ten cents a month for that thirty dozen?

A. Yes sir. In regard to statistics governing the production and the demand for the consumption of cold storage goods, when you gentlemen go to New York of you will send for a man named F. G. Urner, who is the statistician on this question, you can probably get anything on this line that you care to avail yourself of.

By Mr. THOMAS McNICHOL:

Q. This opens up a line of philanthropy, to supply the storage houses with goods, and give the working man the benefit of the lower prices?

A. Unfortunately philanthropy does not run in that direction. The opportunity is there.

By Mr. WILLIAM WALTON:

Q. You claim that this talk of a corner in eggs would be a conspiracy?

A. Yes sir.

By Senator KLINE: Is there any other gentleman present who would like to be heard?

No response.

By Senator KLINE. If not, the Commission will then take a recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

In accordance with the above ruling, at 12:15 P. M. a recess was taken until 2 o'clock P. M.

Pittsburgh, Pa., September 23, 1914.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Commission reconvened in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 2:00 o'clock P. M.

Present: Hon. Charles H. Kline, Chairman; Hon. A. W. Mitchell; Hon. J. Harry Morgan, and W. P. Gallagher, Secretary.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Kline.

Chairman KLINE. The hour of two having arrived, the Commission will please come to order. The object of adjournment for lunch was to give an opportunity to all persons not here this morning to be heard, and if there is any person present who desires to be heard, either for or against this question, we will be very glad to hear them at this time.

No response.

Chairman KLINE. If there is no person present who desires to be heard, the Commission then stands adjourned.

Whereupon, at 2:30 o'clock P. M., the Commission adjourned.

THE FINDINGS.

The Commission begs leave to make the following findings of fact on cold storage in compliance with the questions contained in the resolution creating the Commission:

FIRST.

THE NECESSITY OF COLD STORAGE, AND THE PROPER PROVISIONS FOR THE PROTECTION OF PERISHABLE PRODUCTS.

The Commission finds that nearly all perishable foodstuffs are "seasonal" and have their time of "flush" and their time of "scant" production; further, they are subjected to the vicissitudes of seasons. Perishable foods are raised that they may be consumed, and the fact that they are perishable according to the law of nature, implies that if they are not to be wasted, then some adequate means must be provided whereby their perishability should be held in check for the greatest length of time consistent with the public health. There are various methods devised to conserve the original native quality of animal and vegetable substances, various economical methods, drying methods, and the preservation by means of cold, or known today as cold storage or refrigeration. Cold storage has been pronounced by those learned in the preservation of foodstuffs, as the best means of preserving the original native quality of perishable foods, which has given birth to or the necessity for cold storage, which is now the universal method of preserving the original native quality of perishable foods.

SECOND.

THE VALUES OF SUCH PRODUCTS TO THE PRODUCER AND THE COMMUNITY AT THE PERIOD OF THE GREATEST PRODUCTION, WHEN THE SUPPLY EXCEEDS THE DEMAND, AND AT ALL OTHER TIMES.

The Commission believes, through the development of the cold storage system, the aggregate available supply of food products of certain classes, is materially increased beyond what it would otherwise be, for the reason that such preservation enables that part of the supply in excess of the powers of consumption at the time of production, to be carried over and made available at periods when there is little or no natural supply. If it were not for this artificial means of preservation, the producers of many perishable products would be forced to limit their output to the quantity that could be profitable sold for immediate consumption. The ability to accumulate during the periods of maximum output, enables the producer to increase his products, and thereby confers an important economical benefit, not only upon such producer by enabling him to obtain a fair average of price and by permitting larger transactions, but also on the whole body of consumers, by promoting a larger production and more uniform prices. From the testimony it appears that accumulations of food products in cold storage, during the season of excess products, is practically exhausted before the next season of "flush" begins, and the ability to carry food products in cold storage from the period of greatest production, throughout the later period of shortage, greatly increases the opportunity for profitable production, without enhancing the average price, and adds to the food supply. We believe that cold storage is an equalizer of prices, and a study of the various tables of the production of various food products, proves the fact that prices during the year have been maintained nearer a level since cold storage has become a factor, than before the days of artificial preservation of foods by cold storage.

THIRD.

THE LENGTH OF TIME CERTAIN FOODSTUFFS SHOULD REMAIN UNDER REFRIGERATION OR COLD STORAGE.

This is a question that requires a great deal of thought. Laws upon this question very in the few states that have Cold Storage laws. In the consideration of this question we should keep in mind above all, the paramount reasons for the advocacy of cold storage, namely the preservation of food products, the preservation of the same when the supply exceeds the demand, that these products may be had by the consumer at reasonable prices during the scarce season of the year, when, otherwise, certain foodstuffs would be prohibitive to a large portion of the community; in other words, for the equalization of prices of foodstuffs throughout the entire year. Refrigeration as to the length of time certain foodstuffs should remain in cold storage so far, has been an experiment, and our conclusions can only be reached through the testimony taken by the commission at its different sittings, result of like commissions of other States, and the endless research of the Agricultural Department of the United States whose expert also appeared before the commission.

Cold storage has brought about a constant market for all seasonal productions. If we did not have cold storage these would necessarily be a curtailment in the production of fruits, of meats, of butter, of eggs and other food products.

We find that cold storage products are of incalculable value to the consumer, and, therefore, to the community. Our investigation has not shown that in periods of plenty the cost of food is high because of storing such food until the period of scarcity. As a matter of fact the percentage of food stored is very low, being, for example, only 10 per cent. of the entire output.

FOURTH.

WHETHER REFRIGERATION OR COLD STORAGE PRODUCTS SHALL BE BRANDED, AND IF SO, WHAT SHALL BE DETERMINED TO BE REFRIGERATION PRODUCTS, OR COLD STORAGE PRODUCTS OR BOTH?

In reference to this question the commission is of the opinion that all consumers must be judges of the quality of goods produced and that regardless of branding, they must largely depend upon the honesty of the merchant. As already stated, the length of storage is not a criterion or quality, and this being the case most branding laws do not accomplish what is intended. It is manifestly unjust to brand as "cold storage" goods that are placed in a warehouse for short periods. In mid-summer, concerns that do not own private refrigeration plants are compelled to keep them in atmospheric, and changeable temperature, for under the present law, if they were to be put into a cold storage plant for even an hour, they would be branded. There is no good reason why products, especially fish, should not be carried over for temporary periods in a cold storage warehouse without going into the class of cold storage food. As to fish, it is physically impossible to brand each fish and any law or rule providing for such branding is impossible and an extraordinary burden upon the industry.

FIFTH.

THE EFFECT ON THE PRICE OF COMMODITIES BY REASON OF PLACING THEM UNDER MECHANICAL REFRIGERATION OR COLD STORAGE.

After careful consideration of this question, the commission is of the opinion that it has the effect of making prices lower and steadier; that through this medium the market of certain commodities is extended, enabling producers and dealers to dispose of their stock throughout the entire year. Through the medium of cold storage, foodstuffs can be taken out of the market during the season of abundance and held in a wholesome and palatable condition until the season of scarcity, when the prices are high and prohibitory to a large portion of the community, and can be sold at a price much less than the articles of food produced in the scarcity season, which tends to the equalization of prices, preventing them from alternately falling so low and rising so high as would otherwise be the case.

In answer to this question pertaining to the effect on the prices of commodities, a few facts touching the relation of the cold storage man to the prices is perishable foodstuffs are pertinent.

It appears to the commission that there is no conspiracy between the cold storage warehouses and the merchants for the purpose of increasing the prices of goods to the detriment of the consumer, which is the general impression. The cold storage warehouse men are merely custodians of property; they have no pecuniary interest in eggs, butter or other products placed in their possession, and under no condition do they profit by reason of the abnormal prices on eggs or any other food commodity given to them for preservaton.

SIXTH.

THE RELATION OF COLD STORAGE OR REFRIGERATION TO THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

This has been fully considered in the preceding inquiry. When there is scarcity of production, naturally the demand is greater than the production. Should the medium of cold storage be dispensed with, or the season for carrying cold storage products be so limited so as not to allow producers and dealers to carry their surplus product to the season of scarcity, naturally the prices of foodstuff would be higher in the scarce season than in the season of plenty, and would advance the cost of living.

SEVENTH.

THE EFFECTS OF COLD STORAGE LEGISLATION IN THIS AND OTHER STATES.

The commission is of the opinion that great consideration should be given to the question of public health and prices which are so materially involved in the question of cold storage and therefore legislation is necessary for the regulation of this business, but the business should not be so hampered as to defeat the main purpose of necessity of refrigeration. The object of regulation should be to prevent abuses and protect consumers without imposing unreasonable restrictions that would interfere with its legislative operation and hamper its proper development. The laws of the other states seemingly have taken the same view, and it is the general belief that the adoption of reasonable measures of regulation will help to establish popular confidence with respect to cold storage, promote better relation between the cold storage interests and the public, and place the business on a more satisfactory footing, to the advantage of everyone.

EIGHTH.

THE ADVISABILITY OF A UNIFORM COLD STORAGE OR REFRIGERATION LAW.

This is believed by the commission to be the best solution of the cold storage question. As it is today, the laws of one state conflict with another, hamper and destroy the business of another state, all of which is caused by the diversification of views upon this subject. So that this may be obviated and that the producers, dealers and consumers may be treated alike, the commission is of the opinion that legislation affecting cold storage should be uniform and that no one state should enact a law in the subject that differs as to the time limits and branding from the existing laws in other states.

COLD STORAGE ACTS OF OTHER STATES

CALIFORNIA.

An Act relating to cold storage, the regulation or refrigerating warehouses, the disposition or sale of food kept or preserved therein, and defining the duties of the state board of health in relation therto.

(Approved June 13, 1913. In effect Aug. 10, 1913)

The people of the state of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The term "cold storage" as used in this act shall be construed to mean a place artificially cooled to a temperature of forty degrees Farenheit or below but shall not include such a place in a private home The term "cold stored" as used in this act shall be construed to mean the keeping of "articles of food" excepting eggs and butter, in "cold storage" for a period exceeding thirty days; provided, however, that when the term "cold storage" is used in connection with eggs and butter, it shall mean the keeping of these "articles of food" in "cold storage" for any length of time whatever. The term "articles of food" as used in this act shall be construed to mean and include fresh meat, and fresh meat products, (except in process of manufacture), fresh fruit and vegetables, fish, shellbarks, game, poultry, eggs, butter and cheese. The term "storer" as used in this act shall be construed to mean the person or persons who offer articles of food for cold storage.

Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to operate a public cold storage or refrigerating warehouse, shall make application in writing to the state board of health for that purpose, stating the location of its plant or plants. On receipt of the application the state board of health shall cause an examination to be made into the sanitary condition of said plant or plants and if found to be in a sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for the business of cold storage, the state board of health shall cause a license to be issued authorizing the applicant to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse for and during a period of one year. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee of fifty dollars to the state board of health. The secretary of the state board of health shall keep a full and correct account of all fees received under the provisions of this act, and shall, at least once each month, deposit all such fees collected with the state treasurer, and make a detailed report covering same to the state controller, and such moneys shall be credited to the traveling and contingent fund of the state board of health, to be used exclusively for the purposes of this act.

Section 3. In the event that any place or places, or any part thereof, covered by a license, under the provision of this act shall at any time be deemed by the state board of health to be in an unsanitary condition, it shall be the duty of the state board of health to notify licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put said specified place or places, or the specified part thereof, in a sanitary condition within a designated time, it shall be the duty of the state board of health to prohibit the use under its license (of) such specified place or places, or part thereof, as is done in an unsanitary condition until such time as it may be put in a sanitary condition.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of any person, firm or corporation, licensed to operate a cold storage or refrigeration warehouse to keep an accurate record of the receipts and the withdrawals of the articles of food, and the state board of health shall have free access to those records at any time. Every such person, firm or corporation, shall, furthermore, submit a quarterly report to the state board of health, setting forth in itemized particulars quantity of food products held in cold storage. Such quartely reports shall be filed on or before the twenty-fifth day of January, April, July and October of each year, and the reports so rendered shall show the conditions existing on the first day of the month in which the report is filed. The state board of health shall have the authority to require such reports to be made at more frequent intervals than the time herein specified, if in the judgment of the state board of health more frequent reports shall be needed in the interest of a proper enforcement of this act, or for other reasons affecting the public welfare.

Section 5. No storer shall place in cold storage any article of food intended for human consumption, if diseased, tainted or deteriorated so as to injure its keeping qualities, or if not slaughtered, handled and prepared for storage in accordance with the pure food anad sanitary food laws and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the state board of health for the sanitary preparation of food products for cold storage, under the authority hereinafter conferred.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to inspect and supervise all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses in this state, and to make such inspection of the entry or articles of food therein as the state board of health may deem necessary to secure proper enforcement of this act. The members of the state board of health or its duly authorized agents, inspectors or employes, shall be permitted access to such establishments and all parts thereof at all reasonable times for purposes of inspection and enforcement of the provisions of this act. The state board of health may also appoint and designate, at such salary or salaries as it may designate, such person or persons as it deems qualified to make the inspections herein required.

Section 7. All articles of food when deposited in cold storage shall be marked plainly on or in connection with the containers in which they are packed on the individual article with the date of receipt, and when removed from cold storage shall be marked with the date of withdrawal, in accordance with such forms as may be prescribed by the state board of health, under the authority hereinafter conferred.

Section 8. No person, firm or corporation as owners or having control shall keep in cold storage any article of food for a longer period than twelve calendar months, except with the consent of the state board of health, as hereinafter provided. The state board of health, shall, upon application, grant permission to extend the period of storage beyond twelve months for a particular consignment of goods, if the goods in question are found, upon examination, to be in proper condition for further storage at the end of twelve months. The length of time for which further storage is allowed shall be specified in the order granting the permission. A report on each case in which such extension of storage may be permitted, including information relating to the reason for the action of the state board of health the kind and amount of goods for which the storage period was extended, and the length of time for which the continuance was granted, shall be included in the annual report of the state board of health.

Section 9. It shall be unlawful to sell, or to offer or expose for sale, uncooked articles of food which have been cold stored without notifying persons purchasing, or intending to purchase, the same that they have geen kept in cold storage by the display, in a conspicuous place and upon the articles of food, of a sign marked, "These are cold stored goods," in type at least two inches high; and it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh goods articles of food which have been placed in cold storage.

Section 10. It shall be unlawful to return to cold storage any aticle of food that has once been released from such storage and placed on the market for sale to consumers, but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transfer of goods from one cold storage or refrigerating warehouse to another; provided, that such transfer is not made for the purpose of evading any provision of this act.

Section 11. The state board of health may make rules and regulations to secure a proper enforcement of the provisions of this act, including rules and regulations with respect to the sanitary preparation of articles of food for cold storage, the use of marks, tags or labels, and the display of signs, and the violation of such rules shall be punished on conviction, as provided in section 12 of this act.

Section 12. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 13. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

NEW JERSEY.

An Act relating to cold storage and refrigerating warehouses and places, and the sale or disposition of the food kept or preserved therein.

BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey,

1. The term food as used in this act shall include any article used for food, except liquid food.

2. It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, persons or corporation engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen, or in the business of refrigerating, or who own, operate, control or lease any cold storage or refrigerating plant to receive, nor shall any such person, persons or corporation place therein any article of food unless said food or the package containing the same is branded, stamped or marked in some conspicuous place, upon the receipt thereof, with the day, month and year when the same was received for storage or refrigerating, and it shall be unlawful for any such person, persons or corporation to receive any article of food which has been kept in cold storage without the state, unless at the time of such receipt such article offered is branded, stamped or marked with the day, month or year when it was placed in the cold storage in such other state, or such person, persons or corporation as shall have obtained the consent of the State Board of Health to receive such article of food.

3. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, or corporation engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or in the business of refrigerating, or who own, operate, control, or lease any cold storage or refrigerator plant, to permit any article of any kind whatsoever used for food now in the possession o fany person, persons, or corporation now engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or refrigerating, or who own, operate, control or lease any cold storage or refrigerating plant, to be taken from their possession without first having been branded, stamped or marked on said article of food or the package containing the same, in a conspicuous place, the day, month and year when said article of food or package was received by any such person, persons or corporation engaged in the business aforesaid, or by any person, persons or corporation owning, operating, controlling or leasing any cold storage plant.

4. It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, persons or corporation engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or refrigerating, or who own, operate, control or lease any cold storage or refrigerating plant, to keep in storage for preservation or otherwise any article of food a longer period than ten calendar months without the consent, as herein provided, of the State Board of Health or its duly authorized agents or officers, or except as hereinafter otherwise provided.

5 The State Board of Health is hereby vested with full power and authority, and it shall be the duty of said board, to inspect and supervise all places in this state now or hereafter used for cold storage or refrigerating purposes; the members of the State Board of Health or its dully authorized agents or employes of said board shall be permitted access to such place or places and all parts thereof at all times for the purpose of seeing that said place or places are kept and maintained in a clean and sanitary condition, and for the purpose of determining whether or not the provisions of this act or any other act relating to articles of food are being compiled with. The State Board of Health is hereby granted power and authority to adopt such reasonable rules and regulations as may be essential to the proper protection of the consumer of the commodities kept and preserved in such place or places, and the State Board of Health may appoint and designate from time to time such person or persons as said board may deem fit for the purpose of making such inspection.

6. All persons or corporations engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or in the business of refrigerating, or who own, operate, control or lease any cold storage or refrigerating plant, shall submit a quarterly report to the State Board of Health, upon printed forms to be provided by said State Board of Health, setting forth in itemiized particulars the quantity of each and every article of food in storage, or in the control of said, person or persons, corporation or corporations; said quarterly report shall be filed on or before the twenty-fifth day of January, April, July and October of each year, and reports so rendered shall show conditions existing upon the first day of the month in which said report is filed.

7. In the event of any food, or any article used for food, being kept or maintained in refrigerating or cold storage places for a longer period than ten months, report of such fact shall be filed by the person, persons or corporation operating such cold storage or refrigerating place, or by those owning, operating, controlling or leasing any said cold storage or refrigerating plant with the State Board of Health, upon blanks to be provided by said State Board of Health upon application, and no such food or article used for food shall, after the expiration of said period of ten months, be delivered to any person, persons or corporation without a certificate from the State Board of Health first had and obtained authorizing such delivery. Power is hereby given to said State Board of Health or its proper agents, to extend the time when any particular food stuff or article used for food may be kept, maintained or preserved in such place or places.

8. The transfer of any food from one cold storage or refrigerating warehouse to another, for the purpose of evading any provision of this act, is hereby prohibited.

9. When food which has been in cold storage is released therefrom for the purpose of placing on the market for sale, it shall be a violation of the provisions of this act to knowingly again place such food in cold storage.

10. Any article of food kept or preserved in any cold storage warehouse or refrigerating place for a longer period than herein provided, after at least twenty days' notice to the owner or consignor of such articles of food to remove the same, shall be sold at public auction by the person, persons or corporation having the custody of the same, and at the place where the same is kept or preserved; such sale shall be within thirty days after the time limited for the keeping or preserving thereof, and the proceeds of such sale shall be paid to the owner or consignor thereof after deducting storage or other charges thereon, unless said food has been condemned as unfit for use by the State Board of Health, in which case it shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of under such conditions as the State Board of Health may prescribe.

11. Any persor or persons, corporation or corporations, or officer or officers thereof violating any of the provisions of this act, shall, upon conviction, be subject to a penalty of not exceeding five hundred dollars for the first offense. Any such person or persons, corporation or corporations, or officer or officers thereof, having once been convicted of violating any provision of this act shall, upon a second offense, be held guilty of a misdemeanor. The conviction of any corporation shall not operate to relieve any officer or officers, agents or employes of such corporation from prosecution under the provisions of this act.

12. If any paragragh or provision of this act shall be questioned in any court and held to be invalid, the remainder of this act shall not be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

13. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

14. This act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 21, 1911.

NORTH DAKOTA

Senate Bill No. 48.

A Bill For An Act Entitled, "An Act Relating to Cold Storage and Refrigerating Warehouses, the Disposition or Sale of the Food Kept or Preserved Therein, and Defining the Duties of the Food Commissioner of the North Dakota Government Agricultural Experiment Station in Relation thereto and Providing Penalties for the Violation Thereof.

Be it Enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota:

Section 1 The term "Cold Storage" as used in this act shall be construed to mean a place artifically cooled to a temperature of 40 degrees F. or below, but shall not include such a place in a private home, hotel or restaurant, or refrigerator cars.

The term "Cold Storage" as used in this Act shall be construed to mean the keeping of "Articles of Food," in "Cold Storage" for a period exceeding thirty days.

The term "Articles of Food" as used in this Act shall be construed to mean and include fresh meat, and fresh meat products, except in process of manufacture, fresh food, fish, game, poultry, eggs and butter.

Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to operate a public cold storage or refrigerator warehouse, shall make application in writing to the Food Commissioner of the Experiment Station at Fargo for that purpose, stating the location of its plant or plants. On receipt of the application the Food Commissioner shall cause an examination to be made into the sanitary condition of said plant or plants, and if found to be in a sanitary condition and otherwise, properly equipped for the business of cold storage,the Food Commissioner shall cause a license to be issued authoriizng the applicant to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse for and during the period of one year. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00) to the Food Commissioner.

Section 3. In the event that any place or places, or any part thereof covered by a license, under the provisions of this Act, shall at any time be deemed by the Food Commissioner to be in an unsanitary condition, it shall be the duty of the Food Commissioner to notify licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put said specified place or places, or the specified part thereof, in a sanitary condition within a designated time, it shall be the duty of the Food Commissioner to prohibit the use under its license such specified place or places, or part thereof, as he deems in an unsanitary condition until such time as it may be put in a sanitary condition.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of any person, firm or corporation licensed to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse to keep an accurate record of the receipts and the withdrawals of the articles of food, and the Food Commissioner shall have free access to those records at any time. Every such person, firm or corporation shall, furthermore, submit a quarterly report to the Food Commissioner, setting forth in itemized particular the quantity of food products held in cold storage. Such quarterly reports shall be filed on or before the 6th day of January, April, July and October of each year, and the reports so rendered shall show the conditions existing on the first day of the month in which the report is filed. The Food Commissioner shall have the authority to require such reports to be made at more frequent intervals than the times herein specified, if in the judgment of the Food Commissioner more frequent reports shall be needed in the interest of a proper enforcement of this Act, or for other reasons affecting the public welfare.

Section 5. No article of food intended for human consumption shall be placed in cold storage if diseased or tainted or deteriorated so as to injure its keeping qualities, or if not slaughtered, handled and prepared for storage in accordance with the pure food and sanitary laws and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Food Commissioner for the sanitary preparation of food products, for cold storage, under the authority hereinafter conferred. Any article of food if intended for use other than human consumption before being cold stored shall be marked by the owner in accordance with forms prescribed by the Food Commissioner (under authority hereinafter conferred) in such a way as to plainly indicate the fact that such articles are not to be sold for human food.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of the Food Commissioner to inspect and supervise all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses in this state, and to make such inspection of the entry of articles of food therein as the Food Commissioner may deem necessary to secure proper enforcement of this Act. The Food Commissioner, or his duly authorized agents, inspectors or employes, shall be permitted access to such establishments and all parts thereof at all reasonable times for purposes of inspection and enforcement of the provisions of this Act. The said Food Commissioner may also appoint and designate such person or persons as he deems qualified to make the inspection herein required.

Section 7. All articles of food when deposited in cold storage shall be marked plainly on the containers in which they are packed or on or in connection with the individual article with the date of receipt, and when removed from cold storage shall be marked with the date of withdrawal, in accordance with such forms as may be prescribed by the Food Commissioner, under the authority herein conferred.

Section 8. No person, firm or corporation as owners or having control shall keep in cold storage any article of food for a longer period than twelve calendar months, except with the consent of the Food Commissioner as hereinafter provided. The Food Commissioner may upon application, grant permission to extend the period of storage beyond twelve months for a particular consignment of goods, if the goods in question are found, upon examination, to be in proper condition for further storage at the end of twelve months. The length of time for which further storage is allowed shall be specified in the order granting the permission. A report on each case in which such extension of storage may be permitted, including information relating to the reason for the action of the Food Commissioner, the kind and the amount of goods for which the storage period was extended, and the length of time for which the continuance was granted, shall be included in the annual report of the Food Commissioner.

Section 9. It shall be unlawful to sell, or to offer or expose for sale unchecked articles of food which have been held in cold storage without notifying persons purchasing, or intending to purchase, the same, that they have been so kept by the display of a sign marked "Cold Storage Goods Sold Here," and it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh goods, articles of food which have been held in cold storage.

Section 10. It shall be unlawful to return to cold storage any article of food that has once been released from such storage and placed on the market for sale to customers, but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transfer of goods from one cold storage or refrigerating warehouse to another, provided that such transfer iis not made for the purpose of evading any provision of this Act.

Section 11. The Food Commissioner may make rules and regulations to secure a proper enforcement of the provisions of this Act, including rules and regulations with respect to the sanitary preparation of articles of food for cold storage, the use of marks, tags, or labels, and the display of signs, and the violation of such rules shall be punished on conviction, as provided in section 12 of this Act.

Section 12. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Act shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine not less than ten ($10) dollars and not more than one hundred ($100) dollars and for the second offense by a fine not less than fifty ($50) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500) dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, or by such fines and imprisonment.

Section 13. What Constitutes Violation of the Law. The doing of anything prohibited by this Act shall be evidence of the violation of the provisions of this Act relating to the things so prohibited and the omission to do anything directed to be done shall be evidence of a violation of the provisions of this Act relative to the things so directed to be done.

Section 14. All Acts and parts of Acts conflicting with the provisions of this statute are hereby repealed.

NEW YORK

An Act to amend the public health law relating to cold storage and refrigerating warehouses and places, and the sale or disposition of the food kept or preserved therein. Became a law June 15, 1911, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Chapter forty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An Act in relation to the public health, constituting chapter forty-five of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended by adding after article sixteen thereof, a new article, to be article sixteen-a, to read as follows:

ARTICLE 16-A.

Cold Storage.

Section 335. Definitions.
Section 336. Cold storage food to be marked.
Section 337. Time that cold storage food may be kept.
Section 338. Powers of state commissioner of health.
Section 339. Reports of warehousemen.
Section 339-a. Transfers from one warehouse to another.
Section 339-b. Prohibits return of food to cold storage when once released for purpose of placing same on market for sale.
Section 339-c. Prohibits sale of food kept in cold storage without representing said fact.
Section 339-d. Penalties.

335-d. Definitions. The term food as used in this article shall include any article, except nuts, fruits, cheese and vegetables, used for food by man or animal and every ingredient of such article.

336. Cold storage food to be marked. It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person or persons, corporation or corporations, engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or in the business of refrigerating, to receive any kind of food unless the said food is in an apparently pure and wholesome condition, and the food or the package containing the same is branded, stamped or marked, in some conspicuous place, with the day, month and year, when the same is received in storage or refrigeration.

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, corporation or corporations, engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or in the business of refrigerating to permit any article of any kind whatsoever used for food in the possession of any person or persons, corporation or corporations, engaged in the business of cold storage warehousemen or refrigerating, to be taken from their possession without having first branded, stamped or marked on said foodstuffs or the package containing same, in a conspicuous place, the day, month and year, when said foodstuffs or package was removed from cold storage or refrigeration.

It shall be unlawful to sell, or to offer or expose for sale uncooked articles of food which have been held in cold storage without notifying persons purchasing, or intending to purchase the same, that they have been so kept by the display of a sign marked "Cold Storage Goods Sold Here," and it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh goods articles of food which have been held in cold storage.

Section 10. Re-storage prohibited. It shall be unlawful to return to cold storage any article of food that has once been released from such storage and placed on the market for sale to consumers, but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transfer of goods from one cold storage or refrigerating warehouse to another, Provided, that such transfer is not made for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act.

Section 11. Rules—regulations—labels. The state dairy and food commissioner may make rules and regulations to secure a proper enforcement of the provisions of this act, including rules and regulations with respect to the sanitary preparation of articles of food for cold storage, the use of marks, tags, or labels, and the display of signs, and the violation of such rules shall be punished on conviction, as provided in section 12 of this act.

Section 12. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.00 and the second offense by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 13. Repeal. All acts and parts of acts conflicting with the provisions of the statute are hereby repealed. (Laws, Thirty-fifth General Assembly.)

NEBRASKA.

For an Act relating to cold storage and refrigerating warehouses, the disposition or sale of the food kept or preserved therein, and defining the duties of food drug and dairy commissioner in relation thereto.

Section 1. Cold storage defined.—The term "cold storage" as used in this act shall be considered to mean a place artifically cooled to a temperature of 40 degrees F., or below, but shall not include such a place in a private house, hotel, or restaurant, or refrigerator cars.

The term "cold storage" as used in this act shall be construed to mean the keeping of "articles of food" in "cold storage" for a period exceeding thirty days.

The term "articles of food" as used in this act shall be construed to mean and include fresh meat and fresh meat products, except in process of manufacture, fresh food fiish, game, poultry, eggs and butter.

Section 2. Cold storage warehouses licensed by food commission-license.—Any person, firm or corporation desiring to operate a public cold storage refrigerating warehouse, shall make application in writing to the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission for that purpose, stating the location of its plant or plants. On receipt of the application the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission shall cause an examination to be made into the sanitary condition of said plant or plants and if found to be in a sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for the business of cold storage, the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission shall cause a license to be issued authorizing the applicant to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse for and during the period of one year; Provided, all licenses shall expire on the 31st day of December of the year in which they are issued. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee of five dollars to the treasurer of the State.

Section 3. Unsanitary places prohibited from storing food stuff—inspection.—In the event that any place or places, or any part thereof, covered by a license, under the provisions of this act, shall at any time be deemed by the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission to be in an unsanitary condition, it shall be the duty of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission to notify licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put such specified place or places, or the specified part thereof, in a sanitary condition within a designated time it shall be the duty of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission to prohibit the use under its license such specified place or places, or part thereof, as it deems in an unsanitary condition until such time as it may be put in a sanitary condition.

Section 4. Record articles stored—reports of food commissioner.—It shall be the duty of any person, firm or corporation licensed to operate a cold storage or refrigeration warehouse to keep an accurate record of the receipts and withdrawals of the articles of food, and the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission shall have free access to these records at any time. Every such person, firm or corporation shall, furthermore, submit a quarterly report to the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission, setting forth in itemized particulars the quantity of food products held in cold storage. Such quarterly reports shall be filed on or before the 6th day of January, April, July and October of each year, and the reports so rendered shall show the conditions existing of the first day of the month in which the report is filed. The Food, Drug and Dairy Commission shall have the authority to require such reports to be made at more frequent intervals than the times herein specified, if in the judgment of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission more frequent reports shall be needed in the interest of a proper enforcement of this act, or for other reasons affecting the public welfare

Section 5. Diseased or tainted food not to be stored.—No article of food intended for human consumption shall be placed in cold storage if diseased or tainted or deteriorated so as to injure its keeping qualities, or if not slaughtered, handled and prepared for storage in accordance with the pure food and sanitary food laws and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission for the sanitary preparation of food products for cold storage, under the authority hereinafter conferred. Any article of food if intended for use other than human consumption before being cold stored shall be marked by the owner in accordance with forms prescribed by the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission (under authority hereinafter conferred) in such a way as to plainly indicate the fact that such articles are not to be sold for human food.

Section 6. Inspection of warehouses by food Commissioner.—It shall be the duty of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission to inspect and supervise all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses in this state, and to make such inspection of the entry of articles of food therein as the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission may deem necessary to secure proper enforcement of this act. The Food, Drug and Dairy Commissioner, his deputy, inspectors or employees, shall be permitted access to such establishments and all parts thereof at all reasonable times for purposes of inspection and enforcement of the provisions of this act. The said Food, Drug and Dairy Commission may also appoint and designate such person or persons as it deems qualified to make the inspections therein required.

Section 7. Marking package date received. All articles of food when deposited in cold storage shall be marked plainly on the containers in which they are packed or on or in connection with the individual article with the date of receipt, and when removed from cold storage shall be marked with the date of withdrawal, in accordance with such forms as may be prescribed by the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission, under the authority hereinafter conferred.

Section 8. Food stuff not to be stored more than one year. No person, firm or corporation as owners or having control shall keep in cold storage any article of food for a longer period than twelve calendar months, except with the consent of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission as hereinafter provided. The Food, Drug and Dairy Commission may, upon application, grant permission to extend the period of storage beyond twelve months for a particular consignment of goods, if the goods in question are found, upon examination, to be in proper condition for further storage at the end of twelve months. The length of time for which further storage is allowed shall be specified in the order granting the permission. A report on each case in which such extension of storage may be permitted, including information relating to the reason for the action of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission, the kind and the amount of goods for which the storage period was extended, and the length of time for which the continuance was granted, shall be included in the annual report of the Food, Drug and Dairy Commission.

Section 9. Dealers in cold storage article to notify purchaser. It shall be unlawful to sell, or to offer or expose for sale uncooked articles of food which have been held in cold storage without notifying persons purchasing or intending to purchase, the same that they have been so kept by the display of a sign marked "Cold Storage Goods Sold Here," and it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh goods articles of food which have been held in cold storage.

Section 10. Restorage after removal. It shall be unlawful to return to cold storage any article of food that has once been released from such storage and placed on the market for sale to consumers, but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transfer of goods from one cold storage or refrigerating warehouse to another; Provided, such transfer is not made for the purpose of evading any provisions of this act.

Section 11. Rules and regulations prepared by food commission. The Food, Drug and Dairy Commission may make rules and regulations to secure a proper enforcement of the provisions of this act, including rules and regulations with respect to the sanitary preparation of articles of food for cold storage, the use of marks, tags, or labels, and the display of signs, and the violation of such rules shall be punished on conviction, as provided in section 12 of this act.

Section 12. Penalties. Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Section 13. Repealing clause. All act and parts of acts conflicting with the provisions of this statute are hereby repealed.

PREJUDICE AGAINST WORD "COLD STORAGE."

In these days of enlightenment it is unnecessary to dwell at any length upon the necessity of cold storage. The use of refrigeration every day of the year, in every climate and by almost every person, directly or indirectly, is so well known that to go into the subject of necessity would be both fruitless and idle.

Notwithstanding this universal use of cold storage there is no denying the fact that a certain prejudice against the words "cold storage" exists in the minds of many people—a prejudice that is as unjust as mysterious. Thousands who daily put into practice the principles of cold storage by means of crude and unscientific methods, look upon the term "cold storage" with horror and disdain.

J. A. Ruddock, the Canadian Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, says in this connection:

"Every family that makes use of a kitchen refrigerator, or that places milk, butter, meats, fruit, or other vegetables in a cold cellar puts into practice the principles which underlie the operation of the most up-to-date cold-storage warehouse in the country. The difference is one of degree as measurd by the temperature employed in each case.

"The thrifty householder who lays in a supply of butter, poultry, meats, etc., during the early part of the winter, when much things are in supply, and then keeps them in some unheated storeroom in a frozen condition for several months, is employing exactly the same means to preserve them as if they were taken to a cold-storage warehouse, with this qualification, that in the warehouse there is practically no change of temperature—no danger from thaws—and therefore greater certainty of preservation.

"The farmer who keeps apples, potatoes, or any other vegetable in a "pit" during the winter is taking advantage of the preservative effect of a low temperature when he covers them only sufficiently to prevent the frost from penetrating.

"The fruit grower who stores his apples in a frost-proof warehouse depends on the same means of presrvation as the cold-storage man does, namely, a low temperature without frost. There is no difference in the effect, whether the temperature is reduced naturally or whether the same result is brought about by artificial means. The advantage, however, is with the cold-storage warehouse, because the temperature can be absolutely controlled and the preservative effect of "cold" can be applied when it is most needed, namely, during the warm weather of autumn or immeditely after the fruit is harvested and before cold weather arrives.

"Perishable food products are so called because of the tendency to undergo change and decay. These changes are controlled to some extent by the degree of heat to which the articles are exposed. Thus milk will keep sweet longer in a cool cellar than it will in a warm pantry, and a well iced refrigerator will keep it longer than the cellar, because of the lower temperature. These somewhat obvious facts are mentioned to show that the cold storage industry is merely the organized and systematic application of well-known and long practiced principles.

"The cold-storage industry benefits both the producer and the consumer by working to prevent alternate periods or glut and scarcity, accompanied by unprofitable prices at one time and exhorbitant or prohibitive prices at the other extreme. The benefits derived from cold storage are well illustrated in its influence on the egg trade. There are other methods of preserving eggs, but of late years cold storage has been recognized as the most efficient. If it were not for the cold-storage facilities which are now available the price of eggs would, for lack of a market, go so low during the laying period of spring and early summer that production would be seriously discouraged, and the scarcity which would result during the off season would boost prices for all kinds of eggs to such an extent as to make them prohibitive for the majority of the people.

"The use of cold storage gives the producer a fair price for his eggs at all season, and the consumer can secure a storage egg in fair condition during the fall and winter months at reasonable prices. No one would claim that a cold storage egg is equal to a fresh-laid egg, but fresh laid eggs are not available in any quantity, and without the storage eggs a large proportion of the people would be unable to secure eggs of any kind during the winter months, no matter what price might be paid for them. The same thing applies to butter, poultry, meat and fruit in a lesser degree."

SUPPLY AND DEMAND.

By artificial means of preservation, perishable products are accumulated during periods of maximum output, and this increases the supply of food beyond what it would otherwise be. To arbitrarily restrict this economic benefit is an injustice to the consumer as much as it is a blow to the producer. The process of cold storage for reasonable perods is not deleterious to food products subjected thereto, providing such products are placed in storage in sound condition.

Inasmuch as cold storage is necessary, no unduly short limit upon the time during which products are stored should be placed in any statute, for such action tends to decrease the supply of food and increase its cost.

The farm produces for the most part perishable foods, as they are essentially the product of the ground. As a result the farmer is deeply interested in any legislation affecting refrigeration and cold storage.

If goods go into cold storage in good condition they will come out in the same condition, providing they are not kept there beyond a season. There is no danger connected with the eating of cold storage food, nor has it been shown that products of cold storage houses are deleterious to consumers. According to scientists, the danger of ptomaine poisoning from cold storage food is less than from the food not subject to cold storage. The probable reason for this is that freezing at least retards the growth of bacteria. As the population of cities become more conjested, the demand for cold storage food naturally increases. People in all walks of life demand certain perishable products the year round, and as the city resident is unable to raise any of this food himself, he must depend largely upon cold storage facilities.

So important has cold storage become to the welfare of the people of Canada, that the Canadian Government some years ago decided to subsidize the construction of refrigerating warehouses. The French Government is developing cold storage facilities and movements are on in Spain and Portugal to take over the cold storage warehouses in those countries.

The following extract from an article in the "Country Gentleman" (issue of December, 1913) gives a fair idea of how important and necessary cold storage has become in large cities and how much of the opposition to it is due to prejudice growing out of misinformation:

"The biggest dealer in live poultry in New York City said to me in the course of a very frank discussion of the intricacies of his trade:—

"When I want to take home some poultry to the folks I go to a neighbor who handles dressed stock—that is, frozen poultry—and make my selection. The pick of the Middle-Western flocks goes into the cooling plants; they are dry-frozen and are shipped into the city in refrigerator cars. To my mind they are fresher and have better flavor than any of the fresh-killed poultry I handle."

"This same man, who has been a wholesale dealer in live poultry for twenty years, said that fresh-killed fowls, poultry brought into New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, or any other big city in the east, "on the hoof" and "in the feather," were about as rare in most neighborhood butcher shops as peacocks or golden pheasants. In New York City ninety per cent of the live poultry that comes to the great distribution depot in West Washington Market is consumed by the orthodox Jews. Add to this a small percentage sold to the big hotels, direct to Chinatown and to a portion of the Negro and Italian population, and the housewife who does not buy from the kosher shops can figure out the slenderness of her opportunity to buy live poultry. Let her also bear in mind that in 1912 about $29,000,000 worth of dressed or frozen poultry was sold in New York City, whereas the total for live poultry came to $15,644,925.

"It is very nearly time that the cold storage bogy was thrust into a retreat for aged and descrepit superstitions. State laws and Federal regulations have corrected the bulk of the evils complained about, and science has determined that the freezing of food products does not in any way impair the purity of their food value nor destroy their flavor. The danger of too long duration in cold storage is minimized by demand. It is economically impossible to keep more than a very small fraction of eggs, poultry, fish or other products in cold storage beyond the period of absolute safety."

OBJECTIONS TO PRESENT LAW.

Objections to the present Pennsylvania Cold Storage Act (No. 153, Pamphlet Laws 1913) have been urged before this Commission both orally and in writing. The following are some of the substantial objections to specific sections of aid Act:

"Section 2. The term "cold storage", as used in this act shall mean the storage of food, at or below a temperature of forty degrees Fahrenheit, in a cold storage warehouse."

The temperature should be thirty degrees instead of forty degrees, for the reason that by a combination of ice and salt a temperature of thirty degrees to thirty-two degrees can be maintained for a short time in private cold storage boxes.

"Section 3. The term "cold storage warehouse", as used in this act, shall mean an establishment employing refrigerating machinery or ice for the purpose of refrigeration, or a place otherwise artificially cooled, in which articles of food are stored, for thirty (30) days or more, at a temperature of forty degrees Fahrenheit, or under."

The words "or ice" should be stricken out because no very low temperature can be maintained without the combination of ice and salt.

"Section 5. The word "container", as used in this act, shall be taken to mean any bag, band, barrel, basket, bottle, box, caddy, can, canister, carton, crate, fifirkin, hogshead, jar, jug keg, stopper, vessel, wrapper, frozen bulk, or any similar or analogous utensil, receptacle, band or wrapper in which food may be kept, stored, sold, or offered for sale."

"Section 6. The word "marked", as used in this act, shall be taken to mean written, printed, stamped or painted, or any other means whereby words or figures may be indicated in or on a container, or on any cover attached thereto."

That the definition of the container to be marked and branded is too fine, inasmuch as such marking causes an unwarranted prejudice in the mind of the consumer.

"Section 8. No person, firm or corporation shall operate a cold storage warehouse without a license issued by the Department of Agriculture through its agent. Each license shall be issued only on written application stating the location of such warehouse. Upon receipt of the application, said Dairy and Food Commissioner shall cause an examination to be made into the sanitary conditions of such warehouse. If it be found to be in a sanitary condition and properly equipped for the purpose of cold storage, the Dairy and Food Commissioner shall cause a license to be issued, authorizing the applicant to operate a cold storage warehouse during the period of one year from the date of such license. No license shall be issued until the applicant therefor shall have paid to the Dairy and Food Commissioner the sum of $50.00. A license shall be required for each separate warehouse building."

That the taking out of a license for each separate building is an unnecessary hardship, as all buildings are located in one plant and cooled by the same machinery.

"Section 9. Whenever any warehouse licensed under the provisions of this act, or any portion of such warehouses, shall be deemed by the Dairy and Food Commissioner to be in an unsanitary condition, it shall be the duty of the Dairy and Food Commissioner to cause such warehouse, or portion thereof, to be closed until it shall be put in a sanitary condition. If such changes be not made within a reasonable time, the, Dairy and Food Commissioner may suspend or revoke the license granted for the operation of such warehouse. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate any such warehouse, or portion thereof, when the same shall be cleaned by order of the Dairy and Food Commissioner."

This is unnecessary because it is already covered by the power in the existing Pure Food Laws.

"Section 10. It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation that shall be licensed to operate a cold storage warehouse to keep an accurate record of the receipts and withdrawals of food therefrom. The agents of the Dairy and Food Commissioner shall have free access to such records at all times. It shall be the duty of each person, firm that shall be licensed to operate a cold storage warehouse to keep an office of the Dairy and Food Commissioner, on or before the sixth day of January, April, July and October of each year, a report setting forth in itemized particulars the kind and qualities of food products held in cold storage in such warehouse. The report shall be made on printed forms, prepared and supplied by the Dairy and Food Commissioner. If, in the judgment of the Dairy and Food Commissioner, it shall be deemed better in enforcing this act to cause reports to be made at more frequent intervals than herein required, said Dairy and Food Commissioner may cause such reports to be filed in accordance herewith."

This is harmless but said to be unnecessary, unless the State goes into the business of keeping statistics on all subjects.

"Section 11. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to place in any cold storage warehouse, to keep therein, or to sell, offer, or expose for sale, any diseased, tainted, or otherwise unwholesome food."

This is already covered by the Pure Food Laws.

"Section 13. It shall be the duty of the Dairy and Food Commissioner to cause to be made a careful inspection of all cold storage foods, with a view to determining whether the same are wholesome. Such inspection shall be made wheresuch food is stored; and each package of such food so inspected shall bear the marks, stamps, or other device for identification, provided for in this section. It shall be the duty of the Dairy and Food Commissioner to make such rules and regulations as he may deem proper, relating to such inspection and supervision and to the cold storage of food, and otherwise to secure the proper enforcement of this act. Duly authorized agents of the Dairy and Food Commissioner may, at any reasonable time, enter such warehouse and inspect the same."

No objections. Dairy and Food Commissioner now already has the power to examine and prevent the sale of unwholesome food.

"Section 14. All food when deposited in cold storage warehouses shall have plainly marked upon the container the date that such food shall be placed in such warehouses. If such food be not in a container ,such marking shall be on such food, or on a tag or label securely and permanently attached thereto. Such food, or the container theerof, shall have marked plainly thereon the date of withdrawal of such food from such warehouses. The marking of food, in accordance with the terms of this section, shall be under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Dairy and Food Commissioner."

It is an injury to legitimate business for the reasons that it prejudices the buyer when buying cold storage goods.

"Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation ,or any agent thereof, to sell, or offer or expose for sale, or have in possession with intent to sell, at wholesale, any food which is not marked and distinguished, on the outside of each container, in a conspicuous place, by a placard with the words "wholesome cold storage food" printed thereon; such placard to be placed in a conspicuous position, in full view of the purchaser; and the said words "wholesome cold storage food" on such placard shall be printed in plain, uncondensed gothic letters, not less than one-half inch in length; and, in addition, all such food shall be marked with the date when it is placed in any such cold storage warehouse, and with the date when it was withdrawn from such cold storage warehouse.

There shall also be displayed upon every open container containing such food, in the same manner, in a conspicuous position, a placard with the words "wholesome cold storage food" printed theeron, in the same form as above described in this section; and when such food from such container or otherwise, at retail, before being delivered to the purchaser, it shall be wrapped in wrappers plainly stamped on the outside thereof with the words "wholesome cold storage food" printed or stamped thereon in letters one-fourth inch square, and such wrappers shall also contain the date of first placing such food in cold storage; and the said words "wholesome cold storage food" and the date of first placing such food in cold storage so stamped or printed on said wrapper, shall not be in any manner concealed, but shall be in plain view of the purchaser at the time of the purchase."

Objected to on the ground that it is an arbitrary interference with business. It should never be imposed upon dealers in perishable goods. It is impossible to carry out this provision, and the attempt to do so adds to the cost of the goods to the consumer.

"Section 16. No person, firm or corporation shall sell, offer, or expose for sale, any of the herein named foods which shall have been held for a longer priod of time than herein specified, in a cold storage warehouse or warehouses, to wit: Whole carcasses of beef, or any parts thereof, four (4) months; whole carcasses of pork, or any parts thereof, six (6); whole carcasses of sheep, or any parts thereof, six (6) months; whole carcasses of veal, or any parts thereof, three, (3) months; dressed fowl, drawn, five (5) months; dressed fowl, undrawn, ten (10) months; eggs, eight (8) months; butter, nine (9) months, and fish, nine (9) months."

This time limit is drastic, inasmuch as it s damaging to the purchaser, dealer and consumer. Farmers, commission merchants and warehouse dealers object to this section on the ground that it is virtually confiscatory and accomplishes nothing for the consumer.

"Section 18. No food shall be sold, or offered or exposed for sale, in this state, which shall have been placed or stored in any cold storage warehouse outside of this State, unless it first shall have been marked as provided for in Section 15 of this act; Provided, however, that no such food shall be sold, or offered or exposed for sale in this state ,if the total length of time that such food has remained in cold storage shall exceed that specified in Section 16 of this act."

To carry this out is impossible because if marked goods are shipped into Pennsylvania there is no way for the receiver to tell how long he has to sell them here; hence tney are usually sold as "fresh goods," to the damage of the producer, dealer and consumer in Pennsylvania.

"Section 21. It shall be the duty of the Department of Agriculture, through its Dairy and Food Commissioner, to enforce all the provisions of this act, and to make all rules and regulations not otherwise herein provided, necessary for the enforcement of the same."

This section is an incentive to the practice of fraud upon merchants and others through the operation of unscrupulous spies and detectives. Some men would not hesitate to frame up a case in order to get part of the fine.

"Section 23. Any person, firm or corporation that shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00); and for the second and each subsequent offense such person, firm, or corporation shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), and, in addition thereto, such person, or the members of such firm, or the officers of such corporation, as the case may be, with guilty knowledge of the fact, may be sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the jail of the proper county for a period of not more than ninety (90) days, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is claimed that this should be amended to make the penalty one hundred dollars ($100.00) for the first offense and two hundred dollars ($200.00) for the second offense; that imprisonment is out of all proportion to the abnormity of the offense.

UNIFORM COLD STORAGE LAW.

Following is a copy of a letter received by each member of the Commission in reference to the uniform cold storage bill:

Harrisburg, Pa., December 22, 1914.

Dear Sir:—I send you herewith a copy of the Uniform Cold Storage Law, approved and recommended for adoption by the various States at the conference of the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, held at the meeting in Washington in October of this year.

This bill was prepared after careful hearings extending over a period of a year, in which Dr. Alsberg and Dr. Pennington of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States, took part, and after the Committee in charge had given careful consideration both from a logal and practical standpoint.

In many respects it is almost identical with the present Pennsylvania Law. As to the time limits, it is probably almost a unanimous opinion that the Pennsylvania Law is too drastic.

I need not call your attention to the great work that has been done by the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws. Every Law so far recommended and adopted in the various States has met with general approval, and no law has been recommended for adoption without the most careful consideration both of subject matter and phraseology.

It is particularly important that there should be a uniform cold storage law so as to prevent the shipment of cold storage products from one State into another where the provisions are less drastic.

I therefore commend to your earnest consideration whether you should not recommend this cold storage law, or at least as much of it as possible, to the coming Legislature.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WILLIAM M. HARGEST.

Commissioner on Uniform State Laws for Pennsylvania.

William P. Gallagher, Esq.,
Secy. Pa. Commission appointed to examine into the question of Cold Storage, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Dear Sir:—As Secretary of the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws for this Commonwealth, on hebalf of myself and my colleagues, Hon. William H. Staake, of Philadelphia, and William M. Hargest, Esq., of Harrisburg, I invite your special attention to the Uniform Law Relating to the Cold Storage of Certain Articles of Food, with the hope that it will be adopted by your Commission and reported to the Legislature. It has already been approved in influential circles of this city and is believed to represent the best thought on the subject. It was drafted by a committee of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and has been recommended to the legislatures of all of the States. The importance of uniform legislation on this subject must appeal to any one at all familiar with it, and I am sure your Commission will give it due consideration.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WALTER GEORGE SMITH.

UNIFORM LAW RELATING TO THE COLD STORAGE OF CERTAIN ARTICLES OF FOOD (APPROVED AND RECOMMENDED FOR ADOPTION BY THE CONFERENCE OF COMMISSIONERS ON UNIFORM STATE LAWS).

Section 1. For the purpose of this act, "cold storage" shall mean the storage or keeping of articles of food at or below a temperature above zero of 45 degrees Fahrenheit in a cold storage warehouse; "cold storage warehouse" shall mean any place artificially cooled to or below a temperature above zero of 45 degrees Fahrenheit, in which articles of food are placed and held for thirty days or more; "article of food" shall mean fresh meat and fresh meat products and all fish, game, poultry, eggs and butter.

Section 7. No person, firm or corporation shall place, tain or operate a cold storage warehouse without a license so to do issued by the State Food Commissioner. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a license shall make written application to the State Food Commissioner for that purpose, stating the location of the warehouse. The State Food Commissioner thereupon shall cause an examination to be made of said warehouse and, if it be found by him to be in a proper sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for its intended use, he shall issue a license authorizing the applicant to operate the same as a cold storage warehouse during one year. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee of ..... to the Treasurer of the State.

Section 3. In case any cold storage warehouse, or any part thereof, shall at any time be deemed by the State Food Commissioner to be in an unsanitary condition, or not properly equipped for its intended use, he shall notify the licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put such cold storage warehouse in a sanitary condition or to properly equip the same for its intended use, within a time to be designated by the State Food Commissioner, he shall revoke such license.

Section 4. Every such license shall keep accurate records of the articles of food received in and of the articles of food withdrawn from his cold storage warehouse, and the State Food Commissioner shall have free access to such records at any time. Every such license shall submit a monthly report to the State Food Commissioner, setting forth in itemized particulars the quantities and kinds of articles of food in his cold storage warehouse. Such monthly reports shall be filed on or before the fifth day of each month, and the reports so rendered shall show the conditions existing on the last day of the preceding month reported and a summary of such reports shall be prepared by the State Food Commissioner and shall be open to the public inspection on or before the tenth day of each month.

Section 5. The State Food Commissioner shall inspect and supervise all cold storage warehouses and make such inspection of articles of food therein as he may deem necessary to secure the proper enforcement of this act, and he shall have access to all cold storage warehouses at all reasonable times. The State Food Commissioner may appoint such persons as he deems qualified to make any inspection under this act.

Section 6. No articles of food intended for human consumption shall be placed, received or kept in any cold storage warehouse, if diseased, tainted, otherwise unfit for human consumption, or in such condition that it will not keep wholesome for human consumption. Noarticle of food, for use other than for human consumption, shall be placed, received or kept in any cold storage warehouse unless previously marked, in accordance with forms to be prescribed by the State Food Commissioner, in such a way as to indicate plainly the fact that such article of food is to be sold or used for human food.

Section 7. No person, firm or corporation shall place,, receive or keep in any cold storage warehouse in this state articles of food unless the same shall be plainly marked, stamped or tagged, either upon the container in which they are packed, or upon the article of food itself, with the date when placed therein; and no person, firm or corporation shall remove, or allowto be removed, such article of food from any cold storage warehouse unless the same shall be plainly marked, stamped or tagged, either on the container in which it is enclosed or upon the article food itself, with the date of such removal, and such marks, stamps and tags shall be prima facie evidence of such receipt and removal and of the dates thereof. All articles of food in any cold storage warehouse at the time this act goes into effect shall, before being removed therefrom, be plainly marked, stamped or tagged with the date when this act goes into effect and the date of removal therefrom.

Section 8. No person, firm or corporation shall hereafter keep or permit to remain in any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been held in cold storage either within or without the state, for a longer aggregate period than twelve months, except with the consent of the State Food Commissioner as hereinafter provided. The State Food Commissioner shall upon application during the twelfth month, extend the period of storage beyond twelve months for any particular article of food, provided the same is found upon examination to be in proper condition for further cold storage. The length of time for which such further storage is allowed shall be specified in the order granting the permission. A report on each case in which such extension of storage may be permitted, including information relating to the reason for the action of the State Food Commissioner the kinds and amounts of the articles of food for which the storage period was extended, and the length of time for which this continuance was granted, shall be filed, open to public inspection, in the office of the State Food Commissioner, and shall be included in his annual report. Such extension shall be not more than sixty days; a second extension of not more than sixty days may be granted upon a reexamination, but the entire extended period shall be not more than one hundred and twenty days in all.

Section 9. It shall be unlawful to sell, or to offer for sale, any article of food which has been held for a period of thirty days or over in cold storage either within or without the state, without notifying persons purchasing, or intending to purchase, the same, that it has been so held, by the display of a placard plainly and conspicuously marked, "Cold Storage Goods" on the bulk mass or articles of food; and it shall beunlawful to represent or advertise as fresh any article of food which has been held in cold storage for a period of thirty days or over.

Section 10. It shall be unlawful to return to any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been once released from storage for the purpose of placing it on the market for sale. It shall be unlawful to transfer any article of food from one cold storage warehouse to another if such transfer is made for the purpose of avoiding any provision of this act, and such transfer shall be unlawful unless all prior stampings, markings and taggings upon such article shall remain thereon.

Section 11. The State Food Commissioner may make all necessary rules and regulations to carry this act into effect. Such rules and regulations shall be filed in the Commissioner's office, and shall not take effect until (....days) after such filing.

Section 12. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding ..... ($....) and for the second or any subsequent offense by a fine not exceeding ..... ($...) or by imprisonment of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 13. This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effect its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

Section 14. This act may be cited as the Uniform Cold Storage Act.
